

CALIFORNIA will be well represented, at the League economic conference next month. The head of the American delegation will be Henry M. Robinson, of Los Angeles; another of the five delegates will be Professor Alonzo Taylor, of Stanford, and all of them will be responsible to another great Californian, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover.

So, whatever may come of this conference, to begin to straighten out the tangled business of the world, California will have a large voice in it.

THE World War left the wreckage of the nations with everything to settle. The armistice stopped the shooting, and the Treaty of Versailles patched up a peace, of a sort. It took all the long struggle from Versailles to Locarno, to make the political peace real, and it may still depend on the two dictators, Stalin and Mussolini, whether even that political peace can endure. The even more vital economic peace, as between governments, was finally patched, in the Dawes plan agreements, in whose formulation Henry M. Robinson, now chairman of the new economic delegation, was an important factor. The peace of disarmament is still a paper promise, with American delegates in the League conference (strange how facts constantly put us in the League, when we thought votes had put us out of it) taking the lead to insist on carrying out the League agreements. Now, comes, finally, the economic conference; to try to patch up a peace in the world's business.

LITTLE that is conclusive will come of this first conference, because the things on which all final solutions depend—tariffs, immigration, and international debts—have been left deliberately out of it. America would not have gone to any conference in which they were included. The world is not yet ripe for that, and perhaps will not be, in our time. It will take a preliminary conference or two before they can be faced even on a continental scale. Then, later on, a European conference may consider what the international bankers have already suggested, a tariff union of Europe, like that which has prospered America so much, in its free trade between the states. America will follow, by a tariff union including at least Canada and Mexico with the United States. Asia will demand against combined European and American resistance, the privilege of doing the same thing, and will finally get it. Africa we will still make do as we please, for our good. Then the three tariff unions will make economic peace or war with each other—which means finally peace, in our grandchildren's time. So the tariff question which we do not even dare start yet, will be a long time finishing.

SIMILARLY, the immigration question cannot be reopened in our time if it includes the world, since Asia demands, and Europe and America refuse, the principle of ignoring race lines in immigration laws. For the present, America will not reopen it, even as to Europe. Later, it may be settled in Europe, along with the Asiatic question, in a free-trade agreement. If that finally makes Europe as prosperous as continental free trade has made America, we may then be ready to consider reopening the immigration question within the lines of European race and institutions. We shall never have cordial peace across the Pacific until we recognize it with the Asiatic races on the same basis as with the European ones. For the present, if that is the condition, our answer is that we will, if necessary, impose Asiatic restrictions on Europe rather than open European privileges to Asia. It is doubtful if even our grandchildren will see the end of that dispute.

THE remaining question, of the international debts, is easier. For the present, it is a deadlock between Europe and America. There is no possibility—and, fortunately, no present financial need—of doing that now. The early payments, except from Britain, are all low, and the British are manfully paying their higher ones. There is therefore time to cool passions off before the same compels a reconsideration. If it could be left to economists and financiers, the whole thing would be settled in five years on an intelligent and just basis, such as both sides would repudiate in hot indignation if it were proposed now. Since it must, instead, be settled by politics, which fattens on demagogic appeals to popular ignorance and prejudice, it will take longer. But, exciting as money is, it is less exciting than tariffs and race bars. We shall have the war debt question behind us before the others have much more than started.

MEANTIME this conference, forbidden even to consider these, the only questions that count, must do the best it can. It can solve some small things, between governments, and smooth the ways for the solution of more of them, by the voluntary cooperation of private business. It can straighten out many kinks, in many minds, and thereby smooth the mental ways for more hopeful future conferences. It can do much—provided it does not hamper the future by widespread disappointment at its doing so little. That will not happen in Europe. Everybody there knows how little can be done now, and that the vital things can not even be touched. Everybody in America who cares to know has the same information available. But there are demagogic propagandists who do not care to know, and who still make, and spread, the kind of talk that shall not know. The only real danger is the misinformation they threaten to spread.

Foreigners Evacuating North China

ARRIVAL OF NATIONALIST ARMY FEARED

Peking Hotels Crowded and Reservations on Ships to Japan Booked Far Ahead

ATROCITIES CHARGED

British-Owned Newspaper Claims White Women at Nanking Were Assaulted

(By United Press)
PEKING, April 5.—Foreign evacuation of north China before the prospective arrival of the Nationalist army had begun in earnest today.

Peking hotels were jammed with north China foreigners on their way to more peaceful countries. Accommodation on ships to Japan was booked ahead until May.

Nationalist troops have occupied the American mission at Chukow, province of Anhwei, a dispatch said today. Another reported the capture of 17 Americans from the Tsinan district, leaving 119 Americans there.

Rumors that arms had been distributed among the Chinese civilian population here frightened foreign residents today, but the report was discredited.

NEWS OF ATROCITIES EXCITES FOREIGNERS

SHANGHAI, April 5.—The Shanghai foreign settlement was excited today by publication, in the British-owned North China Daily, news of affidavits charging unreported atrocities against white women at Nanking. While indignation grew among the foreigners, unrest increased among natives throughout the Yangtze valley.

Greatest danger of native riots appeared to be at Changsha, which was being hastily evacuated by Americans, and at Amoy.

At Hankow, where Japanese and native feeling was reported intense, two Japanese were killed and the vice consul was wounded, it was reported.

(There has been no intimation in London or Washington bearing out the North China Daily news statement that foreign women were criminally attacked or that the facts at Nanking had been censored. U. S. Consul John K. Davis, who, with his wife and children and other foreigners, were besieged by the Chinese on Standard Oil hill, reported to the U. S. state department that there had been two attempts at criminal assault. Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain, speaking in the house of commons, referred to the incident, but did not enlarge on the facts as Davis had reported them. Statements by refugees immediately after the Nanking disorder said women had been searched.)

Claim Attack Prearranged

Members of the Japanese colony at Hankow charged the attack on the concession there was carefully organized and prearranged, although it ostensibly grew from a street dispute between natives and Japanese sailors.

Agitation in Changsha was increasing anti-foreign feeling and the U. S. S. Palos was taking aboard all Americans there. The U. S. consul was expected to close the consulate and leave Thursday, acting on orders from U. S. Minister MacCurry.

At Amoy custom house, workers struck in sympathy with seamen and postal employees who already had walked out. The situation was reported to be growing rapidly worse, although the city remained relatively quiet. Native clerks were heckled on their way to work.

French citizens were ordered to evacuate Szechuan.

The last Americans and British from Chungking were enroute to Ichang aboard the steamer Chinan and the Socony motorship Meilun, escorted by the U. S. S. Monocacy, when they attempted to force their way aboard the Chinan at Chungking, died yesterday. The steamship company compensated his family and the incident was regarded as closed.

No more Americans were being removed from Chengtu and Yachow, which seemed quiet.

Official confirmation was still lacking today of the North China News atrocity reports, but consulate attaches intimated there was some basis for the charges.

Eight women in one foreign group were criminally assaulted by natives during the Nanking riots, an affidavit published in The News said. Two other women were stripped of their clothes. Women searched for concealed jewelry were reported to have been mis-

U. S. TO CONCENTRATE NORTH CHINA REFUGEES AT TIENTSIN

No Change in American Policy of Co-operation For Defense

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—The cabinet today decided to concentrate at Tientsin, in case of emergency, all Americans in northern China and protect them at the concentration point as refugees from central China are now being protected by American forces at Shanghai, the White House announced today.

The 1500 marines being assembled at San Diego in addition to the 1500 sailing this week will be dispatched to China if necessary, it was said.

There has been no change in American policy toward co-operation with other foreign powers in China, such co-operation covering joint defense of foreigners in central points, the White House spokesman said.

President Coolidge has no specific information other than that in the press, regarding connection between the Chinese factions and Russia, it was said.

American objection is expected to prevent a foreign ultimatum to the Chinese Nationalist government regarding the Nanking outrages and guarantees for future protection of foreigners.

2 MEN KILLED IN EXPLOSIONS AT BEACH CITY

Boiler Accident Is Fatal to One; Other Is Burned In Home

Two men lost their lives in explosions in the Huntington Beach district late yesterday. Julius Sherman, boiler man for the Standard Gasoline corporation, was fatally injured when a boiler exploded on the Standard lease and Tony Silvas received injuries which caused his death when a cookstove exploded.

Sherman received a fractured skull and was badly burned, one-third of his body being covered with severe burns. He was rushed to the Anaheim sanitarium, where he died a few hours later.

At an inquest, conducted this morning by Coroner Charles D. Brown, in the Backs, Terry and Campbell parlors, in Anaheim, it was voted that Sherman's death was accidental. The dead man is survived by his mother, Mrs. Carl Sherman, of Danville, Ill.

The accident occurred on the gasoline company's lease, at Twenty-second street and Palm avenue.

Silvas died in the Santa Ana Valley hospital last night. He was attempting to light a stove in his home on the Paul Platen ranch, north of Huntington Beach, when the explosion occurred. Silvas' wife was ill in another room and her screams attracted employees of the ranch, who rushed the husband to the hospital.

BRITAIN CABLES NOTE TO MINISTER IN CHINA

LONDON, April 5.—The government today cabled to Sir Miles Lampson, British minister to China, the text of his note to the Nationalist government protesting against the anti-foreign disorders at Nanking.

It was understood that the Japanese government also had cabled a note to Peking and that American, Japanese and British notes would be presented soon, probably simultaneously.

JAPAN TO WITHDRAW NATIONALS FROM INTERIOR

LONDON, April 5.—An exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo today said the government had decided to withdraw all Japanese nationals from the interior of China.

The refugees, the dispatch said, would be concentrated at Hankow, where they would be taken aboard ships. Japanese naval vessels would remain at the treaty ports to protect Japanese property.

MARINES STILL ARRIVING AT SAN DIEGO BASE

SAN DIEGO, April 5.—As the sixth regiment of marines boards the transport Henderson for Shanghai tomorrow, the first troops of the third regiment, ordered mobilized here, will have begun to arrive at the marine base.

Bringing the second battalion of the fourth regiment, now at the base, up to full war strength, a special train of 118 men and two officers from Mare Island and 85 men and three officers, from Bremerton will arrive some time tomorrow.

About the same time, six more trains loaded with troops will leave New Orleans and Quantico for San Diego, bringing with them the commanding officer and an artillery unit.

With crews working night and day, loading of supplies and munitions on the Henderson is being completed rapidly. The marines will not go aboard until this has been completed.

Yesterday afternoon, however, several hundred "leathernecks" were sent aboard the transport from the base, to help in the loading.

Among the equipment placed aboard yesterday were eight Boeing fighting planes from Martin Island.

Present plans call for the Henderson to sail Thursday morning, but if everything is in readiness, according to Capt. Robert Morris, commander, she may be able to leave tomorrow night.

Believe Visual Radio Will Be Developed

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Believing visual radio is only a matter of a short time, the Federal Radio commission today ordered held open as far as practicable, the broadcasting ban between 1500 and 2000 kilocycles (199.9 and 199.9 meters) for experimental work on such radio. The commission was so impressed by the recent testimony of Albert Jenkins, Washington radio inventor, that it felt that field should be made available especially to experimenters with "radio-vision" apparatus.

SEARCH FOR LOST PLANE IS CONTINUED

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Bits of wreckage, possibly from the lost air mail plane which disappeared early Sunday with Edward A. Neher and Albert Schaller as passengers, were reported found in the bay here today. The reports could not be verified, although police boats patrolled the area where passengers on ferry boats said they were sure they saw such wreckage floating.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—On water, land and in the air search was continued today for Edward A. Neher, coast air mail pilot and his passenger, Albert Schaller, an official of the Pacific Air Transport company.

With more than 48 hours elapsed since the plane was due to land at Crissy field here on its routine flight north with the mail, no definite clue as to the fate of the craft and two men in it had been secured.

As search of airplane squadrons and posses failed to reveal any trace of the lost plane, the conviction deepened that the two men must have plunged to their death in San Francisco bay early Sunday morning, while trying to penetrate a light fog and reach Crissy field.

Heard Flying Low
This belief was strengthened by the report that the plane was heard flying low over the east bay section, with the engine missing and the craft apparently having difficulty keeping in the air.

With this possibility in mind, Coast Guard cutters and police boats patrolled the bay today, seeking some bit of wreckage floating on the surface which would reveal definitely the fate of the missing aircraft.

A huge army amphibian plane skimmed the surface of the bay in flights a few feet above the water, observers peering down in an effort to locate the airplane at the bottom of the bay, if that is where it is.

As a last resort, the bay will be dragged over the course the plane would have been most likely to take, it was decided.

Army Planes In Hunt
Army planes went out again this morning, flying over the hills in the Livermore section, still hoping to find trace of the wrecked plane.

An arriving air mail carrier from Fresno, who landed at Crissy field at 6 a. m., today, said that he had purposely flown far to the west of the regular course in hope of seeing flares set by the missing flyers in case they are lying injured by their wrecked plane, but saw nothing.

Several of the searching planes today concentrated their hunt in the Patterson pass section, the most direct air route to San Francisco from San Joaquin valley, following reports of ranchers in that region that they saw the plane passing over early Sunday, flying so low its navigation lights were visible.

GAS BLAST VICTIM DIES IN HOSPITAL

ONTARIO, April 5.—William Sawyer, of Indio, died at San Antonio hospital today, the victim of a gas blast yesterday in a local automobile camp.

Charles Baker, of Ontario, is in the hospital suffering from severe burns, but is expected to recover.

Sawyer, who had rented a cottage at the camp, was in conversation with Baker, when one of the pair struck a match to light a cigarette.

Instantly there was a terrific blast, in which Sawyer was enveloped in flames from head to foot. Baker escaped the full force of the explosion and the following flames.

Officials of the local gas company are investigating to ascertain how the cottage became gas filled.

ITALIAN FLYER IS UNABLE TO GET PLANE OVER MOUNTAINS

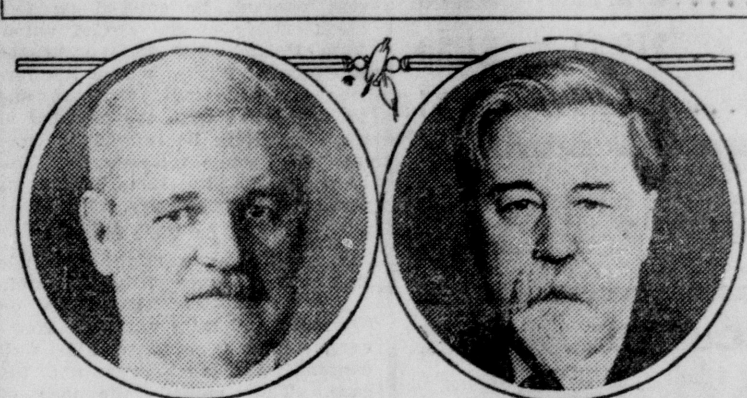

(By United Press)
HOT SPRINGS, N. M., April 5.—Fearing an overheated engine would force him to land on the desert, Com. Francesco De Pinedo, Italian world flyer, will delay his departure for Roosevelt dam, Phoenix, Ariz., until 8 a. m., tomorrow, he said late today.

De Pinedo took off from Lake B. M. Hall at 1:15 p. m., but was forced to return 20 minutes later because of inability to reach sufficient altitude to clear a range of mountains west of Elephant Butte.

Mechanics will overhaul the engine of his giant monoplane tonight in preparation for the take-off early tomorrow, the flyer said.

The plane is carrying 500 gallons of gasoline in its piston tanks and some of it may have to be removed before the Italian flyer can get away.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATES IN RIOTOUS CHICAGO ELECTION

Boy Hurt When Improvised Bomb Explodes

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., April 5.—Because the fuse of a bomb made by two boys burned faster than they thought it would, G. Myers is suffering from painful injuries here today. Myers and his companion found several bullets in a yard near their homes. They emptied the powder from the bullets into a small can and attached a fuse to it. While Myers' friend stood back, the youth lit the fuse and was caught by the blast.

ANTI-HANGING BILL LOSES IN SENATE FIGHT

Legislators Reject Motion To Take Measure from Committee

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, April 5.—The state senate today rejected a motion by Senator Roy Fellom, of San Francisco, to take from committee his bill abolishing the death penalty in California.

The action was taken following a sharp tilt between Senator Fellom and Lt. Gov. Burton R. Pitts, in which Fellom charged that his bill "had not been given fair treatment from the beginning, being referred to a committee which did not exist."

After Pitts had ruled Fellom out of order and demanded that he take his seat, Fellom rose on a point of personal privilege and protested against Pitts' announcement the vote while Fellom was yet on his feet asking for a roll call. Senator T. C. West, of Alameda, author of a companion anti-hanging bill, but which further provides that persons convicted of murder shall receive a sentence of life imprisonment without parole, served notice on the senate that he would also move tomorrow to have his bill taken from the committee.

Plans Carefully Laid
Governor Young's administration leaders in both houses today had their plans carefully laid by which, they hope, the supreme court decisions which have threatened to wreck the state's tax system, will be met with appropriate laws.

Bills will be introduced simultaneously in both houses today, at the suggestion of Governor Young, the board of equalization, State Controller Ray L. Riley and Attorney General U. S. Webb, to accomplish the following purposes:

- 1—Repeal the 7 per cent "intangible securities" or solvent credits act.
- 2—Repeal the state corporations license tax.
- 3—Readjust the code laws taxing foreign corporations.
- 4—Increase corporations franchise tax rate from 1.5 to 1.8 per cent to cover the revenue loss caused by the license tax repeal.

Governor Young's budget, adopted yesterday by the senate, must go back to the assembly today for readoption with amendments introduced when it passed the upper house, it was announced.

Senator Edwin A. Mueller will lead the battle in the upper house over Assemblyman William Byrne's resolution to investigate a group of California newspapers controlled by the so-called "power trust," Byrne stated today.

Alimony Bill In Senate
The "alimony for husbands" measure, by Assemblyman George W. Rochester, of Los Angeles, was before the senate for final adoption today, having been given a "do pass" recommendation by the senate judiciary committee last night.

Among the other measures recommended for adoption by various committees at last night's meetings were the Woolwine bill, au-

100 SQUADS OF OFFICERS PATROL CITY

Two Election Judges Kidnaped, Voters Held Up, Precinct Clubs Bombed

GANGSTER IS KILLED

Flash of Machine Guns Denote Police Answer to Violent Spirit of Thugs

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, April 5.—Violence marked the opening hours of Chicago's three-day mayoralty election today, as more than 100 squads of police whirled through the city attempting to keep peace.

Within the first four hours, two election judges had been kidnapped; two voters held up by rifle-armed gangsters; voters in one ward intimidated; two precinct clubs bombed, and several arrests had been made.

The flash of machine guns in the sunlight denoted Chicago police's answer to the riotous spirit. Thirty-five squads, trained in manning the rapid fire guns, were on constant patrol duty to prevent any outbreak of serious rioting.

Police are working in 12-hour shifts to keep violence to a minimum and it is estimated that more than 5000 officers will be patrolling the city during the day.

The first shooting was reported from a west side precinct, where a roadster drew up in front of the polling place and five shots were fired into the building.

Women Become Hysterical
Several women were in the building voting and they became hysterical, but none was injured.

Police, on guard at the precinct, ran to the door, opening fire on the motorcar. It sped away, but one of the occupants was seen to fall and is believed to have been hit.

State Senator Edward T. Randall, Democrat, was arrested for carrying a weapon and told police he was carrying the gun in self defense.

He said he lived at the Excelsior Men's club and that shortly after the polls opened two motor cars, loaded with gangsters, had driven by the club and opened fire with machine guns. Windshields were shattered but no one was injured.

Alderman Arthur Albert, who is running for re-election, advised police he was remaining in hiding today because threats had been made against him.

Within 10 minutes after the polls opened, election commissioners started receiving complaints that gangs were loitering about the polling places. One gunman was arrested.

There was a gray cast in the skies and forecasts of rain before nightfall, but veteran political observers said this would not prevent the greatest turnout of voters in the city's history. Nearly a million votes are expected.

The three mayoralty candidates, William E. Dever, Democrat; former Mayor William Hale Thompson, Republican, and Dr. John Dill Robertson, Independent, each predicted victory by a wide margin.

The two bombings occurred in the troublesome 42nd ward, which is just off Chicago's famous loop district. The soft drink place of State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien was shattered by a quickly tossed bomb. O'Brien had been warned of a bombing, he said today.

Clubhouse Is Bombed

The other bombing was at a clubhouse formerly conducted by James Cohan and which lately had become a precinct headquarters. It was ruined by the blast. The two bombings were almost simultaneous. The first outbreak of violence—coming about three hours before opening of the polls at 6 a. m.—gave a mobilized police their first action. Swift district cars, manned by five expert marksmen, roared through the silent 'op as soon as the bombings were reported. No one was found near the shattered precinct headquarters.

The one fatal shooting was that of Vincent Drucci, "the schemer," who was shot to death by police after he had been arrested for carrying a weapon. Drucci was a gang leader and heir to the mantle of the late Dion O'Banion, prince of bootleggers. When he berated and attempted to slug Patrolman Daniel Healy, the officer opened fire and killed Drucci.

CHARGES ALIENATION

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Charging alienation of her husband's affections, suit filed by Mrs. Mina Graves, against Miss Roberta Hewson, for $100,000 was on record here today. The plaintiff married Jefferson Graves in Denver in 1904, the bill states.

PRINCE KILLED WHEN FOUND IN PEASANT GARB

NEW YORK, April 5. — Press dispatches from Russia brought the news of the execution of Prince Pavel Dmitrievich Dolgorov, which took place in the basement of the Gaypayoo, at Moscow. The prince was shot with 18 other prisoners, most of them bandits, thieves and assassins, and his body was sent to one of the public cemeteries. Moreover, Russian emigrants in Europe who knew what fate awaited the prince, hoped at least that his execution would be preceded by a public trial. Instead, his fate was decided by an administrative decree.

What crime did Prince Dolgorov commit against the Soviet regime? Disguised as an old Russian peasant, he entered on foot the territory of the Soviet union, from Poland, and walked to the province of Kursk, where his former estates were situated and where he had been the marshal of nobility. Here he is said to have unearthed some treasure that had been hidden by him before he emigrated from Russia.

Wanted to Visit Home

From this, one might conclude that the treasure was the main thing that decided the prince on his risky and fatal venture. However, those who knew him well contend that such was not the case. They ridicule the idea of a man of 70, walking 1500 miles, undergoing countless privations and risks to dig up buried treasure. The purpose behind this proceeding is said to have been this: Exasperated by long years of exile, the prince wished to see Russia again; longed for his native province of Kursk and wanted to find out for himself whether there was any hope of the downfall of the Soviet regime.

Prince Pavel Dmitrievich was a prominent figure in prerevolutionary Russia. He belonged to one of the oldest Russian princely families. His ancestors, members of the dynasty of Russia, ruled over Russia, as grand dukes and czars, from 882 to 1913, the year of the accession of the Romanoffs. It was often said that should the Romanoffs be dethroned Dolgorov might be the strongest pretender.

All this, however, did not prevent his being one of the fathers of Russian Liberalism and one of the leading critics of the old regime. In 1905 he became the chief organizer of the so-called Constitutional-Democratic "Cadet" party, and as its leader directed violent attacks against the government in the Gosudarstvennaya duma. His sumptuous house in Moscow was a sort of Liberal headquarters for all Russia; congresses, caucuses and conferences were held there; many nominations and appointments decided.

Identification fails. Lately the prince lived in Paris, but ever the desire to re-visit Russia haunted him. In 1924 he tried to return to his home, but, crossing the frontier, he was promptly arrested by the Soviet police. The police failed to identify him, and a month later he was sent back to Poland as a peasant from Volynia. Since that time, however, he is said to have been constantly watched by the Soviet agents.

It is asserted that his tragic end was brought about by an officer of the Gaypayoo who, sent from Moscow to Paris, succeeded in making friends with the prince and accompanied him on his trip to the province of Kursk. Here, after the treasure was unearthed, he turned the prince over to the Soviet authorities.

"Kangeroosalem" is the nickname that Australia has given to the new capital, Canberra.

SOME QUALIFICATIONS FOR MEMBERS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Prelude to a sermon delivered by Dr. Charles F. Seitter, Pastor of the First Methodist Church

The school election just in the offing calls for some sane thinking about schools and school boards. Too often petty politics, personalities, insignificant quibblings are given the main line and the real issues shunted on to the sidetrack. Believing that the mere naming of some of the major qualifications of members of the board of education will help to clarify thinking, the following incomplete list is submitted with the hope that it will help us to select the right men and women on election day. (Note that, below, the masculine gender is used generically and so includes women, who often constitute the best members on school boards.)

1. He should be educated. This does not mean that he must have been graduated from a university, but it does mean that he should have a trained, an active, and an alert mind. No person who is dead at the top or has stopped growing is fit for membership on the board of education. If he has not already done so, he should be willing and able to acquaint himself with the educational genius and history of our country.

2. He should be broad-minded and broad-sympathetic. No narrow-minded, class-minded person can properly direct school affairs. If a person conceives of himself as representing a class, or church, or clan, or lodge, or clique he should not be elected for the reason that he will be prejudiced and will serve only a part of the people and not the whole people.

3. He should be liberal but not wasteful in the use of the public funds. If we are to have efficient schools we must have, among other things, sufficient money, but that money must be administered liberally and with good common sense. Penuriousness cannot build adequate schools.

4. He should have made reasonably good in his own affairs. A man who has mis-managed his own business is not likely to succeed well in the management of the public's business.

5. He should know what qualities and qualifications constitute a good school man. He should be able to recognize such a man when he sees him. And when he gets him, he should stick to him, support him. Superintendents, principals, and teachers cannot do their best work if they are constantly hampered by the board or individual members of it, or are made to feel that the ax is always uplifted above their necks. If a man is a good school man he knows his business far better than any member of the board is likely to know it and he should be given a free hand and wholehearted support. A member of the board should have a high appreciation of the teaching profession. If he thinks of the school teacher as a sort of public leech, or as an underling, or a necessary nuisance to whom the public pays its hard earned money, that man is unfit for the board of education.

6. He should be a man of vision. The purchasing of lands and the planning of buildings for the future call for foresight. He should be able to survey the field, discover trends of business and population expansion and thus be able to spend the people's money that both the present and the future will be well served.

7. He should have a sympathetic understanding of childhood and youth. He should know something of their physical, mental, and spiritual qualities and needs. The man who would turn out from our schools automatons and mere money-makers is not qualified to sit on the school board. Our children should come from our schools as human beings with deep sympathies, clear vision, and the spirit of service.

8. Finally, he should be a man of unimpeachable character. The board of education should help to atmosphere the school with lofty moral and spiritual ideas and ideals of life. A man who does not manage these things well in his personal life cannot be expected to successfully achieve them in public affairs. Besides, when land must be purchased for new schools it might happen that great pressure would be exerted on him by parties interested in the development of certain tracts. He should have the moral courage to stand squarely for the common good. A man's personal life should be such as to attract to himself strong public confidence.

Doubtless others will add to this list of qualifications. There is no pretense that it is all-inclusive. Some of the qualifications mentioned above might have been included in one paragraph, but they have been mentioned separately for the sake of emphasis.

A constitutional amendment, designed to relieve state supreme court or appellate judges from the necessity of a political campaign for re-election following their appointment to fill vacancies in office was being prepared for introduction today by Senator Frank C. Weller of Glendale.

The proposal provides that when a vacancy on the appellate or supreme bench occurs, a committee composed of the chief justice of the supreme court, the president of the state bar association and the attorney general shall prepare and submit to the governor a list of three times as many candidates as positions to be filled. The governor must make his appointment from this list.

Governor Young dealt a smashing blow at the narcotics traffic in California today, when he signed bills tightening up the medical practices act permitting licensed physicians to prescribe narcotics to patients and abolishing the ambulatory treatment of narcotic addicts.

The ambulatory treatment permits the curing of addicts by the "tapering off" process, or by reducing the daily dose of "dope."

Arctic Expedition Halted by Storm

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 5.—A raging snowstorm and piercing Arctic wind caused further postponement of Capt. George H. Wilkins' expedition to unexplored country and uncharted waters beyond Alaska's northern outpost, Point Barrow, according to radio advices received here today.

Both planes and airmen were in readiness for the flight as soon as the weather cleared.

Joe Crosson, who accompanied the Wilkins expedition to Point Barrow and returned by way of Kotzebue and Tenana valley after one of the most daring flights in Alaska's air history, said weather conditions on the Bering sea made air travel impossible.

Mexican Bandit Chiefs Executed

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—Three leaders of the bandits who kidnaped and murdered Edgar Marks Wilkins, American engineer, have been executed, according to unconfirmed reports from Guadalajara, today. The trio was captured yesterday by federal troops.

Other members of the bandit gang were reported to have been captured. The U. S. embassy, un-informed of the reported executions, asked the foreign office for an official report.

Twenty-seven rebels were killed in three engagements with federal troops and seven more were captured and executed, the war office announced.

SAPIRO WINS TILT IN LIBEL ACTION

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—Aaron Sapiro won the first important victory of the week today in his million dollar libel suit against Henry Ford, when Judge Fred M. Raymond ruled out admission of a letter in which Sapiro had criticized formation of the American Wheat Growers' association.

In ruling with the plaintiff in the case, the court said that the letter did not appear to be relevant to the matter of fees, which Senator James A. Reed, in his cross examination, was seeking to bring out.

Fencing Master Declared Sane

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—The sensational film colony "horse-whipping" case, brought by Gerard De Merveaux against J. Stuart Blackton, movie producer, was at an end today with dismissal of insanity charges against the dapper French fencing master. An affidavit charging De Merveaux as being "a dangerous man to be at large," was quashed on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

The complaint was issued against the Frenchman following a decision in superior court awarding De Merveaux $500 damages for a horsewhipping alleged to have been administered by Blackton.

FIGURE IS RUINED. NEW YORK, April 5.—Someone knocked the head off a wax sculpture of President Coolidge and the White House dogs in an exhibition at the Waldorf. Before it was done those in charge of the exhibition received a letter threatening to smash the statue "by telepathic power" because it made the president look silly.

WOLVES SPREAD RABIES. LENINGRAD, Russia, April 5.—Nearly 350,000 persons have developed hydrophobia in Russia within the past year, according to figures of the Pasteur Institute, which is unable to accommodate half the patients. Half a million wolves said to be ravaging the countryside are responsible for the deadly scourge.

HORSE IS MOURNER. CHICAGO, April 5.—Jim, for more than 14 years a faithful member of the Chicago police department cavalry, was relieved of his duties the other day that he might serve as a mourner at the funeral of a man who had ridden him. One of the dying requests of Policeman David Cairns was, "I want Jim at my funeral."

GIANT FOKKER PLANE TO AID IN SEARCH

RIVERSIDE, April 5.—The giant Fokker triengine monoplane, sister ship to Lieutenant Byrd's north pole conqueror, which left March field here today, will join in the search in the San Francisco bay district for Edward Neher and Albert Schaller.

The big ship, carrying five passengers and two pilots, left here at 9:45 o'clock. The course will be directed north over Death valley and Yosemite to Crissy field, San Francisco, where the first stop on the flight to Detroit will be made.

Lt. George R. Pond will navigate the big plane and the passengers include Ross W. Judson, president of the Continental Motors company; W. R. Angell, executive vice president, and T. F. Flaherty, Riverside business man.

Before taking off it was announced that the ship will join in the search for the lost mail plane.

From San Francisco, the Fokker will fly to Detroit, stopping at Salt Lake City and Omaha.

Crisis Passed by Rumanian King

BUCHAREST, April 5.—King Ferdinand of Rumania had passed the crisis of his illness, his physicians announced today. One of the attending physicians was quoted as having said that the king was a living example of the fallibility of diagnosis.

TWO AMERICANS ARE ARRESTED BY CHINESE

PEKING, April 5.—Two Americans were arrested by Chinese police here today, charged with being in the employ of the Cantonese Nationalists as propagandists. The arrested persons were Mrs. Mildred B. Mitchell, formerly a reporter employed on the staff of the Honolulu Advertiser, and Wilbur Burton, of Columbus, O.

PARK RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF POMONA

POMONA, April 5.—S. H. Park was returned to the mayoralty here today, when a final check of yesterday's municipal election gave the incumbent a lead of 60 votes over C. C. Caves, his nearest rival. Approximately 5000 ballots were cast from a registered voter total of 8100.

The poll in the mayoralty race was: S. H. Park, 1671; C. C. Caves, 1611; J. E. Adamson, 856; C. S. Vanderbeck, 777; A. E. Andrews, 151.

Charles Mackey and C. B. Affenburgh were elected councilmen, with J. A. Allard being retained as city attorney.

GUILTY ON ONE COUNT

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, was guilty of only a single offense when he refused to answer questions of the senate oil investigators, Justice William Hitz decided today.

Do Your Curtains Need Laundering?

THE SOIL of winter is on your curtains—let us remove it.

That crisp freshness, that square even effect, the result of professional skill can be secured only through the services of our curtain department.

Curtains become tender through exposure to the sun, but we wash them in net bags, thus insuring their safety if they have strength enough to stand washing at all.

Then we gently lay them over our especially constructed frames where they are finished to size—square, true and even.

The price is reasonable.

You will be pleased with our curtain work. Phone for our salesman to call and get your curtains today.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
It is significant to observe that many who have died, the sympathies thinking that their life problems might become simpler and easier, have found their paths to the hereafter difficult and perplexing than before.

You cannot escape the necessity of the struggle to be true, whatever the standard to which you choose to pledge allegiance.

TRAVIS—At 325 East Stanford street, April 5, 1927, Abner A. Travis, aged 82 years. Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 7th at 10 a. m. from Smith and Tuttle's chapel, Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, F. & M. will have charge. Mr. Travis is survived by a brother, Mr. Nat Travis of Santa Ana.

SYLVAS—April 5, 1927, in Santa Ana, Tony Sylvas, aged 27. The remains will be forwarded by Smith and Tuttle to Hemet for burial.

CARD OF THANKS
Mrs. Walter Tait and children gratefully acknowledge the sympathy extended them in their bereavement. The many beautiful flowers and friendly kindnesses are very much appreciated.

Local Briefs

A grunion hunt was held by the members of the Delta Mu fraternity at Balboa last night following a short business meeting conducted at the home of Herbert Smith, 606 S. Birch.

Mrs. Louise Thompson who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. M. Shephard, 208 East Chestnut avenue, for the past two weeks, left for her home at Escondido, yesterday.

Miss A. Laura Pickle, supervising inspector of the personnel division of the operating department of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, for Southern California, is among the guests at St. Ann's Inn.

Woman Screams; 4 Are Arrested
One man was arrested on a charge of attempted assault, another for being drunk and two others for investigation when officers were called to 1015 West Highland street last night by neighbors, who told officers that a woman was screaming for help.

Bert Stark, 23, is being held on the statutory count, Wesley Thompson, 20, is in jail on a drunk charge, and Clyde McWhorter and Floyd Tibbets, 21, are held on suspicion.

Stark was just released from jail yesterday after serving part of a sentence for being drunk. The name of the woman in last night's disturbance was not made known by police. She was not held.

L. A. Opens New Detention Camp
GLENDORA, Calif., April 5.—A new Los Angeles county honor-system detention camp has been established in the mountains north of here.

The new camp, in immediate charge of Deputy Sheriff George McKelvey, will have 50 prisoners working out of Little Dalton canyon, engaged in building a road across the mountains to the east fork of the San Gabriel river.

Three camps are operated at present in the San Bernardino mountains, one in Schumacher canyon, one in San Antonio canyon and a third in Los Angeles county park.

Choice cut flowers, floral designs and beautiful baskets of flowers for all occasions. Telephone 2326 Flowerland, we deliver.

Deputy Grand Matron Vera P. Wetlin, of Santa Ana, will pay her official visit to Ami Tai chapter tomorrow evening at the regular meeting of that order. At this time all the work and floor drill will be exemplified by the chapter and a good attendance is desired.

Mrs. Ollie Schunk, of South Pomona, left Monday morning for Orange, where she will stay for the next several days caring for her brother's wife, who is said to be very ill.

Carl Passamaneck, of this city, is the new mail carrier on the west side of Brea, having taken the place on a temporary appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Pisco, who leaves at once to work in the grocery and meat market recently purchased by his father, Monte Pisco, in Orange.

Earl Tempelman, of the Hubbard Hardware company, spent three days last week in San Diego, most of which time was spent in buying fishing tackle and equipment for the store.

Kitt Gould, 64, defense attorney for Phil A. Goodwin, priest who is in San Quentin prison convicted of first degree murder, and his daughter, Rhoda Gould, 23, are today in the Orange county jail, where on many different occasions they visited Goodwin, but today they are not visitors, but prisoners.

Charged with defrauding an inn keeper, both Gould and his daughter pleaded not guilty to the separate charges against them in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today. Bail was fixed at $100 each and neither could make it.

According to the complaint, both are charged with skipping out of the California hotel without paying their bill. The complaining witness is W. A. Nelson, asserted proprietor of the hotel.

When asked if he was guilty, Gould answered: "Not guilty, I don't even know the man."

Their trial has been set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Both asked for a jury trial and their cases will be heard before the same jury at the same time.

EBELL GARDEN CONTEST SCORE PLAN OUTLINED

There has been some misunderstanding among entries in the Garden Beautiful contest as to what points their gardens will be judged upon, according to Mrs. N. H. Hilton, chairman of the contest committee which is made up of members of the Garden section of Ebelle society.

Twenty points will be awarded on the plan of the lawn, 15 points on the arrangement of flowers and shrubs, 15 points for general appearance, 10 points for the choice of materials, and 40 points for the care and neatness with which garden plans are executed.

Mrs. Hilton called attention to the fact that the largest number of points will be awarded the owner whose garden is neatest.

"There is no reason for a contestant to plan a very expensive garden," Mrs. Hilton said in explaining that a simple, well cared for garden might be chosen as well as a more elaborate one.

The contest will not close until June 1 so that anyone still interested in entering may do so through phoning Mrs. Hilton at 2438 or writing her at 419 East Fourth street.

BREA

BREA, April 5.—Dancing and a two-course dinner in the hall at La Vida Springs marked the happy event which Mrs. Paul Pettit planned in honor of her husband on the occasion of his birthday anniversary, Friday evening. Covers were laid for the following guests beside the hostess and the honoree: Mr. and Mrs. William Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eubanks, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Luttrell, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Basket, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker, Mrs. Carrie Lathrop and Mrs. Colb. Mrs. Pettit was assisted in her arrangements by Mrs. Eubank.

Youthful week-end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blanchard and Mrs. Vivian Gray, son of Mrs. Blanchard and his friends, Miss Nellie Smith and Tom Griffin. All three are students in the University of Arizona and returned to their studies there the first of the week.

Local Pythian Sisters who attended the third annual convention of District No. 14, of the Pythian Sisters lodges, held in Anaheim on Wednesday afternoon and evening were Mesdames Eva Jarvis, Victoria Ball, Myrtle Allen, Alice Linnes, Minnie Pfeiffer, Marie Olmsted, Margaret Cone and Mildred Wheeler. Temples from Santa Ana, Anaheim, Brea, Tustin and Redondo Beach, and four from Los Angeles took part in this interesting meeting.

More than 50 automobiles, carrying business men of Anaheim, are expected in Brea Thursday, a part of the caravan that is to carry a message of friendship and good will to every part of Northern Orange county. The visitors will be received at a down town location by a delegation of Brea business men at which time short talks will be made and favors commemorating their tour through Brea will be given out.

Marking the first birthday anniversary of Bobbie Harke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Harke, was the pretty little party given the honoree and several tots of his age at the Harke home on the Stearns lease Monday. Following a happy afternoon, a lovely chicken dinner was given for the older people of the party.

Bird and Allen have just completed the building of a bridge for P. J. Weisel, of La Habra, on property owned by him in Carbon canyon. Mr. Weisel has a very wonderful camp on his ground in the place which he and his many friends enjoy in every season, but the recent very heavy rains had washed the roads so badly that a strong substantial bridge was necessary to gain access to the grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, who recently sold their home on South Pomona, have moved into the property of the late Mrs. Emma L. Rust, on that same street. Following the close of the spring term of school, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will leave Brea for Missouri, where they have purchased a farm.

At a gathering held recently in Los Angeles, Mrs. William L. Brooks, of Brea canyon, first royal matron of Fullerton Court, No. 52, order of the Amaranth, was elected to the presidency of the Royal Matrons and Patrons association for the year 1927. This is a Southern California organization.

Chaperoned by the Rev. W. Judson Oldfield and several of the mothers of boys and girls in the party, several automobile loads of young people, members of the Congregational church Sunday school, motored over to Whittier Thursday night, where they enjoyed skating at the roller rink. Only members of the Sunday school who were above the seventh grade in the grammar schools were included in the party.

Announcement is made through a local real estate agent of the sale of the late Mrs. Mae Irwin property on South Walnut to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mims, of the G. and L. lease southeast of Brea, who bought it of Mrs. Irwin's daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Irwin Niclett, now of Fullerton. The home is at present occupied by E. A. Lauderback, in charge of the Union service station at the corner of Pomona and Birch.

Mr. Lauderback has recently been transferred to a Santa Ana station and will soon move, giving possession to Mr. and Mrs. Mims.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. Judson Oldfield, of the Brea Congregational church, had the pleasure of entertaining for two days last week an old friend from their former home in Ashland, Oregon. She was Mrs. Ella Mills and the visit was one of mutual happiness for these three.

Deputy Grand Matron Vera P. Wetlin, of Santa Ana, will pay her official visit to Ami Tai chapter tomorrow evening at the regular meeting of that order. At this time all the work and floor drill will be exemplified by the chapter and a good attendance is desired.

NEW LUNCHEON CLUB LAUNCHED MONDAY NOON

Santa Ana today had stepped into the limelight with the organization of a new luncheon club—a club for business men who farm by proxy, best describes the new organization, according to A. M. Stanley, secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau.

Organization of the club was effected at a meeting of a small group of men yesterday at Ketter's cafe, and James Sleeper, county assessor, was named as temporary president, and George S. Smith, capitalist, fruit grower and undertaker, was given the position, temporarily, of noting official actions of the club. He is secretary. A. J. Crookshank was named as the club's representative on the board of directors of the Orange County Farm bureau, for it was pointed out by Stanley that the club will function, in a measure, as a farm center for Santa Ana.

"The club, (or farm center) will have the aspect of a luncheon club and meetings will be held at noon on the first Monday of each month, with the avowed purpose of discussing farm problems, both economic and cultural, Stanley said. "It is proposed to have short meetings, to be enlivened by the usual chaff, and to be followed by an open discussion."

"We have good contact with the rural farmers," stated Roy Bishop, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, who was one of the moving spirits at the organization meeting, "but up to date we have had no way of determining the thoughts and desires of the commercial business men who own and operate farms. It is our ambition to make this farm center representative of their interests and thus gain a contact with them."

"All commercial business men who are interested in the development of agriculture in Orange county are invited to attend the new Center club, it was stated by the president. Lively discussions may be anticipated in the future, if the first meeting is to be considered a criterion."

TWO ARE ONE
NEW YORK, April 5.—Two little girls tee off at a golf links here with the same ball and one club. They are Mary and Margaret Gibb, 15, only living American-born Chinese twins. They have a caddy and seem to enjoy the game as much as any other golfers.

Indians Invoke Heavenly Help To Catch Fish
CHICAGO, April 5.—Before the Nootka Indian, who lives on the west coast of Vancouver Island, goes out to catch a mess of fish, he anoints himself with unguents and oils, fasts for a time and carries out a complicated secret ritual which he believes will bring success to his venture.

The primitive people, Dr. E. Sapir of the University of Chicago today told the central section of the American Anthropological association, precede almost every common act by an involved ritual.

"This belief in the occult or supernatural manner of controlling events forms an anthropological question which the scientific world knows little about," he said.

The ceremony preceding the harpooning of a whale is extremely complicated. It lasts for months, and among other things, consists of fasting for a four-day stretch, building effigies of the harpoon and canoe to be used. The warrior who is to perform the task also anoints himself with hemlock branches.

If, after all that, his success in whale, hunting is indifferent, he tries another ritual.

The entire procedure is called "osimich," or secret magic. Each family usually has its own methods and they are scrupulously passed down by succeeding generations.

There must be "osimich" for getting codfish with hooks; for catching halibut, digging bait, making hats, getting wealth, for finding a bear's den, and other common acts of primitive living.

The ritual usually starts out with this prayer:

"Look down on me, O chief, 'Have pity on me; 'Cause me to be alive."

Use Hammock As Relief Measure
PARIS, April 5.—The hammock is being discovered in France.

Relief for crowded city apartments is seen in the hammock as a bed.

City authorities are considering their use in public institutions, serious periodicals propose the general use of the hammock in modest homes and apartments, where each new baby means, eventually, another bed, less room to move about and heavy expense.

IGNORE CHALLENGE
OSSING, N. Y., April 5. —Charges that prisoners in the state penitentiary here have a pleasant and enjoyable life have been answered by a direct challenge from Warden L. E. Lawes. "Any public man who believes that Sing Sing prisoners are contented is invited to spend a day here as an inmate," he says. So far there have been no takers.

The Oxford Tie is very fashionable

You'll see the Oxford Tie everywhere this season. You will observe it frequently in the Easter procession of the well dressed, for fashion has approved this trim style and as a result many new models await your selection here at Rice's. Little trimming touches in contrast to the many colored leathers in the shoes themselves are most correct.

PICTURED HERE IS JUST ONE OF THE MANY NEW TIES FOR SPRING AND SUMMER, 1927

An outstanding feature of all Rice's footwear is the beautifully molded arch which gives a fine, clean line of smoothness in the heel seat.

"The Voice Returned"

THE "Great Blizzard" of 1888 had blocked railway traffic and disrupted mail and telegraph service. Through the drift-piled streets of Boston groups of men and women made their way to the public telephone stations, anxiously inquiring whether the long distance lines to New York were still in service.

"People did not want a message, they wanted to talk," runs a contemporary story. "They wanted to find out where the other party was, if he was alive, indeed. *It was the voice returned, the personal interview, that was especially valuable."

A telephone conversation is the meeting of mind with mind, heart with heart. Today there are no limits of distance to the interchange of thought that binds all parts of the country together. Created in response to America's needs, a network of 50,000,000 miles of wire has given nation-wide scope to the "voice returned."

JEROME WANTS COURT ACTION TO PAY MONEY

With the contract for paving South Main street, Santa Ana, awarded last night by the Santa Ana city council, and the impending legal clash over the $10,000 appropriation wanted from the county as a donation to the project thus brought nearer a crisis, both sides to the controversy maintained their strategy of watchful waiting.

City and county officials who believe that a 3 to 2 vote of the county supervisors in favor of the $10,000 appropriation was a sufficient majority legally to authorize payment of the sum to the city, were waiting for Chairman William Schumacher, of the county board, to institute injunction proceedings against County Auditor W. C. Jerome to prevent the auditor from paying the money to Santa Ana. Schumacher is recognized as the leader of opposition to the proposal that $10,000 should be donated to the city's paving project. He contends that the law requires a four-fifths vote of the supervisors to transfer the funds from the county to the city.

But Schumacher today signified his intention to stand fast and wait for the city to "start something." He would not institute the court action, he said, but was ready to fight any attempt by the city to compel payment of the money by a mandamus proceeding against the auditor.

Auditor Jerome, while believing that the 3 to 2 majority vote in favor of appropriating the money was legally sufficient, nevertheless has announced that he wants a court decision on the point before paying the money. This, it is said, must come through either an injunction suit or a mandamus suit, one to prevent him from paying, the other to force him to pay.

It was hinted in certain quarters today that if Schumacher does not file an injunction suit, somebody else may do so, as a taxpayer. Someone friendly to the city's side of the controversy may take the opposite side in an injunction suit, merely in order to bring the matter to a head in court and get the desired opinion, it was intimated.

WOMAN IN CAR COLLISION WITH TRUCK MAY DIE

Suffering from a severed artery in the neck and possible internal injuries, Mrs. B. M. Buck, of Los Angeles, was in a critical condition late today at the Orange county hospital where she was taken after the automobile in which she was a passenger collided, head-on, with a heavy gravel truck operated by Roy Hoffman, an employee of the Capistrano Rock company. She was still unconscious at a late hour.

The accident occurred on the state highway, approximately two miles this side of San Juan Capistrano. Mrs. Buck was in a light sedan that was being driven by George Bowen, of Los Angeles, and which was traveling toward San Juan Capistrano.

In some manner, the automobile crashed into the heavier truck, the impact virtually demolishing the sedan. All occupants of the Bowen car, including Mrs. Buck's husband, were considerably bruised and also cut by flying glass but Mrs. Buck was the only person seriously injured.

Passing motorists took Mrs. Buck to the office of a San Juan Capistrano physician from which, after first aid had been administered, she was removed to the county hospital.

PRE-SCHOOL TESTS TO BE MADE SOON

Appointments for the physical examination of children who will enter kindergarten or the first grade next September are being made rapidly, according to Mrs. E. C. Phillips, 909 South Ross street, who has charge of arrangements for Santa Ana public schools.

These examinations, which will be held all over Orange county in the next few weeks, will be given under the supervision of the state bureau of child hygiene, co-operating with the county health department, local physicians and representatives of parent-teacher associations.

Any parent who has not made application for appointment may do so by communicating immediately with Mrs. J. R. Williams, R.F.D. No. 4, Anaheim, if his child is to enter a school outside of Santa Ana, or with Mrs. Phillips, if the child is to enter a school in Santa Ana.

WARD MEETINGS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Under calls issued today two ward meetings are to be held tonight. One of them, for the second ward, is to be held at Lincoln schoolhouse at 7:30 o'clock, and the other, for the fifth ward, is to be held at the residence of Charles Heinrich, 905 West Washington avenue, also at 7:30 p. m.

George Munro, who has called the second ward gathering, stated that this meeting is open to all voters of the second ward who care to attend. It was stated that the fifth ward meeting is also to be open to any voter of the ward who desires to attend.

It was stated that the purpose of these meetings is to consider endorsements of candidates for city trustees and for members of the board of education.

Poinsettia Slips At Court House

The poinsettia plants around the courthouse, said to be among the hardest of that variety in the county, will be trimmed tomorrow, and persons who wish slips may secure them from George Benedict, the courthouse gardener, Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, announced.

Because of the hardness of the plants, the slips have been much in demand in years past, Slabaugh said, and many of the poinsettia plants in Santa Ana can trace their origin to the courthouse shrubs.

UNIQUE TANGLE RESULTS FROM OIL DRILLING

KANSAS CITY, April 5.—The story of a strip of brush-covered land along a small Kansas river which changed from a piece of "river bank" to a coveted "black-gold mine" was told recently by D. W. Eaton, lawyer from Wichita, who was in the federal court in Kansas City, Kan. Eaton told the story to other lawyers in the court telling them it involved one of the most unusual legal cases in which he had been employed as counsel.

Near Oxford, Kan., in Sumner county, related the Wichita lawyer, is a 60-acre farm belonging to W. L. Shore. Adjacent is a farm belonging to Frank Reitz. On the county records Shore's farm is known as lot six, and Reitz's place is lot five.

Shore leased his land to the Roxana Petroleum company of St. Louis, which drilled a well, striking paying sand. The well now is producing 1,700 barrels a day. The well is on the bank of Walnut river, which bounds the Shore and Reitz farms on the north.

Whenever one oil company finds a new oil-producing territory, said Eaton, other oil companies immediately become interested and attempt to get leases as near the well as possible. In this case, related Eaton, Reitz and the Derby Oil company looked up the deeds on the Reitz and Shore farms as far back as the time the deed was given the patentee of the land by the government in 1872. They found that at one time an owner of what is now Shore's land sold a strip 100 feet wide and seventy rods long, containing two and one-half acres.

The strip was recorded as a part of lot five, instead of part of lot six, as Eaton contended it should have been recorded.

Reitz, relying on the fact the records showed this 100-foot strip belonged to lot five, leased the strip to the Derby Oil company, which started at once to drill for oil. Reitz brought a suit in the district court to quiet his title to the strip, although Shore had been living 20 years on the farm of which it was believed to be a part.

Shore brought suit to enjoin the Derby Oil company from drilling the well. The district court of Sumner county held on Feb. 15, in favor of Reitz and awarded him the title to the 100-foot strip. The next day the Derby company's drills struck oil and an 800-barrel well resulted.

The case has been appealed to the supreme court of Kansas and will be heard May 5. Eaton represents Shore and is attempting to reverse the decision of the Sumner county court.

CORNS

Ends pain at once

No waiting—one minute after you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads the pain is gone. After the corn is healed it never comes back. If new shoes irritate the spot again, a Zino-pad fixes it overnight. Old methods of paring corns, or using caustic acids, are dangerous.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are safe, antiseptic, protective, healing. They stop the cause of corns—rubbing and pressing of shoes. At all drugists and shoe dealers. Cost but a trifle.

Santa Ana Musicians Home from Concert Tour of East

Reaching home Saturday after an extended eastern trip with several weeks' stay in New York City, Ollime Enlow Matthews, prominent violinist of the city, is being welcomed by a host of friends in social and musical circles of the community.

Mrs. Matthews, with Holly Lash Visel, soprano; Daphne Goss of Los Angeles, dramatic reader, and Elizabeth Wright Spangler, accompanist, left in February for an eastern concert tour, giving nine programs between Los Angeles and Chicago. At the close of their concert engagements, Mrs. Spangler returned to California, and the other three artists continued to New York City.

During their stay there they were asked to give a recital at the Hotel Astor, but found it impossible to arrange a date that would suit each of the three. Mrs. Matthews took the opportunity to secure some very special new music, such as impossible to obtain on the western coast. She renewed friendship with her former teacher, Kuzo who presented her with a new suite which he had just received from the publisher, and who expressed his admiration for her ripening powers.

Through the maestro, she had the opportunity to visit one of Auer's student recitals. Among other musical events of interest which she enjoyed was "The King's Henchman," that new American opera, which is proving so successful in New York. At the performance attended by Mrs. Matthews, the composer, Deems Taylor, was present. Edna St. Vincent Millay wrote the libretto.

Mrs. Visel left New York City a few days before Mrs. Matthews, while Miss Goss remained for a longer stay. The programs given by the group of California artists met with highly flattering interest, and they were complimented upon the variety of their programs.

Mrs. Matthews gave violin solo numbers, and she and Mrs. Spangler also gave a number of two-violin selections. Miss Goss added her delightful readings and also sang several duets with Mrs. Visel, and the latter's solos were among the enjoyable features. Elizabeth Wright Spangler, who is a violin pupil of Mrs. Matthews, is equally talented as a pianist and served as accompanist for the others of the group.

Their programs were in two parts, the first being presented in costume, each of the artists appearing in quaint, old-fashioned garb of the colonial period. The program numbers were in harmony, the musical offerings being of the seventeenth century.

City Fireman Weds In Riverside

When John C. Smart returned yesterday morning to his duties at the central fire station, he informed his comrades that he was a bridegroom, for he and Miss Vera Rumsby were married Saturday, April 2, in Riverside.

The happy couple will make their home at 618 East Walnut street. Mr. Smart has been with the Santa Ana fire department since February, 1924.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Baptist Party

Although the members of the Baptist Women's society chose April Fool as the motif for the hospitality which they recently extended the Men's club of the church, there was no fooling about the pleasures of the merry evening.

The social rooms where the party was held, were most April-like in their decorations, April showers of wisteria and bird wreaths forming the background for the merry-makers. A formal program was opened with a friendly little talk by Mrs. M. M. Holmes, president of the Women's society, during which she took occasion to present a unique bouquet of vegetables, tied with tulle ribbon, to J. P. Williams, president of the Men's club.

Mrs. J. A. Gardner, Mrs. Evelyn Searls and Mrs. Blanche Owens formed a trio of sisters who entertained with songs, including "The Song of the Wanderer" and "Mighty Like a Rose." Mrs. Benjamin Brubaker's drama class of Tustin high school presented two plays, the first one being "Wisdom Teeth" with Charlotte Brown, Marshall Dunkin, Mary Jean Silver and Ruth Hamford taking part, and Alice McDougall directing.

Miss Mildred Marchant whistled a solo and Mrs. Hugh Neighbor gave a reading, "The Soul of the Violin." Percy W. Olds with Mrs. Olds as accompanist, sang "The Greatest Wish" and "Little Irish Girl," and the program ended with the second play by Mrs. Brubaker's pupils. "Crossed Wires" was the offering and it was directed by Richard Ford with Royce Edson, Margot Sangster, Elmer Ritner, Julia Bingham and Ray Coffman in the cast.

The evening included the enjoyable refreshment hour when tables were arranged with the loveliest of ranunculus, sweet peas and other delicately tinted spring blossoms. The April Fool idea which had been stressed with jokes and informal program features, was suggested in the jesters adorning the nut cups.

Members and guests were loud in their praises of the committee planning the evening. Its members were composed of Mrs. J. A. Gardner, chairman; Mrs. Blanche Owens, Mrs. Frank Harris, Mrs. Roland Dye, Mrs. J. Krebs and Mrs. W. A. Chapman.

Among the early Greeks the wearing of breeches was considered a badge of slavery.

Clarence A. Gustlin To Leave Saturday For Biennial

Planning to reach Chicago in time for the opening day of the Biennial of the National Music Federation on April 13, Clarence A. Gustlin will leave Santa Ana Saturday.

He will stop in Santa Fe, New Mexico, for the annual convention of the Music association of that state, where he will take part in the program. Thence he will go to Pueblo, Colo., where he will present a recital and also stop in his home city of Boone, Iowa, to fill an engagement.

In Chicago, Mr. Gustlin will take active part in the Biennial program, and will give reports on the opera activities of the west. He is chairman of opera for the western division, and is noted all over the United States for his activity in bringing American opera and American composers into prominence. His "Enter-Receitals," in which the operas written by well-known musicians of the United States are discussed and their music illustrated, have been a popular feature from coast to coast.

Interesting Visitor Is Complimented At Dinner

An interesting visitor in the city Sunday, was Miss Esther Wuest of Portland, who has been on a visit of inspection to the schools of Los Angeles, and who came to Santa Ana to renew friendships formed when the Wuest family lived here many years ago. Miss Wuest's father, J. A. Wuest, was in the milling business here at the time.

A few old friends were bidden to dine with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Quick and renew their friendship with Miss Wuest, and included Mrs. C. M. Burns, Mrs. M. H. Mickle and Miss Grace Grigsby.

All were keenly interested in hearing some of the details of the honor guest's career. For she is director of art instruction in the Portland schools with ninety-one schools on her charge. She came south to attend the Pacific Arts association which met recently in San Francisco. In the new palace of the Legion of Honor, and was one of the speakers at the session on March 25.

Miss Wuest's only regret attached to the visit in Santa Ana, was that she failed to see Miss Ida Mitchell, the teacher under whom she started her art career. She called at Miss Mitchell's home, but found her absent. From the Santa Ana schools, she continued her studies in the Chicago Art Institute, and after graduating studied in New York and under Julian in the Julian Academie, Paris.

Miss Ethel Huff Will Wed Tomorrow Night

A wedding of much interest in this city, will be that of Miss Ethel Huff, daughter of Mrs. Charles Sumner Huff, 1837 East Fourth street, and Phillip Lynde Moore of Berkeley, which will take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Beverly Hills hotel.

Miss Huff is a niece of William A. Huff of this city. The wedding will be one of the social events of the season in college circles.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The last of the series of Lenten luncheons to be served every Wednesday noon at the Church of the Messiah will be given tomorrow under the able direction of Mrs. J. L. Allen. Because this is the last of the luncheons it has been especially planned. The Women's auxiliary and the guild will meet in the parish room tomorrow morning where an all-day meeting will be held.

The southeast section of the First Presbyterian Aid society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Spencer, 113 Halliday street.

The Beaux Arts club will hold its postponed meeting on Wednesday night, April 12, in the Earl Fraser studio, Greenleaf building.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. F. W. Weissman will have charge of the devotionals, and Miss Helen Walker is to give a talk on settlement work. A meeting of the executive board has been called at 1 o'clock.

The Aid society of the First Christian church will meet in the community house tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. A pot-luck luncheon will be held at the noon hour, and at 2:30 the society will adjourn to join the Missionary society in the stated monthly meeting.

Ebel's Fourth Household Economics section will be entertained at 1 o'clock luncheon Friday in the clubhouse, by Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, Mrs. W. V. Whitson and Mrs. Edward C. Erwin. Members unable to be present are requested to notify the hostesses by Thursday morning.

The Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet in the community house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the southeast section members in the afternoon. Mrs. G. P. O'Connor as chairman will be assisted by Mrs. W. T. Mitchell and Mrs. Redmond. Japan will be the subject of the afternoon and a Japanese tea will be featured.

SPRING'S AIRY APPEAL IS GLIMPSED IN SMART HATS

NEW YORK, April 5.—For mid-summer and resort wear, the large hat will predominate this season, but for town wear, certainly for early spring, the small and medium-sized models will be featured.

Paris is endeavoring to introduce new lines and new treatments, and in Rebox's new collection are tri-cornes, and round crowned models with slightly wider brims than we have been seeing.

There is also a tendency to change the silhouette by suggesting an irregular brimline, and a cut in the front or in the back that relieves the severity and forces in a wedge toward restoring the more formal type of hat.

Flowers are returning as trimmings, on the small as well as the larger models—an effective method on the large brim is to place a large, rather flat flower under the brim.

Plenty of Ribbon

Much ribbon is used in color combinations as well as matching the color of the hat. Many loops and small bows of grosgrain ribbon are seen on the small models, and feathers too, particularly those that point backward, or carry the line of trimming down to the shoulder are favored.

Certainly the crown has reached the peak of its extension, and will gradually be lowered. In fact, now the crown that fits the head is never than the one extended in the back.

Colored hats will be more popular than ever—the small shades of blue, Fourth street, and Phillip Lynde Moore of Berkeley, which will take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Beverly Hills hotel.

Typical of the newest developments are the models worn by Cla-borne Foster, star of "Sinner." These have the youthful, light and airy appeal of spring, and are exceedingly practical as well as attractive.

Panama and the finer ballunistras need very little in the way of trimming—one model shown has only a black grosgrain cord, emphasizing the smart little dent in the crown. The brim is small in front, but graduates to nothing at all in the back.

Nothing Smarter

For the black or navy blue tailleur nothing could be smarter than the white felt model with a brim that folds over in the black and does an excellent job of covering the face in the front.

As a study in line and color, the medium-sized model is very interesting—the hat is of green horsehair, and the flowers are pink and red carnations made out of feathers. The crown is pinched in at the side to give a more interesting droop—and a good excuse for focusing the flowers at that point.

Ladies who want to study her own face, and select a brim that flatters it. Too small a brim makes a face with large features look unpleasantly large, while a piquant small face is often quite overshadowed by too large and heavy looking a brim.

Unless you have graceful shoulders and a fairly long neck, the very large hat is unpleasantly suggestive of the mushroom.

After all, you select a hat to enhance your own beauty, not for its own sake, and the hat that makes your face the loveliest is the one you should wear, regardless of how negative it may be in your hand or in the shop.

Movie Chatterbox

By DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Reviews have become one of the most important factors in the making of motion pictures.

Directors always try out their pictures in neighborhood theaters two or three times before releasing them. In this way they get the public's reaction.

I previewed Harry Langdon's new comedy, "Long Pants," the other night and it was just fair. Two nights later another preview was held, after the picture had been entirely re-cut, and it was 100 per cent better and funnier. If Langdon leaves it in that form he has a good production.

The motion picture industry is rapidly coming into its own as the fourth largest business in the United States. The importance of the films has been recognized by Harvard's Graduate school, which has opened a course on motion pictures.

Ten years ago Douglas MacLean was acting under D. W. Griffith in the old Triangle studio. Now he heads his own organization at the Fine Arts studio, which occupies the same plot of ground once covered by the Triangle buildings.

For the first time since he started on his cinema career, Pola Negri is playing the role of a mother in "The Woman on Trial." Strange as it may seem, the Polish woman portrays a very wistful and sympathetic character.

Jackie Coogan is playing big boy roles now. But at heart he is still a kid and he must be handled just as he was when he played in "The Kid" with Charlie Chaplin. I went out on location where the Coogan company was working one day and found the entire outfit idle. Edward Sedgwick and Jackie were talking baseball while the overhead rolled up. Suddenly Sedgwick said, "Come on Jackie, let's go to work." And activities were resumed.

"I have to get Jackie in just the right mood or he won't work at all," the director explained to me later.

P. E. O. Chapters Give Smart Dinners for Their Husbands

Without doubt P.E.O. husbands (known in the intimate circles of the organization, as the "B.L.'s") were the most highly complimented men in the city last night, for through a happy coincidence, both chapter AB and chapter DI chose Monday, April 4, as the date for the annual dinner at which husbands are honor guests.

The William H. Spurgeon home at 1617 North Main street was the setting for the chapter AB party, while DI members entertained in the recently opened Rose Arbor tea room at 203 North Main street.

In Spurgeon Home

In entertaining the B.L.'s of chapter AB, a committee composed of Mrs. Spurgeon, Mrs. Fred Rowland, Mrs. R. B. Newcom, Mrs. Georgia Bradley, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Mrs. Richard Emison and Mrs. Harry L. Hanson, arranged all details of the affair.

The charm of the Spurgeon home was enhanced by the great clusters of lilac used throughout the rooms as a background for the diners. It was a buffet dinner, and small tables where guests sought their places after having selected the delicacies desired, were gay with ranunculus, sweet peas, rosebuds and other blossoms of a generous spring.

As they dined, it was to the accompaniment of entrancing music rendered by the popular trio organized by Miss Leonora Tompkins, and composed of herself as pianist, W. G. Axworthy, cellist and James F. McCarthy, violinist. The lovely strains not only accompanied the dinner hour, but resounded at intervals throughout the entire evening, as the guests chatted or sought various amusements.

Members and their husbands to the number of half a hundred, shared the varied pleasures of the evening and the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon.

At The Rose Arbor

Variety was sought by members of chapter DI in entertaining the B.L.'s, and forsaking the more familiar surroundings of their homes, they sought the attractive Rose Arbor where arrangements had been made for an elaborate chicken dinner. Mrs. Warren Brakeman, president of the chapter, Mrs. George Miles and Mrs. Charles C. Fuller formed the committee arranging for the evening, and they produced a lovely April effect in their table appointments, with the daintiest of April blossoms and pastel tinted nut cups.

Mrs. E. S. Chamberlain, of the Rose Arbor management, conspiring with the committee in planning the menu, and served a delicious meal. In the evening which followed, the rooms were all placed at the disposal of the guests and small tables were arranged for bridge. The B.L. scoring high at each table, was presented with a prize, and the ingenious hostesses had planned that the prizes should reflect to their advantage, for all were designated to add women in their household duties.

For instance George Miles received a dish pan; W. D. Lambert was presented a pair of gardening gloves; Elmer Heidt received a magic dish cloth; Melvin Trickey's prize was a dust mop and Ray Lambert's, a dish mop. Nat Neff, who was appointed toastmaster, was presented with a remarkable bouquet whose flowers, fashioned of moth balls, were nestled in foliage of beet greens.

The dinners have been established as an annual feature of each chapter.

BUENA PARK NEWS

BUENA PARK, April 5.—Mrs. J. B. Robison entertained with a dinner Monday noon in observance of the 77th birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. M. S. Berkeley. Her guests were Mesdames E. E. Thurman, W. C. Strain, H. H. Haggarty, E. L. Cole, L. E. Berkeley, W. W. Johnson, Caloway, G. D. Snyder, A. C. Mann, and Miss Hattie Stanley.

Mrs. R. H. Meyer, of Los Angeles, came down Thursday evening to be with her little granddaughter, Ruth Ellen Thurman, who is quite ill with bronchial pneumonia. Miss Helen Page attended the meeting of the Senior Girls Friendly society, Fullerton, Monday evening.

Mrs. Dow, of Long Beach, was a guest of Mrs. E. L. Cole last week. Members of the Fullerton Girls' Friendly society held a banquet for their fathers Friday evening. Those attending from Buena Park were H. E. Warren and daughter, Florence, and J. H. Page and daughters, Helen and Bertha.

Girls and mothers from Buena Park who attended the Job's Daughters meeting Saturday night were Mrs. Bertha Peters, Miss Fern Peters, Mrs. L. J. Robeson, Miss Virginia Robeson, Mrs. H. E. Warren, Miss Florence Warren, Miss Margie Lee, Mrs. J. H. Page and the Misses Bertha and Helen Page.

Levin Robison, Vivian Gross, Alvin McNeil and Ruth Bastady, members of the Honor Ross society of the Fullerton union high school, enjoyed a trip to the motion picture studios at Universal City Friday.

The local Christian Endeavor society entertained with an April fools party Friday night at the Community hall. Archie Raitt, of Fullerton, Orange county, Y. M. C. A. secretary, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church here Sunday night. He was assisted by a few of the members of the Fullerton high school Y. M. C. A.

Loss of Appetite

A DANGER SIGNAL

Loss of appetite is a sure sign of failing health. Everyone knows that something is wrong—but what? Nine times out of ten it is the stomach, bowels, kidneys or liver. When the digestive and eliminative organs are working properly, Nature demands food and one eats with a relish and feels well.

Lyko, the great general tonic, has done miracles for thousands of ailing men and women. It contains the necessary ingredients to aid digestion, prevent constipation, and keep the kidneys and liver in a healthy, active condition. Go to your druggist today and get a bottle. Let one trial prove to you the merit of this wonderful tonic. Why continue to suffer when relief is so near at hand?

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda.

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

WOOD ALCOHOL FOUND IN MUCH BOOTLEG BOOZE

Examination of a quantity of gin and other liquor, sent to the Orange county hospital for analysis during the last several days, shows an unusual amount of methyl alcohol, according to a statement made today by Dr. Harry Zaiser, head of the Orange county hospital.

At various times, alcohol is examined by chemists in the hospital and many times in the past the presence of wood alcohol has been noted, but recently this poison has shown more than usual, the doctor said.

With one death from poison liquor in the county this week, Dr. Zaiser issued a warning against drinking alcohol in any form, stating that he believed the danger of blindness, or even death, more prevalent now than at any time in the past.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, April 5.—C. E. Boms is at Torrance this week, where he has accepted a contract with the George F. Getty Oil company.

Mrs. Phillip Goodell will entertain the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club at her home this week.

Six new members were accepted into the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Anna Brockhouser called a meeting of the social section of the Women's club at the clubhouse Friday afternoon. Plans were made for a "Plunkett dinner," to be held April 29 at the clubhouse. The dinner will be put on by a demonstrator advertising various products and tickets will be sold by the women.

Fifty young people enjoyed the hospitality of the Junior auxiliary of the Women's club at their dance Friday evening. The clubhouse was appropriately decorated for the occasion and a jolly time was held by the young people.

Election of officers was held on Friday afternoon for the economic section of the Women's club at the regular 1 o'clock luncheon held at the clubhouse. Mrs. Dan Hanger-section and Mrs. J. W. Camp were elected secretaries. Plans were made to hold the annual picnic May 6, the next regular meeting day, at Carbon canyon. The afternoon was spent in completing the boudoir lamp begun some time ago.

B. P. W. HEAR MAC O. ROBBINS ON 'INSURANCE'

Mac O. Robbins, introduced by his sister, Miss Doris Robbins, as having been less than a fraction of a half century in the insurance business, was the speaker yesterday at the luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's club at St. Ann's Inn.

"Insurance" as a topic for an address is full of absorbing interest, as it is one of the few things in the life of man which is not a gamble. The speaker told of the gambles of the farmer, of the merchant and of the purchaser of real estate, all taking chances on the outcome of the investment.

Robbins told the history of the evolution of insurance from the old London Lloyd's exchange, located in an old inn, and the mecca of shipping men. On a large board would be written the name of the boat and the time of its expected arrival. Underneath a man would write his name and how much he pledged upon the safe return of the ship. If she did not arrive he paid his money, and if she did he was ahead that much. So came into being the word "underwriter," the person who prepares the policy.

The old marine insurance policy, full of old-fashioned phrases, is still in use as an example, and the first two insurance companies, the London Assurance and the Sun, are still in existence. They came into being in the year 1720, the Phoenix in 1805.

In England an insurance company writes all kinds of policies, but in the United States the lines are tightly drawn. Insurance is today the key of the business of the world. Commerce, banking, courts and business generally could not be carried on today without it. The instance was cited of wheat, which is insured from the time the seed is put into the ground, until the time it is put into the hands of the consumer as bread.

The speaker said the Red Cross is called the "mother" of the world and he liked to think of insurance as the "father" of the world, and cited the great work done in the great earthquake and fire of San Francisco.

There are in the United States today 4000 companies of all sorts, which collect $12,000,000,000 yearly in premiums, carry 12 per cent of all railroad securities and 55 per cent of farm loans. They pay in taxes alone $2,500,000. The total premiums collected in the state of California alone amount to the huge sum of $228,000,000.

No adequate system of earthquake insurance has been figured out, and as the speaker stated it, "earthquake insurance scares the companies to death." Three earthquake faults cross the water aqueduct system, and if this great body of water should be turned loose, the loss would be incalculable.

The present system of insurance rating was given to the United States by a Santa Ana man, Ruthford B. Towner, head of the Towner Rating bureau of New York City. He does all of the actuarial work and publishing of all rates.

Anything that a person owns can be covered with insurance and any plan that he wishes to make for himself, his family, business and provision for death can be planned out through this marvelous system.

The by-laws of the club have been revised so as to permit the creation of the office of treasurer, who will be elected, together with other officers at the last meeting of April.

The next meeting of the district board is to be held in Los Angeles April 9 at 4 p. m., in the Chamber of Commerce building, corner Tenth and Broadway, and the committee promises a great evening of surprises and fun. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., reservations to be made with Bertha Pratt, 443 Bradbury building, Los Angeles, phone Ya3123, not later than Friday morning.

The April committee is composed of Jeanette McFadden, chairman, Doris Robbins, Katherine Wood, Edna Camm and Ruth Ellis, and they promise a surprise for next Monday noon, the feature to be announced later.

The West's Largest Food Concern

The combined Skaggs-Safeway Stores distribute more foods West of the Mississippi River than any other concern. Our annual sales will now total in excess of $65,000,000, or more than $200,000 for each business day. Our last week's sales were exactly $1,896,981.82. We have stores and markets in most of the towns and cities from Denver west and from Canada to Mexico, a total at the moment of more than 900.

Our operating costs and gross profits are admittedly the lowest of any similar concern in the United States. We take almost a third less gross profit than the average grocery store gets.

We operate on a plan of profit-sharing with our employees, which has caused the Western business world to marvel. We have thousands of highly trained, earnest, sincere and enthusiastic people, whose willingness and efficiency make it possible for us to sell foods on such a small margin of profit.

When on January 1, 1927, Safeway Stores of Southern California adopted a policy of sharing the profits and stock ownership with their store managers and executives, it was assumed that such action would result in an increased volume.

However, even the most optimistic had not accurately anticipated the immediate increase in individual effort and general impetus which was to result.

April finds us at the close of our first quarter's operations under the new plan with 21 per cent increase in sales, still growing, and in a mood to celebrate by sharing our good fortune with the public.

Therefore from April 5 to 9, inclusive, the 1000 partners of Safeway Stores invite Mr. and Mrs. Consumer of Southern California to pay us a visit, note the improved appearance of our stores, share in the bargains and accept our assurance that many like treats are in store for them in the months to come.

The West's Largest Food Concern

In most instances we go direct to the manufacturer or producer for our goods—eliminating several profits and overheads which the average dealer must pay and add into the prices he charges you.

Every article we sell is fully guaranteed. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if anything bought at our stores is not fully satisfactory.

All of these things enable us to consistently offer you greater savings than is possible under any other system. Add to these savings the incalculable value of the service rendered by the Safeway Man and you will readily understand why Safeway Stores are incomparably better places at which to buy foods.

As We Grow Older Proper Kidney Function is More Than Ever Important

As we grow older, there is apt to be a gradual slowing up of bodily functions. The kidneys are the blood filters. If their action becomes sluggish they do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. This tends to make one tired and aching, with often a toxic backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common symptom of imperfect kidney function is scanty or burning excretions.

Elderly people recommend Doan's Pills. This tested diuretic is endorsed the country over. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Guy R. Sloan, 172 Maple St., Naugatuck, Conn., says: "My back ached and was lame and sore. My kidneys showed signs of disorder, as the secretions were thick and burned in passing, was so miserable, I had to stop work. I improved soon after beginning to use Doan's Pills, and soon I was again in good health."

FRANK VAUGHN FUND IS NEAR MARK OF $500

A slowing up of the number of checks being received to help Frank Vaughn, state traffic officer, who is spending his eighth month in the hospital making an heroic effort to recuperate from injuries which he has permanently disabled him, is noted in today's list. Only four checks were received, for a total of $21, which brings the grand total to $438.50.

Although a good response has been made to the appeal for aid for Vaughn, who is fighting to keep his home at Costa Mesa, and for his wife and two small children, one of which was born while he was in the hospital, more is expected.

The Orange county squad of the state traffic police is raising a sum which will be turned over to the Register Fund in a few days. This will mean much to the unfortunate member of their squad, while the Forty and Eight, American Legion, and the Register are staging a dance for Vaughn's benefit, on April 23, at the American Legion home. There will be no overhead expenses and all money received at the door will be placed in the fund.

Plans for the dance are being made now by Joe Plank, head of the Forty and Eight society, and Charles Van Wyk, representing the Legion, together with a member of the Register staff. Tickets have been printed and will be put on sale in a few days.

Persons desiring to aid Vaughn are asked to send in their checks or cash to the "Vaughn Fund," care Register, Santa Ana. Previously Acknowledged ..$417.50

Taxation Improvement Body Points to Inheritance Tax
As Injustice to Small Heirs

Los Angeles, April 4, 1927.
Editor Register: We have noted in a recent issue of your publication that an attaché of State Controller Ray L. Riley's office made public to the press the following statement relative to inheritance taxes:

"Under normal conditions an estate of $100,000 would pay an inheritance tax of $10 to the state."

This statement has been generally broadcast by the appraisers attached to Mr. Riley's office, we are given to understand, for the purpose of justifying collection of inheritance taxes on estates of less than $100,000, due to the fact that an analysis of the operation of the law which was made by this association shows the state either collecting the $10 (and more) at a loss, or inflicting an injustice on heirs in estates of less than $100,000 by needless taxation and administrative expense. This fact is self-evident to any attorney acquainted with probate work or to anyone who reads the analysis prepared by the California Taxation Improvement association.

Mr. Warren Weaver, one of the state controller's attaches, was asked at Santa Ana to explain what he meant when he referred to "normal conditions." He is quoted as saying:

"Normal conditions mean where the heirs consist of a widow and one minor child. Figuring the deduction of half of the estate as community property, and figuring exemptions where there is one minor child, the state would collect a tax of but $10 upon an estate valued at $100,000."

Relative to "normal conditions," the facts found by this association's analysis show that in all of the cases closed by the state inheritance tax department, there is but 15 per cent of "community property."

Also, the ratio of minor children is small, but most of them at the time of death of the bread-winner have reached the age where they are in college and need every cent of their legacies in estates of the $100,000 class to assist them in preparing for professional or business careers. It has been aptly said, "It takes $35,000 to make a doctor." Relative smaller amounts are required for the law, ministry, music, teaching, etc.

Normal conditions on estates in question may be more accurately stated by referring to the 140 cases closed in 1925-26, which ranged between $75,000 and $140,000. With the exemptions to which Mr. Weaver refers, the average tax paid by each of the 140 cases was approximately $1150. In addition to this, other taxes and shrinkages depleted the estates by nearly 14 per cent.

The California Taxation Improvement association is sponsoring legislation in the present California assembly and senate to replace the present cumbersome inheritance tax laws with a state tax act which will exempt all estates under which the state appraisal and take the full 80 per cent of the federal levies for the state's revenue.

Volumes could be written on the operation of the present inheritance tax law, words of praise spoken for the humane way in which the appraisers have acted in many instances and words of criticism for the way the law operates as a rule.

In espousing an estate tax act, this association was not directing its effort toward eliminating these several hundred state employees, who are largely duplicating the work of the federal appraisers, but it was with a view of enacting such and constructive legislation, which would make California attractive to people of wealth, as well as saving citizens of the state from needless double taxation without materially affecting the state's revenues.

May we not urge your readers to write to both the district's representatives in the legislature and to

The case of Frank J. Bell, Los Angeles, wanted here on a charge of speeding 51 miles an hour and failure to appear in answer to an arrest ticket given him on the road, scheduled in Justice Morrison's court today has been continued until tomorrow, it was announced.

A. P. Nelson, former district attorney will represent Bell. Bell is free on $500 cash bail, made at the jail, after his arrest in Los Angeles and after he was brought here by officers.

FRENCH MARINE SPEAKS BEFORE S. A. MILITIA

A war story that involved three continents in its setting was told by Captain Saint Raimée, retired officer of the French marines, at a banquet held last night in the American Legion hall, Santa Ana, for the members of Company F, 160th infantry, of the National Guard.

Captain Raimée was the principal speaker of the evening. Medals with which the marine captain had been decorated during the 37 years of his service in Africa and in the World War, covered his chest.

During the first part of his talk, Captain Raimée dwelt on the qualities of a good soldier and a good officer. The keynote of his talk was centered about the army attitude of preparedness. "Safety first does not mean waiting but it is 'get your man' before he gets you," the Frenchman declared in broken but terse and direct language. Captain D. L. Winans, of the Santa Ana National Guards, called upon the visitor for an account of some of his experiences and a story of tribal conflicts in the African Congo was related by him.

A "white black" man had been terrorizing the tribes of the Congo region and Captain Raimée had been sent out to suppress the disturbances. After months of investigation, he found that the "white black" man was an American at the head of a band of cannibals, trafficking in ivory sent to Europe from Africa.

The entire membership of the company was present for the banquet, which was served by the ladies' auxiliary. Several American Legion members also attended. The quarterly inspection which followed was made by Major Robert S. Dicey, of the second battalion, 160th infantry, Los Angeles. Next Monday night, the annual federal inspection is to be made by H. A. Hanigan, detached army officer, of Los Angeles. Meritorious awards were made for the perfect record of seven of the Santa Ana guardsmen during the past quarter. They were Sergeant Paul Norman, Corporal Wayne Nelson, Corporal George Strachan, William Trusty, Ray Perkins, Jesse Haddock and Roy Tindall. Albert M. Wunderlick, first sergeant and Kenneth Schroll sergeant, were decorated with medals given by Governor C. C. Young, for perfect attendance at the weekly drills throughout the year 1926.

Three Pay Fines In Liquor Case

Three men, locked up here Sunday on liquor charges, following an automobile accident at Placentia in which they were involved, paid fines in justice court today.

Ray Estrada, 28, Fullerton, was fined $50; Fred Ruiz, 42, was fined $30 and Gabriel Agundez, 20, drunk and disturbing the peace, was fined $50 and given a six months suspended jail sentence.

The Estrada car collided with a machine driven by W. C. Weaver, of Riverside and Agundez is alleged to have made several remarks to women in the Weaver car, soon after the accident.

Sues for Divorce

Margaret Cunin today had a suit for divorce on file in the superior court against Albert Cunin, charging him with non-support. They were married in Fresno in 1920 and separated in 1923. Attorneys Diehl and Anderson, of Costa Mesa, represent Mrs. Cunin.

Divorce Granted

Henry Cutter, of Cypress, has been granted a decree of divorce from Ella Cutter, in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court, where his charges of desertion were heard. The court ordered a division of property, giving Cutter a five-acre ranch and a group of lots at Cypress, together with personal property and cattle. Mrs. Cutter was awarded property at Long Beach and in Oklahoma.

POISON LIQUOR CASE ARRESTS TOTAL THREE

Another man came within the arms of the law today, during the investigation being made by the sheriff's office to determine where Walte Elke, Garden Grove restaurant man got the poisoned liquor which was the cause of his death last Friday, at Garden Grove.

LeRoy Robinson, Garden Grove orchard sprayer, was arrested at his home today on suspicion of manslaughter. He is a brother of Phil Robinson, who, with Charlie Pendleton, was arrested by Officers McClellan and Knight, following an inquest into the death of Elke, at the Winbiger Mission funeral home yesterday.

Officers are not ready to disclose facts they have learned during the investigation, started by McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, soon after Elke's death.

The three men under arrest were subjected to a grilling at the sheriff's office today, but the outcome of the questioning was not made known.

Police News

Charged with disturbing the peace, James Weaver, Santa Ana, was fined $30 in Judge John F. Talbot's court yesterday. He was arrested Saturday night by Officer E. E. Perry when neighbors complained to the police.

W. E. Thomas, arrested Sunday with a quart of alleged liquor in his possession, pleaded guilty to a liquor charge in Judge J. F. Talbot's court yesterday and was fined $100. M. F. Edwards, arrested with Thomas, was dismissed.

Dave Warf and Fale Peer, arrested as vagrants by city police, over the week end, each were given 30 day suspended jail sentences.

The first dramatic performances in England were given in inn-yards. When the yards were roofed over the places became, to all intents and purposes, modern theaters.

CARR TO DRILL NEW WELL NEAR MISSION TOWN

Arrangements were completed today by O. K. Carr of Santa Ana, for the drilling of a second well on the Forster oil lease at San Juan Capistrano. Carr today declared his belief that the first well, when cemented off, can be brought in as a 150-barrel well. "No. 1 well," said Carr, "has been capped to prevent the escape of gas. This well was producing more than 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas when we put the cap on it. Our effort is to make this an oil producer, and we are confident that it will be successfully brought in. We are cementing off now. This well is 1800 feet."

Carr stated that the new well will be started at a local 800 feet distant from No. 1. "We are preparing to go 5000 feet deep in this new well if necessary," said Carr. Those interested in the property lease are O. K. Carr and his brother, J. W. Carr, and D. H. Stoddard.

"I have made arrangements for a first class drilling outfit," continued Carr, "and it will be on the ground right away. We are drilling this well ourselves. The project is fully financed, and we are prepared to do a first class job of drilling."

TRAIN, R. R. MOTOR CAR IN WILD RACE

ATWOOD, April 5.—A wild race yesterday between a railroad motor car and a train resulted in a win for the motor car and a number of scratches and bruises for the workmen who were riding the car.

The race started near Corona and ended here, with the motor car nearly 10 minutes in advance of the train. Men on the motor car left before the spectacular finish of the race.

The motor car had started to San Bernardino with a carpenter crew to repair a bridge. The car was taken off to allow train No. 7 of the Santa Fe line to pass. The foreman of the motor car crew did not know that another section of train No. 7 was following and set the motor car back on the tracks. The second section of the train appeared behind the motor car. The carpenter crew reversed the car and the race was on. Workmen left the motor car with its throttle wide open.

Dispatches to Atwood resulted in the opening of a switch which sent the runaway motor car high into the air. The car was undamaged with the exception of bent axle. The second section of train No. 7 pulled into Atwood 10 minutes later.

Locate Auto and Boys Who Took It In Search of Ore

An automobile stolen from Dr. John Hancock, 1101 North Ross street, last Saturday, has been recovered in Phoenix, Ariz., it was learned here today.

Two youthful Santa Ana boys, hearing of a new gold strike in Arizona, decided to become gold diggers, and they took the Hancock machine, in which to make the trip, Dr. Hancock said. Before leaving Santa Ana they supplied themselves with picks, working clothes, tents and other equipment, but they were short of money and when overhauled in Phoenix, were broke, it was said.

The car and the boys will be returned here.

ZOELLNERS TO APPEAR MONDAY ON P.-T. A. BILL

"The incomparable Zoellner quartet" as that organization was acclaimed by the "Musical Observer" published in New York City, will be the next attraction of the P.-T. A. concert course, and will mark the only deviation from the rule to have the concerts on Friday afternoon and evening in the Santa Ana high school auditorium and instead will be featured Monday night, April 11.

The change was made partly because of conflicting dates which made it impossible for the gifted family to be here on Friday, and partly to avoid vacation week.

Announcement that the Zoellners were to be a feature of the course, aroused much interest here, where they are regarded with much the same proud feeling of possession that is evinced in Los Angeles, where they form a prominent musical family.

It is composed of Antoinette Zoellner, violin; Amandus Zoellner, violin; Joseph Zoellner, sr., viola, and Joseph Zoellner, sr., violoncello. Since it was first founded a number of years ago, by Joseph Zoellner, sr., father of the other three members, the organization has yearly grown in popularity as well as in musical development and finish, until it is recognized today as one of the finest exponents of chamber music in America.

The Zoellners have played in practically every important city in the United States and Canada during the past dozen years, and also in nearly all the European art centers. One of their prized possessions, eloquent of their appearance before the royal family of Belgium, is the medal presented them by the mother of King Albert of Belgium.

Their afternoon concert Monday at 3 o'clock will be for the benefit of the school pupils. The evening program, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will be for the holders of season tickets. Arrangements have been made whereby those who have not had tickets for the entire course, may obtain them for the remainder of the numbers, at a special price of $1.50. This will make it possible for them to hear the Zoellner Quartet, the Cadman-James Murray recital and the A Capella choir. The tickets are on sale at Santa Ana book stores and drugstores.

POLY STUDENT IS NAMED LIFE SAVER FOR 'Y'

Bert Winslow, 14-year-old high school sophomore, is the first Santa Ana boy to take advantage of the opportunity offered by R. R. Russick, director of the physical education department of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., since his official appointment as examiner of life saving.

Young Winslow has been under the tutelage of Russick in the Y. M. C. A. classes for some time, and was thus prepared to complete the official tests for life saver. He qualified in his examination with high scores in all points.

The life saving tests, as outlined by the national department of physical education, include a dozen more or less difficult feats to demonstrate one's ability in the water. In order to qualify, Winslow was required to disrobe completely in the water, and to swim 25 yards back stroke, 25 yards side overarm stroke, and 50 yards crawl stroke, without stopping.

Another test involved picking up a ten-pound weight from the bottom of the pool, and bringing it ashore, after one dive. There was the demonstration of four "land releases," the back strangle hold, the front strangle hold, the carry, and several other accomplishments designed to show the swimmer's endurance and ability to handle himself in the water.

Winslow has the honor of winning the first official life saver's certificate, but he will soon be joined by others as Russick has a long string of candidates in training, who will be taking the tests very soon, and all of whom are expected to qualify.

SOCIAL WORKERS TO MEET TOMORROW

One of the two open meetings held each year by the Orange County Conference of Social Workers is scheduled for tomorrow evening at 6:30. It will be a dinner meeting at Ketter's cafe, according to an announcement by Mrs. Carrie Leebick, head of the social service department at the courthouse.

The public is invited to attend this meeting, said Mrs. Leebick. The evening's address will be given by Reynold Blight, Los Angeles editor and lecturer, whose subject will be "Protecting Our American Heritage."

Reservations for the dinner may be made by telephone to Ketter's cafe or to the social service department at the courthouse, it is announced. Those who cannot attend the dinner may attend the after-dinner program, it is said.

William Murdoch
Father of the Gas Industry

By his experimental work with coal gas for lighting at Redruth, Cornwall, England, in 1792, and the subsequent installation of gas lighting in a number of factories, William Murdoch is recognized as the Father of the Gas Industry.

Proposals were made to light the House of Commons in London with this new illuminant and one of the members, who was highly indignant, said, "Mr. Speaker, does the author of this bill really have the insolence to suggest to our intelligence that he will convey this flame in a pipe from where it is made ten miles away?"

GAS has lighted the way of progress for over one hundred years.

It was first used for street lighting and for nearly seventy-five years this was practically its only use.

Then gas fuel came into quite general use for cooking and house heating. In homes today it cooks the meals and heats for millions of the population of the United States.

FORM COUNCIL ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION IN S. A. DISTRICT

General Organization Plan
Is Outlined to Gathering
Of Ministers and Laymen

REV. PEARCE IS MAIN SPEAKER

Co-operation P. T. A. and Other Local Agencies
Will Be Sought for Board

Plans for organizing a council of religious education of the city of Santa Ana, having for its objective the promotion of religious education in the churches and in the community, were adopted at a general conference meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. offices and attended by a large number of ministers, Sunday school superintendents, and citizens interested in religious education.

The Rev. Logan Harter, pastor of the United Brethren church, presided over the meeting. The Santa Ana city schools were represented by City Superintendent J. A. Cranston, and Mrs. Fay Spangler, president of the Santa Ana City Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, represented the parents in the community.

Dr. W. C. Pearce, general secretary of the California Council of Religious Education, with offices in the Garland building, Los Angeles, was the principal speaker. Outlining a general organization plan, which would cover the entire state, he said that it is the desire of the state body that each community develop a board, or council, of religious education, capable of supervising the entire field of such education, including the Sunday school, vacation church school, and whatever week-day religious education may be possible.

The details of the organizations, as set forth in a proposed constitution of the council, will be submitted to the congregations of the various churches and to the Parent-Teacher federation for ratification. Those bodies which approve of the project, it was ex-

POPULAR STUDENT

WYLEY CARLYLE

WYLEY CARLYLE IS HONORED BY POLY STUDENTS

Popularity among the co-Ednas was today attributed to have been the deciding factor that brought to Wyley Carlyle the distinction of being the best all around student at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school.

Wyley shuffles a tantalizing dance.

He is one of the star trackmen on the Santa Ana track team. But between dancing and training, he is willing to risk his favor with the girls by adhering strictly to the training program laid down by the Poly coach. This season was the first that Carlyle donned spiked shoes and enrolled for track but he is rated as the best quarter-mile on the Poly squad.

The contest by which he was selected was held under the auspices of the Forum club, by popular vote, conducted throughout last week. Hubert Prior was the closest rival for the honor. The vote between the two was Carlyle 2363 and Prior 2074.

Scholarship, athletics and activities were the basis of judging in the contest.

Carlyle is nicknamed "Red" although he doesn't have red hair. When he was playing on the Class

HUNDREDS OF FRIENDS AND 'BUDDIES' PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF LAUREN HURD

By GEORGE E. HART

Somewhere on his journey into the Kingdom of the Soul, "Pat" Hurd must have turned, yesterday, to smile tenderly back upon his earthly friends.

He must have thrilled at the moving tribute paid his memory—at the tears shed for the big, sunny-hearted boy who was called away in the morning of life. He must have noted a public appreciation of the courage that sent him to his death in the law's uniform.

The funeral service at -Winbigler's Mission Funeral Home yesterday afternoon was nothing less than a public ovation. All of the public that could do so crowded its way into the chapel. Dozens, unable to gain the inside, stood grouped about the doors and spread across the sidewalks.

Within, transpired one of the most impressive services that has honored any Orange county citizen. It might have been the tribute to a venerated pioneer who had lived for a generation among the people thus mourning him, rather than a youth of but a few years residence here. The reason was patent. That youth had won his way into the heart of a community.

And there was a noteworthy thing about this service. It was evident that none came to view a spectacle. They were assembled in a spirit of genuine sorrow. Grief and sympathy, rather than a veiled curiosity, were written upon each face. They were reflected alike in the willing eyes of the girls and women and upon the stern, set features of the men. Among the trim-clad fellows of the traffic squads, or the ranks of rugged, sun-burnt deputy sheriffs and city patrolmen, those who knew their "buddie" best sat with tragedy in their eyes. Strong as they were, some of them found their emotions stronger and not to be denied.

Mute Appeal

Before them lay the silent form of their comrade, bravely wearing his uniform in his last sleep; his cap and holster gun resting in mute appeal upon the casket, its sole adornment.

These men who loved him were not ashamed of their tears.

About the casket were heaped the loving remembrances of those who tried to express their appreciation of the young traffic officer with flowers. Had there been more floral pieces, space for them without the chapel would have been required. There was no more room within. Prominent among them an offering from the Orange County Peace Officers Association. It bore the design of the state traffic squad's emblem, and star. Above were lettered the words: "Our Buddie." The San Diego county squad sent another impressive piece, its design showing the wheel emblem worn upon the caps of traffic offi-

An Eulogy

We come into life through the miracle of birth and from that moment on our destiny is written by circumstance, fortune, ambition and love of our fellow men. It is easy for us to seclude ourselves and take no more part in the affairs of life than is required for an existence. Many of us, more timid than the rest, afraid to test our mettle in the cauldron of life's flaming fire, retire and live unto ourselves alone.

Not everyone can lift himself above the plane on which the rabble moves. Those who do are endowed with finer human qualities than are the attributes of the average man. Such a man was our comrade who yesterday was with us.

We gather now, in sadness and in tears, to honor his memory. His deeds stand forth clear and bright now. How blind of us not to have seen them as clearly before we saw them. How inarticulate are the living when we seek to express the virtues of the dead. We can but approach the bier and gaze upon that of a physical form. His heart will never warm now to our words of kindness, nor can he warm our hearts with the words of comradeship and friendliness he spoke so often to us.

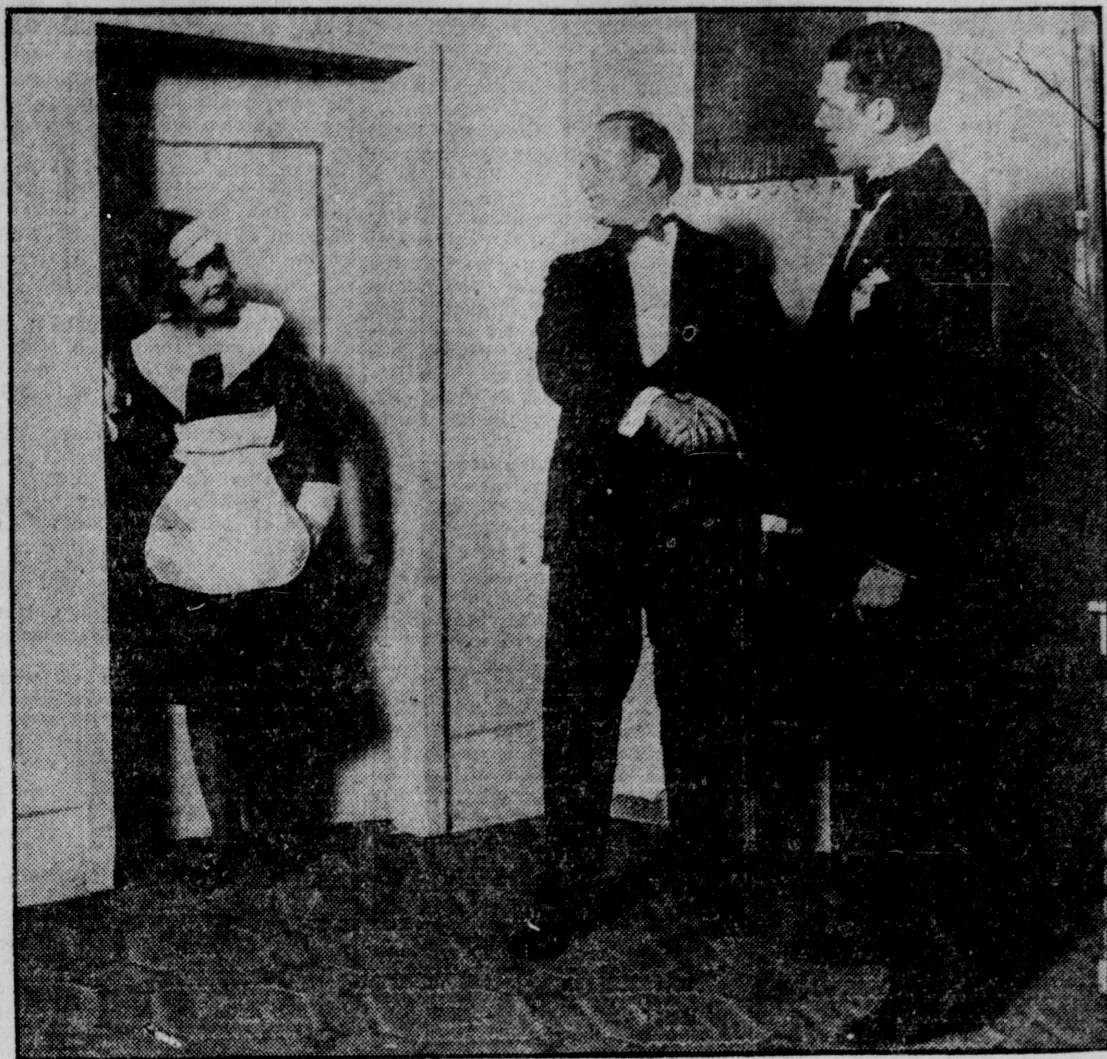

He is in the past and we are in the present. Who knows how soon we shall be where he is now? Only a few of us can rise to the heights of eloquence. God is sparing with his gifts of such design. It is futile for us to try to unlock our hearts concerning him when his eye is dim.

We knew him ever as a man. In death we honor him even more than in life, because he gave his life for the perpetuation of society in which each of us gathered here plays a part. Who can say but that some man or woman here this afternoon would not feel the breath of springtime on his cheek but for the deeds of our departed friend? Who can estimate the lives he has saved, the homes he has held together?

After the grave the mortal form is forever silent. But his

RIPPLING HUMOR AND PATHOS NOW AND THEN GIVES "YOU AND I" PLAY BALANCE

SANTA ANA IS RECOMMENDED AS HOME TOWN

How, through the instrumentality of a former governor general of the Philippine Islands, a wealthy Manila woman and her daughter, seeking a home in the United States following a prolonged stay in the islands, were induced to come to Santa Ana for that purpose was told today with the arrival here of Mrs. Helene Caswell and Miss Vera Caswell, of Manila. They are staying at St. Ann's Inn.

To Mrs. Caswell comes the distinction of being the only woman who operates a customs bonded warehouse. But three licenses are issued by the Philippine customs authorities for the operation of bonded warehouses and one of them is held by Mrs. Caswell. In addition to this business, Mrs. Caswell is interested in several commercial enterprises, including partnership in a large import firm and ownership of a hotel.

Mrs. Caswell and her daughter left Manila last September for Europe, via Suez. After touring Italy, France, Switzerland and the British Isles, they crossed the Atlantic and landed in New York. Here they met Newton W. Gilbert, former governor general of the Philippines, who advised them to look over Santa Ana before they decided upon any other place for their future home in the United States. While in this city, Mrs. Caswell and Miss Caswell have been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert, of this city. Mr. Gilbert is a brother of the former chief executive of the Philippines.

Curtain to Go Up at 8:15 On Latest Offering of Santa Ana Actors

The stage is set, the players are ready, and a number of Santa Anans are looking forward to being in the first night audience when the community play, "You and I," directed by George Gerwing, will be presented for the first time in Santa Ana. The curtain will rise at the Temple theater at 8:15 o'clock.

This production will have an unusual interest for people, as it has to do with the undeveloped desires of human beings. There is sparkling comedy and poignant pathos. The story is directly concerned with the life of Maitland White, played by James Duggan, who is a successful business man nearing middle age, with a desire to become an artist, which causes him much unhappiness. To the outside world it would seem that White would have everything to make him happy, however, as he is blessed with a lovely wife, played by Mrs. Grace Zaiser, and two wonderful children, Ronny and Rickey, played by Miss Lavenia O'Toole and Emil Faust.

The antics of the children who are of college age add greatly to the joy of the plot.

Minor parts are taken by several newcomers to the Community Players and Director Gerwing has expressed himself as well pleased with their acting which compares favorably with that of such experienced, as Duggan and Mrs. Zaiser.

Reserved tickets may be purchased at the Santa Ana Book store. The play will also be given tomorrow night, Thursday night, and Friday night.

JACIANS TALK OF BOAT TRIP TO SAN DIEGO

An excursion to San Diego by means of a specially chartered boat was discussed by directors of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting yesterday, with the result that a committee was appointed to confer with a similar committee of the senior division to agree on plans for the marine junket.

Under plans outlined by Flake Smith, chairman of the special committee, the excursion would be made on a steamer from Newport Beach and would include a banquet at San Diego in connection with the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a radio program over station KFSD, in the southern city, supplied by the Santa Ana municipal band and solo artists.

On the way down dancing and deck sports would be enjoyed, Smith said. The boat would lay over at San Diego and the return trip would be made the next day. Owners of yachts at Newport Beach and Balboa would be requested to make a special event of the day and join in the festivities at San Diego in the evening.

The directors voted to invite the business women of the city and the wives of members to attend the joint meeting with the senior division the evening of April 25 at St. Ann's Inn, at which Dr. Paul Ivey, a noted expert on salesmanship, will be the speaker.

E. E. Northland was asked to arrange a joint meeting with the Santa Ana Air club at which meeting a nationally known authority on aviation will be the speaker. Plans were also discussed for the meeting of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce which is to be held in Santa Ana April 23. Delegates from junior chambers in Long Beach, Los Angeles, San Diego, Turlock, Modesto and the entire board of directors of the Santa Ana organization will attend. Mason Yould, former president of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber, is president of the state organization.

120 LADS LEARNING TO SWIM AT Y.M.C.A.

The free swimming lesson campaign for boys made a big start yesterday at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. when 120 of 125 boys who had registered, went into the pool for their first lesson in swimming.

All those who are unable to swim are assigned to the earlier classes. But Physical Director R. R. Ruskick arranged a special extra class just before noon to take care of those who could swim a little and who wish to improve their stroke and style. More than 40 boys took advantage of this opportunity to improve their swimming style.

The classes, omitted today on account of its being "ladies' day" at the "Y," will be resumed tomorrow, for the balance of the week. Next week, the boys from all parts of the county, except the Santa Ana district, will have their chance at swimming lessons under supervision of Ruskick and his assistants. Reservations are being accepted at the Y. M. C. A. offices this week for next week's free swimming course, which are open to all boys between the ages of 10 and 18, it was explained by the "Y" officials.

LET CONTRACT FOR PAVEMENT AND LIGHTING ON SOUTH MAIN

Griffith Company Is Lowest
Of Five Firms Bidding
For Construction Award

$127,711.08 TO BE EXPENDED

Gas Company and City Water Department to Begin
Laying New Pipes Soon

Awarding to the Griffith company the contract for repaving of South Main street from First to Edinger streets, and installation of an ornamental lighting system for the same distance, the city council last night virtually concluded its participation in a series of movements that will result in conversion of Santa Ana's "rocky road to Dublin" to a smooth surfaced highway.

Five contracting firms submitted figures on the job, and the Griffith company secured the award on its bid of $127,711.08 for the ornamental lighting system and the paving work. The figures of the successful bidder were $3000 less than the next lowest bidder and $1000 less than costs estimated by City Engineer Clyde Jenkins.

The bid of the Griffith company was 26 cents a square foot for 8-inch pavement and 18 cents for 5-inch work, as specifications provide for pavement of both thicknesses. Figures on the ornamental system were $40,000.

Meeting the demands of the council that the work be prosecuted with diligence and with all haste consistent with good work, the contracting company obligated itself to the working of two shifts of eight hours each, and to complete the pouring of concrete within 70 days after the work of stripping the street is started. The company has ten days in which to sign the contract and 15 days in which to start work after the contract is signed. A curing period of 15 days will be provided in the contract. The customary period is 21 days.

Start by April 22

It is anticipated that the contracting company will start operations by April 22, which means completion of the job around August 1. In order to facilitate the work, it is expected the Southern Counties Gas company will at once start installation of new mains on the street, the improvement starting in advance of stripping work by the Griffith company. The water department also is prepared to make new installations on the street without delay. The laying of both pipe lines will be dispatched with haste so as not to delay the paving.

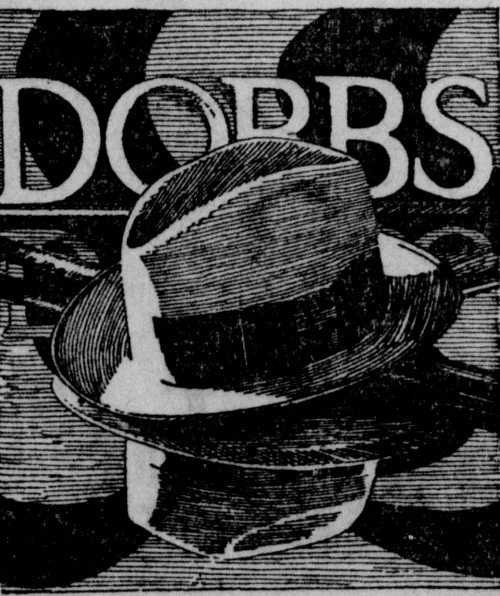

The council decided to proceed with the work over the written protest of G. G. Latimer, candidate from the third ward for the council, who urged delay until the city has definitely decided how it is going to dispose of its storm waters.

On motion of Stanley Goods, the communication was placed "on file in the waste basket."

Latimer's communication follows:

"May I suggest, please, that, for the time being, no further action be taken toward letting the contract for the paving of South Main street because of the following ex-

LET CONTRACT FOR PAVEMENT ON SOUTH MAIN

Extremely important reasons:

"The disposition of the city's storm waters has become of lively interest and the city engineer, per press reports, has given some time to the study of this far-reaching subject; perhaps, the important one confronting the city today.

"Personally, I have no ideas, now, of what should be the permanent policy of the city in handling (or not handling) its storm waters. I believe the city engineer should submit sufficient facts about the matter so that the people, generally, could understand it. When this understanding has been acquired, then let it be decided if the storm waters are going to find their way promiscuously to the ocean, or if the city, as a whole, shall build storm drains.

Against Paving Now

"This question is one of extreme importance bearing upon the future of the city. What do the people want that future to be?
Nearly every day, so many obvious mistakes in city building are encountered, we exclaim "why didn't they—fools think of that?"

"The point I make is this:
South Main street should not be paved this year (it won't be paved in time to do travel any good this summer, nor the merchants) and then some time during the next few years be one-half destroyed to install a storm drain and one-half rebuilt. I realize this is generally the way a city is built—upside down first—but isn't it about time more intelligence was shown?

"If there is ever to be a storm drain on South Main street, that drain should be installed before 10 inches of concrete is put down.
There's no patching concrete, and why go to all that useless trouble and expense?

"Let's meet the storm water question in a sensible way and decide it in an intelligent way. To delay the paving of South Main street is of no importance. The decision, some time soon, about the disposition of the storm waters is of great importance.

"Let's not spend all this money to make South Main a nice street and then set a lot of Mexicans to tearing it up because "the fools didn't think about that."

With city trash collectors continuing to find mail deposited in trash cans on the street, the city council last night instructed City Attorney Charles D. Swanner to communicate with the Outdoor Advertising company and ask the company to repaint the containers in colors different from those adopted by the postoffice department for mail boxes. The company also will be requested to paint the word "trash" on the lids of the containers.

A resolution was adopted declaring weeds on vacant lots a nuisance and a fire menace. The resolution prepares the way for forcing the cleaning up of lots on which weeds are growing. If the property owners do not do the work, the city will have it done and the costs will be added to tax bills.

The city engineer was directed to have repairs made in the sidewalk at the corner of Sixth and Spurgeon streets, the condition of the walk having been brought to the attention of the council in a communication from W. F. Lutz.

Contracts were awarded to the National Cast Iron Pipe company for supplying the city with water pipe on its bid of $9153.75 to Layne and Bowler for furnishing a deep well pump for the North Bristol street water plant, on its bid of $1600, and to Fairbanks and Morse, for furnishing a booster pump, on their bid of $2303.

With no protests being made, a resolution of intention was adopted for the paving of East Washington avenue, from the Santa Fe tracks east to Grand avenue.

At suggestion of R. F. Goudey, sanitary engineer of the state board of health, a resolution was adopted approving Assembly Bill
No. 633, which provides an appropriation of $60,000 for experimental work for sewage and industrial waste disposal under direction of the state board of health.

GIRL SPEEDER GETS FIVE DAY SENTENCE

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour, near Irvine station, on March 14, Miss Josephine Hogan, 27, 2718 West Fifteenth street, Los Angeles, was sentenced to serve five days in

IN COMING PICTURE

West Coast-Walker Theater
Features Leatherneck
Film Tomorrow

The thunder of big guns, desperate battles in sun-baked plains; laugh after laugh at Uncle Sam's fighters, prankish boys under the brass buttons, initiate a newcomer —and a vivid lesson in what the Marine corps can do for the youth of America—these are parts of the wonderful stories which will be unrolled at the West Coast-Walker in "Tell It To The Marines," the big screen feature picture opening tomorrow.

The film has comedy galore; excitement that reaches a frantic pitch and romance as sweet as violets—all woven into a gigantic tale of adventure.

The government co-operated with the studio to portray life in the Marine corps successfully in the film—hence mighty scenes aboard battleships and the view of a great battle fleet, its guns roaring in grim battle practice. Hundreds of grim-faced regular marines in a huge battle on Chinese plains, and other striking scenes are in this film.

Lon Chaney, creator of weird characters, weaves an even greater illusion than these, as the crusty, hard-boiled Marine sergeant, ruling his company with a rod of iron. One might well imagine him just stepped from the ranks; he does not play a Marine fighter—he literally is one.

William Haines is a frolicsome boy as the recruit—but a real fighting man when his sweetheart is in danger and his country needs him—typical of the youths of the great service. Eleanor Boardman makes a beautiful heroine and Carmel Myers is a creature of exotic charm as the South Sea vamp. Maurice Kalns, Frank Currier and Mitchell Lewis are also in the cast.

Fanchon and Marco's spectacular Aerial Ballet "Idea," heralding a new series of marvelous stage presentations pleased a large audience at the West Coast-Walker theater again last night.

Twenty girls, selected from a group of hundreds of finished aerial artists, do their ballet suspended in mid-air. It is something new, novel and spectacular.

However, far surpassing in beauty the aerial ballet is the third "episode" of ballets depicting times 20 years ago, 10 years ago and the present day. The costumes in the present day "episode" are gorgeous and a delight to the eye.

Joan Knox, the girl with three voices, has a delightful voice whether she sings soprano, contralto or lyric soprano. She is ably assisted and supported by talented dancers and singers.

On the screen is "The Wrong Mr. Wright," one of the year's funniest comedies which features
Enid Bennett, Jean Hersholt, Walter Hiers and Dorothy Devore.
"The Wrong Mr. Wright" was adapted from the screen from the stage play of the same name, declared by critics to be one of the laughiest farces over to reach Broadway.

GRAND CENTRAL TO HAVE BEAUTY SHOP

Mrs. Nellie Woods and Mrs. Ella

the Grand Central Beauty Shoppe, and will open for business tomorrow morning, according to their announcement.

The women were engaged in the same line of business in Kansas City for a number of years and are experienced operators, both being registered in Missouri, where a law requires registration by all persons engaged in the beauty shop business.

"Santa Ana appears to be a pros-

Mrs. Woods said.

BACHELORS TO TAKE IN 5 NEW MEMBERS

Five candidates for bachelorhood will be initiated into the Santa schean followers tomorrow night, according to Henrik Van Rensselcollege youths are to meet at the campus at 6 o'clock for their regu-

The five candidates are Bone-

Initiation stunts are being planned by Milton Chaffee, chairman of the initiation committee. A visit to a haunted house near San-way theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

The man who conceived the advertising slogan, "No metal can touch you," as applicable to garters, couldn't have had Gertie's garter in mind.

For Gertie's garter was of metal in its entirety—solid gold in fact.
Its original purchaser thought it was a bracelet—and it is because of his mistake that the story of "Getting Gertie's Garter," a new comedy, starring Marie Prevost, swings along at a highly hilarious pace. The picture comes to the Yost Broadway theater tonight.

Charles Ray, in the male lead opposite Miss Prevost, anxious to purchase a fitting engagement gift for his wife-to-be, buys what he believes to be a beautiful bracelet.
It strikes his fancy and after its purchase he has his picture placed in a little frame which graces the dainty ringlet and gives the combination to his fiancée.

Later, as in the case of many engagements, the two disagree, and Ray finds himself confronted with the embarrassing situation of having his former sweetheart wearing a hosiery accessory which conspicuously flaunts his photograph.

Ray's frantic chase after Gertie's elusive garter furnishes laughs galore throughout this screamingly humorous screen version of Avery Hopwood's stage farce.

Prominent in the cast are Del
Henderson, Harry Myers, Sally
Rand, William Orlamond, Franklin
Pangborn, Fritz Ridgeway and Lila Leslie.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL TO BE FORMED

plained by the chairman, will in turn elect representatives to the council.

According to the constitution, the membership of the council shall be made up as follows: (1) The pastors of all co-operating churches;
(2) the Sunday school superintendents of all co-operating churches;
(3) one lay member from each cooperating church, who shall be elected by the official body of that church; (4) all directors of religious education employed by local churches; (5) two representatives of the federated Parent-Teacher associations, which representatives shall be elected by said organization; (6) the city superintendent of schools shall be invited to become a member of the council; (7) not less than three nor more than four prominent citizens of the city of Santa Ana may be invited to become members at large; (8) the general secretaries of the Y. M. C.
A. and Y. W. C. A. shall be invited to become members; (9) the council, at its option, may appoint an expert in religious education as an advisory member.
This expert may be either a resident or a non-resident of the city.

The constitution states that the term of office for all members shall be one year. The election to take place at the regular meeting in November.

Provisions are made for the following officers: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and such other officers as may be desired by the council. The officers shall be elected annually by ballot at the regular meeting in the month of January. In addition to the regular officers, the council shall elect from its membership an executive board of not less than five nor more than nine members.

The closing paragraph of the constitution provides for affiliation with the State Council of Religious Education of California.

Among those who voiced their approval of the proposed organization were City Superintendent Cranston, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Supremacy Memorial
M. E. church, South; the Rev. R.
H. Silverthorn, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Dr. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the Superintendent Cranston told the

FOUR AUTOISTS FACE TERM IN COUNTY JAIL

At least four motorists arrested over the week end on speeding charges, face a term in the Orange county jail, after they got a hearing before Justice Kenneth Morrison next Friday.

D. R. Foreman, 3870 1-2 Southwestern avenue, Los Angeles, faces a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour and reckless driving. He was arrested by C. J. Cain, state traffic officer near El Toro. According to the officers, Foreman was speeding in a heavy fog.

Pat Roach, 210 Lucia avenue,
Redondo, was arrested by State Officer Cain on the Irvine boulevard. Roach received a ticket charging him with speeding 58 miles an hour.

Charged with speeding 54 miles an hour, F. J. Adams, 603 Berando avenue, Los Angeles, was cited to appear here Friday.

James De Torres, 1975 Beach-wood avenue, Los Angeles, received a ticket charging him with speeding 53 miles an hour.

C. OF C. MEMBERS TO VISIT PLANT

Directors of the senior and junior divisions of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today had completed plans for a group visit to the manufacturing plant of the California Wire and Cable company at Orange Thursday afternoon.

The group will depart from the chamber of commerce building here at 10:30 a. m., and at noon will be luncheon guests of the management of the Orange enterprise.

Pointing out that the local men are keenly interested in any successful enterprise operating in the county, Clyde Downing, president, said today that the visit is being made as a manifestation by the directors of their interest in the manufacturing concern.

"The Orange company has developed into one of the big manufacturing concerns of the west, and Santa Ana is just as proud of its success as is Orange," the chamber president commented.

SANTA ANA FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS

S. A. JEWS WILL PARTICIPATE IN BEACH MEETING

Santa Anas, who are members of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, will take part in the Pacific coast, or district, convention of the order, to be held in Long Beach June 26, 27 and 28.

The lodge is making preparations to care for 4000 delegates and already many interesting plans for the entertaining of the members have been made. It is expected that one of the best representations will be from the Seattle lodge, which is under the jurisdiction of this district.

According to Isaac Sukman, president of the Long Beach organization, some of the most notable Jews of America will be present to address the delegates. Representatives of the Long Beach city council and chamber of commerce also will address the convention, welcoming it to Long Beach. It is expected that Gov. C. C. Young will attend the opening session.

Attorney Harry L. Cohn is in charge of the convention arrangements and Revan D. Komaroff has been appointed convention secretary. Long Beach members are hoping to duplicate the success of the convention held last year in Seattle.

The Independent Order of B'nai B'rith is a benevolent organization, international in scope and activity.

MATRONS, PATRONS RECEPTION GUESTS

Several worthy matrons and worthy patrons from this county were guests Thursday night at a reception given in Los Angeles in honor of Havel Marsh Piper, worthy grand matron, and Raymond Griset, worthy grand patron of the order of the Eastern Star.

More than 129 chapters were represented at the reception, at which there were more than 2500 guests. Guests from Orange county included Mrs. Nona Cloyes, worthy matron of Hermosa chapter; E. T. Mateer, worthy patron of Hermosa chapter; Mrs. Doris Smith, worthy matron, and Lucien Flippen, worthy patron, of Orange chapter; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Isbel, worthy matron and worthy patron of Buena Park chapter; George Harvagt, worthy patron of the Anaheim chapter; Mrs. Amelia Prather, worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, and Mrs. David Wettlin, district deputy grand matron, and Mr. Wettlin.

Delegates Named By Odd Fellows

The past grands, elected Thursday night as delegates to the convention of Odd Fellows, to be held in Sacramento May 10, included Charles B. Kellogg, Almer Erickson, George Peters, R. B. Cook, Edward F. Waser, J. E. Livsey, Roy K. Bishop and C. D. Henderson. Plans regarding the session of the grand lodge were discussed.

ROOSEVELT

Children's Poems

In completing a hygiene project in the high fourth and low fifth grades at Roosevelt school, the following verses were written by members of the class.

Brush your teeth every day,
Then you'll find they won't decay;
Then your mother won't have to pay
A dollar or so to the dentist some day.

Frances Was.

There is a little twinkie,
Who runs about to say
To all the little children,
"Eat fruit every day."

S. A. Native Sons Announce Change In Meeting Place

Members of Santa Ana parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, have changed their meeting place from the Knights of Pythias hall, on East Fourth street, to the Getty hall, East Fourth and Porter streets. The first meeting to be held in the new hall will be at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

At tonight's meeting of the Native Daughters, members will decide whether or not to change their meeting place to Getty hall.

DE MOLAY WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR INITIATION

Preparations will be made for initiating new candidates into the Santa Ana chapter, Order of De Molay, at the meeting to be held at 7:30 Thursday night in the Masonic temple, according to Jack Taylor, master counsellor.

Two degrees of the initiation are to be given, it was disclosed. The initiatory and the De Molay degrees will be conferred. The new class will be taken in at the next special meeting, Thursday, April 21.

Parts in the degrees will be assigned the members of the chapter at the meeting Thursday. The degree work is under the charge of Charles Searls, senior counsellor.

As a special service activity, a group of De Molay boys will serve the banquet for the White Shrine lodge tomorrow night, in the Masonic temple.

HUNDREDS PAY TRIBUTE TO HURD

rest Excalibur. My comrades, my friends, I give you my perpetual memory.

Tribute Paid

The Rev. Seitter again spoke. He dwelt upon the sunny disposition of Lauren Hurd; his kindness, his honesty, his understanding and broad sympathy for human nature, as demonstrated in his dealings with violators of the law who fell into his hands. In this connection, the minister took occasion to pay a tribute to what he termed the "new type of officer being developed."

Speaking directly to the officers before him, the Rev. Seitter told them he was glad to see that the old, "hard-boiled" type of officer, who treated erring humans with harsh and hard words, was passing out, to be replaced by the modern ideal of what a peace officer should be. Lauren Hurd, he said, was one of the best of the new type of officer. The minister hoped, too, he said, that society would grow to appreciate the service that the new type of officer is performing, daily taking his life in his hand to protect the public.

"Children, who used to fear the officers, now love them," he said. Lamenting the untimely loss of so brilliant an example of the modern officer, the speaker, referring to a scriptural passage: "The sun had gone down while it was still day," said: "So it was with Lauren Hurd. While the sun was still climbing toward its zenith, he was slipping out of this life."

But he gave his hearers a comforting thought with the reading of a poem by James Whitcomb Riley, who wrote of his departed friend: "He is not dead; just away."

Again, at the conclusion of the service, came the compelling voice of the Rev. Hughes, singing "The Homeland." When he finished, the 300 men and women in the chapel and outside, filed along the aisle and past the casket to bid a silent farewell to the calm-faced youth there.

Guard of Honor

Outside the chapel, a great guard of honor awaited the start for Central Memorial park, near Westminster, where "Pat" was laid at rest. This guard assembled the largest group of officers ever gathered at one spot in the county. Fifteen motorcycles spread far and wide ahead of the funeral cortege.

The start for the cemetery was made after Officers Vernon Barnhill, Ernest Sawyer, George Peterkin, George Stinson, Floyd Yoder and Ray Bradford, as bearers, had performed their service at the chapel. A long procession then moved forward on the eight-mile journey to the cemetery. Two huge motor busses rumbled

MRS. PETERS HOST AT MEET OF REBEKAHS

The hospitable home of Mrs. Hattie Peters, 110 West First street, was the meeting place, Friday afternoon, for members of the Veteran Rebekahs. In honor of the occasion, Mrs. Peters had filled her home with a variety of spring flowers, chief among which were several baskets of beautiful wild flowers.

At a short business meeting, plans were discussed for the special entertainment, to be held by the organization sometime in May. A committee, headed by Mrs. Peters, was appointed to make final arrangements. Other members of the committee include Mrs. Kate Rinsched, Mrs. Louise Leslie, Mrs. Laura Marcher and Mrs. Alida Putman.

One application for membership was received and will be voted upon at the next meeting.

A feature of the afternoon's entertainment was the punchboard. By this method, various stunts were assigned to the guests, who were supposed to do as they were directed.

Refreshments, in keeping with the spring motif, were served by the hostess.

Guests included Mrs. Kate Clark, Mrs. Mary Hubbard, Mrs. Clara Wedgewood, Mrs. Anna Miles, Mrs. Harriet Noble, Mrs. Frances Brooks, Mrs. Esther Gardner, Mrs. Lulu Davis, Mrs. Mary Shaw Hoff, Mrs. Zetta Murray, Mrs. Rose Morrison, Mrs. Flora M. Pyle, Mrs. Sarah Harris, Mrs. Laura Marcher, Mrs. Della Anderson, Mrs. Lydia Phipps, Mrs. Agnes Collum, Mrs. Lovisa Leslie, Mrs. Kate Rinsched, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Lottie Morgan, Mrs. Martha Ritchey, Mrs. Josephine Hilde, Mrs. Alida Putman, Mrs. Sarah House and Mrs. Hattie Cameron.

War Mothers To Organize In S. A.

The state president of the American War Mothers, Mrs. Isabella Richards, of Long Beach, will be at St. Ann's Inn at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of establishing a branch of that order in Santa Ana. All mothers, whose sons or daughters were connected in any way with the army or navy during the World war, are specially invited to be present at the meeting, according to Mrs. Richards. Other state officers also will be present.

Man Jailed On Assault Charge

William Davis, 45, who resides at West Fifth street and the Garden Grove road, is being held in the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

He was arrested today by Deputy Sheriffs Howard and Carter, after a complaint had been made at the sheriff's office by the man's wife.

Davis will probably be given a hearing in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court tomorrow, it was said.

American spaghetti eaters consume an average of five pounds per capita each year. Formerly Italy supplied us with spaghetti and macaroni, but now 99 per cent of what we eat is made in the United States.

The world over, there is one motor car for every 71 persons. The ratio in the United States is 1 to 6, while in Afghanistan there is a but one motor car to each 1,200,000 inhabitants.

Most traffic violators in Chicago are rushed to a safety school for a lecture on proper driving instead of being taken to police court.

along another route with their loads of flowers.

A moment later, the roar of motors descended faintly from aloft and five planes were seen winging their way westward above the procession. The flyers, it was learned, were Eddie Martin, Robert Lufberry, George Larnard, Hadley Hershey and Joy O. York. At the cemetery they circled above the grave and dropped a shower of garlands to the green.

Special Offer To Victims of Indigestion

All Druggists Say Pleasant To Take, Elixir Must Help Poor Distressed Stomachs or Money Refunded.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness from poor digestion or dyspepsia that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.

You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done.

Just one tablespoonful of Dore's Mentha Pepsin and speedily the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have them at all? Especially when any druggist anywhere guarantees Dore's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant elixir, to help you or money back—Adv.

Wyley Carlyle Is Honored By Poly Students

B football team last year, he acquired that name, given to him by his pal, Clarence Siddoway, after formed.

Red Grange's football picture was shown in Santa Ana. Siddoway was named "Red" after the two season heroes.

This year Carlyle is a junior. He intends to go out for the varsity football team next season. At present he is active in student affairs besides participating in track. He was nominated for an office in the Boys' Federation, now being formed.

Spring Tints

(Copyright 1927)

Gaily colored frocks this Spring! Underthings in soft shades to match. Tint them in ordinary water—but with true dyes. Dipping will do it—in ordinary cold water—but you must have real dye to get a smooth, perfectly even tone.

Diamond dye powder is fifteen cents at any drugstore; so why do half a job with something not half so effective? And when you want the tint to be permanent, just dip in boiling water instead of cold!

The druggist has color cards and simple directions for doing perfect dyeing of all sorts of material; silk or wool; linen, cotton goods; mixed goods, or any goods at all; and exquisite tinting of dainty things. Or, send for a marvelous book of suggestions in full colors. Ask for Color Craft! Address DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N31, Burlington, Vermont.

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

JULIA LATHROP

The art department at Lathrop is looking toward a very busy two weeks which is the amount of time allotted them for the Orange County Schools Poster contest.

Mrs. Smith of the Lathrop art department announces that the following organizations have asked for posters to assist them in their work: P. T. A. asks for posters to emphasize handicapped children, child welfare, kindness to animals and playground; Federated clubs of Orange county have asked for posters on the care of trees, fire prevention, value of trees to the future generations; The American Humane Society has asked for posters emphasizing the ideals of any humane society; The Orange County fair wants posters with the subject, "Orange County Fair, September 6, 1927," and the Boy Scouts would like posters for the Boy Scout jamboree at the county fair. These organizations are all offering very worth-while prizes and Lathrop hopes that some of her students will win them.

Opera Plans
Runners of the "best opera yet" have been substantiated by Miss Edith Cornell of the music department. Miss Cornell says that they hope to present the opera, "Bis O' Blarney" some time in May, probably about the second week. The cast has been selected with Harold Berry as "Mike" in the boy's lead and Dorothy O'Bar and Geneva Holmes as "Peggy" and "Mary" in the girl leads. Others who will take important parts in the cast are: Edwin Case as "Patrick"; Arnold Sheriff as "Robert"; Elaine Flanders as "Agnes"; Ruth Swanson as "Rosie"; and there will be an excellent girls' and boys' chorus. We hope that Lathrop's friends and patrons will remember the opera and reserve some time in May for the performance.

Class Work
Class work is proving interesting and quite intense in some instances as the end of the quarter draws near. Miss Nicholson's home class has organized and is holding regular business meetings on Fridays with a program. In this way new talent is discovered within the class. The keeping of notebooks and maps is also a part of the work. An interesting contest was held in Miss L. Thrasher's room on March 29, between the high nine civics classes. The first contest, which was over the governments of city, county and state, was won by the 6R class and the second contest was a tie. It proved to be good practice as well as very entertaining to those taking part in the work.

Sewing Classes
Miss Foster's sewing classes have finished their first problems of simple garments and are now well started on their second problem of underwear. The home making classes have an exhibit this week, miniature bed-rooms fitted out in every detail. The girls have shown a great deal of ingenuity and the results are most attractive. Tiny beds, bureaus, chairs, appointments for the dressing table, rag rugs, crisp window drapes, reading lamps are only a few of the appointments to be found in these clever representations of the ideal bedroom. In addition to these projects, notebooks are being worked out in connection with the home making plans. These girls whose work appears on exhibit are, Pearl Hadley, Margaret Foster, Mary Foster, Alberta Morit, Barbara Copeland and Carolyn Cushing.

Vacation Trips
The end of the first quarter of the second semester occurring last Friday was the beginning of the spring vacation which extends to April 10. Members of the Lathrop faculty are planning some interesting trips for the holidays. Miss Justice, Miss Bemis, the Misses Thrasher, Miss Henderson, Miss Foster, Mrs. Sinke and Miss Blythe plan to spend some time in San Diego.

Miss Bemis will go first to her home at Laguna Beach and from there to San Diego while the Misses Thrasher go first to San Diego and from there to the Painted Canyon and to Palm Springs. Miss Gordon and Miss Jones will be in Pasadena. Miss Reid in Bakersfield, Miss Carl in Pomona, Miss Swales at Balboa. Miss Nicholson to the Valley of the Moon, Miss Anderson to Los Angeles and the beach, Mr. Nelson to Imperial valley and Los Angeles and Mr. Scott to Los Angeles.

Young Musician
Lathrop is very proud to claim Everard Stovall, who won first place in the Eistedfodd contest, as one of her members.

Track Meet Honors
In a recent track meet with Willard, Lathrop came out victorious by a margin of ten points. Ralph Gordon distinguished himself in the senior relay coming in ahead of Willard by a few inches. It was an exciting meet and good work was done by both schools.

FRANCES WILLARD

Service Club
The weekly meeting of the Willard Service club was opened by the president. The minutes and roll call were read by the secretary. Mr. Kellogg gave a report on the radio. He said that it was still at the home of Elen Fride where it had been greatly appreciated. He then introduced the speaker, the Rev. W. E. Edgin pastor of Richland Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

The Rev. Mr. Edgin declared that man had won many victories over mind and matter during the past decade. As examples he cited the automobile, electric light and power, radio, etc. In order to show that man can "do the impossible" if he only has the mind to do so, he cut a piece of paper 4 inches by 6 inches in such a way that a boy could put through the paper without touching it.

4a's Enjoy Picnic
Very enjoyable indeed was the picnic to which the 4a class section was so kindly invited by Mrs. Hyler on Saturday, March 26. After assembling at her home we drove to Orange county park where the varied program of the day took place, hiking, tennis, indoor, baseball, boating and last but not least refreshments. Everyone took a prominent part in the day's activities.

Welfare Club
The last meeting of the Willard Welfare club was held on March 31. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved the by-laws were read and adopted article by article. It was decided to postpone the candy sale until after vacation.

Two new members were introduced, Florine Pollock and Rosiland Shilling, whom we are very happy to have with us.

—Lillian Hurwitz.

Palm Springs Trip
Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, five cars of Frances Willard teachers started on a trip to Palm Canyon. They camped at Eucalyptus Grove, near Banning, that evening. Saturday morning they arose in time to see the sunrise on the desert. While on the trip 33 different varieties of desert flowers were found, which were on exhibit at school for a week.

Towards noon, the party arrived at Palm Canyon, hiked a few miles up the canyon, and found a cool spot to eat. After lunch the party separated, some going on to Indio and then returning to Santa Ana that evening, others returning to Eucalyptus Grove to spend another cool night. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Kellogg, Miss Nelle Clingan, Miss Lillian Fitz, Miss Anita Summers, Miss Esther Boose, Mrs. Norma Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Archer and daughter, Joy, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Worden.

Wild Flower Exhibit
Mr. Kellogg arranged and classified about thirty different variety of wild flowers which the faculty gathered from the Colorado desert. All the flowers were classified and labeled with the scientific name and the flower family to which it belonged. The flowers were gathered last week when the faculty went on the Palm Spring expedition. They have attracted considerable attention with the pupils and many outsiders.

Exhibition of Work
Mr. Smith had charge of the exhibit case the last two days of the week. It was an exhibit of the manual training work of the boys of the adjustment class.

Pop Rally
Last Tuesday a special assembly was called for the purpose of giving track monograms to the boys who have won special mention in athletics for the school. Fine school spirit was displayed in this rally. Monograms were given to the following boys on the midwest track team: John Frisby, Rene Regla, Hansen, DeWille and Arthur Wilde. The juniors receiving monograms were Frank Musselman, Delbert Harter, Hideo Higashi, and Willy Holtzkecht. The intermediates were Lindley, Paul Jacques, Max Wilson, Burdette Heintz, Asa Herren, and Jack Granger. The seniors were Vincent Cox, Robert Beaver, McDougall, Norman Paul and Ernest Smith.

Willard Posture Week
During the past week the Willard pupils made a special effort to improve their regular posture by uniting in a Good Posture contest. On Monday each pupil was given a red tag to be worn the whole week if the posture was correct. The teachers were instructed to correct posture on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday but on Thursday and Friday they took away the tags from those pupils who were not in good posture in the class room or on the grounds. We hope that the emphasis placed on posture last week will improve the posture the rest of the year.

Honor Scholarship Society
Mrs. Thatcher emphasized that much credit is always due the people who can make exceptionally good records along scholastic lines. Physical skill seems to take the lead too often but surely the person deserves much more who has a broader purpose in his school activities than to excel in athletics.

Two gold pins were awarded during the special assembly period to girls who have been on the Honor James. These girls have attained were Mary Mater and Leona society for five semesters. They are an exceptional record and it was with much pleasure that the entire student body gave them hearty cheers for their achievement. The other students on the honor society were: Leona James, Mary Mater, Mabel Wilson, Ora Engle, Lois Read, Nobuko Hadawaki, Gene Hall, Louise Rurup, Barbara Rurup, Ethel Ellis, Lillian Hurwitz, Betty Hawk, Esther Vogt, George Munroe, Ruth Jenkins, Carmela Italino and Louise Bach.

PARENT TEACHERS

John Muir
The regular meeting of the John Muir P. T. A. was called to order by the president, Mrs. Wentworth, at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, March 23. This was the meeting due in April but because the April date came during spring vacation the meeting was held a week in advance.

The meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer, singing of "America" and saluting the flag. It was voted to buy a silk flag and standard for the auditorium of the school to take the place of the small one now in use. The members also voted to buy 24 trays for the school kitchen.

New officers for next year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Eddy; first vice president, Mrs. Dahl; second vice president, Mrs. Hickey; treasurer, Mrs. Whitling; secretary, Mrs. Cleary; corresponding secretary and historian, Mrs. Eads; parliamentarian, Mrs. Wentworth.

The entertainment of the afternoon was rendered by third grade children and consisted of piano numbers by Annie Womack, Marvella Galbreath and Milford Dahl. Grace Adams sang "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," very sweetly to top off the children's program. Mrs. Eddy gave a talk on "Health Training" that was very interesting as well as educational.

McKinley
The members of the McKinley P. T. A. attended the latest meeting, held Thursday, March 31, enjoying one of the best meetings of that organization. It opened by all repeating the Lord's prayer and giving the flag salute.

Judge Kenneth Morrison gave an interesting and very instructive talk on the nature of offenses and the conditions in his office. The different traffic offenses were discussed at length. Pointing out the danger of carelessness, Judge Morrison used several incidents, which have just happened recently, as examples.

He also talked on the liquor question and the crime wave, how such a high average of young people are brought to his court and how the parents should give their children the proper church training above all other things, in order to make the right kind of men and women of their boys and girls.

At the next meeting will be election of officers, a nominating committee was appointed and will have two candidates for each office. Those appointed were Miss Potts, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Helne, Mrs. Tom Lacey, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Lester Slabach.

Mrs. Walter Edkins was appointed chairman of the pre-school work for the remainder of this term. Mrs. Corn was asked by Mrs. Preble, president, to look for a curtain for the stage of the kindergarten room. The question of having a curtain was brought up at a previous meeting and it met with approval that something should be done to raise the money for one. A candy sale was held at the high school recently and a nestegg of $12 was made for the fund.

The P. T. A. is sponsoring a picture show at the Yost Spurgeon theater on Thursday, April 7. It is hoped that enough will be netted from this event to make our dream come true. Everyone is asked to attend, whether a member of the McKinley P. T. A. or not.

Mrs. Preble told of her attendance at the Mission Play as one of the guests of John Stevens McGowan when he recently entertained members of Southern California Parent-Teachers association. Plans for taking groups of children to see the play will be discussed later.

The P. T. A. song was sung and the meeting was adjourned and tea was served by Mrs. Lester Slabach and her committee.

FRANKLIN

Temperance Booklets
Franklin school pupils have been working on Temperance booklets. We have in the booklets the harm of alcohol in liquor, two arithmetic problems, Rule G of the railroad, a letter to some Australian friends, and a map showing the states that had prohibition before the 18th amendment.

The five best ones from each grade chosen to be judged for a prize were: Sixth grade, Patricia McClure, Billy Brady, Grace Jenkins, Elizabeth Sturtevant, Jennie Fitzgerald; Fifth, Frances Fellebrook, Virginia Grihyalvi, Marian Stroup, Beulah Engel, Frances Crother.

Grace Jenkins. Picture Show
Last Wednesday afternoon the Franklin school had a picture show. Most of the school attended the show. The name of the picture was "Heide" by Johanne Spyri.

The Franklin school was supposed to make $15 and made $16.70. This money is to be used to purchase a picture machine.

Patricia Elaine McClure. Poster Contest
The boys and girls of Franklin school are working hard for a prize. The prizes are as follows: Framed picture for the school, a tree or shrub to be given to each school entering the contest. Each school is to select its best poster to send for the county exhibit. The people who make this poster are to have the honor of assisting at the tree planting.

Cash prizes are, subscriptions to the Humane Society Magazine, and certificates of merit.

Virginia Sawdey. Girls' Track Meet
The first girls track meet ever held at Franklin was much enjoyed. The winners in the 50 yard dash, Nellie Stratton; 50 yard dash, Myrtle Thacker; far throw, Nellie Stratton; running broad jump, Myrtle Thacker; running broad jump, second, Eula Hull; high jump, Jennie Fitzgerald; high jump, second, Jeanette Roby; relay, Jennie Fitzgerald, Geraldine Campbell, Faydel Harrison, Marion Stroup.

Skating, Nellie Stratton, second, Helen Meeker. Winners of monograms, (10 points), Nellie Stratton and Myrtle Thacker.

Lois Hunting. Spurgeon-Franklin Game
A lively game of indoor baseball was played on Spurgeons field. During the first half of the game the teams were well matched but the final score was 17-10 in Franklin's favor.

High jump, Alfred Eberth, J. R. Nugent, Owen Fernandez, Ivan Williams; running broad jump, 1. Sherman Nugent; 2. Ray O'Campo; running broad jump, 1. Alfred Eberth, 2. Ivan Williams.

Pole vault, 1. John Montano; 2. Rollo Sudduth; relay, Robert Weekley; Ray O'Campo; Glenn Taylor, Sherman Nugent, Long run, 1. Sherman Nugent; 2. John Montano. Winners of monograms, Sherman Nugent, 20 points; John Montano, 10 points; J. R. Nugent, 10 points; Manuel Aguayo, 10 points; Owen Fernandez, 10 points; Alfred Eberth, 10 points.

A good many visitors were present. We especially appreciated Mr. Cranston's presence.

John Montano.

JOHN MUIR

The kindergarten class of John Muir school enjoyed a soap bubble party that was given to them by Mrs. George Ketscher and Mrs. Herman Reuter. Lovely refreshments of home-made cup cakes and eggs were served with their milk. The children were all allowed to keep their pipes, and pipes were sent to children who were absent because of sickness so they could enjoy them during vacation, too.

TIRES AT LOWEST PRICES
Guaranteed, rebuilt cords, 30x3 1/2, $4.50; 31x4, $6.00; 32x4, $7.00; 34x 4 1/2, $9.50. All other sizes in stock. Gerwing, 312 N. Broadway. New cords, 30x3 1/2, $6.85 and $7.25.

Wanted
Five Executives
For A New
Real Estate Mortgage Company
To Be Known As
The Santa Ana Funding Company

THE diagram below shows the formation of a proposed company, with each executive self-interested in success.
The right man will appreciate this chart and the company's possibilities. This personnel, when properly organized, should divide an annual profit in excess of 50 per cent of the total capitalization.
This is your opportunity to be in business for yourself as part of a complete organization, dividing overhead expense and sharing volume profits.
The company will start with an existing good will, no debts, a fully-paid-in capital of $100,000 and a million dollar opportunity. The company will have an immediate outlet through the parent company for all mortgages made, assuring it a rapid turnover of its capital at all times.

No organization expense—no commissions or brokerage will be charged to or deducted from the capitalization. When the doors are opened for business, the total capital will be intact and the earning of dividends will commence at once.

There Will Be No Promotion or Bonus Shares
Working Chart $100,000 Corporation

Salaries for active executives will be arranged in accordance with good business rules. If the right men can be gathered together by this method, an organization will be formed that will not only be locally successful but will be a link in an organization that will be national in scope within five years.
All letters will be held in strict confidence; take time and tell your story thoroughly, state qualifications fully, including age, experience, present position, past earnings and references.
Your letter will be immediately acknowledged, outlining in detail the operation and personnel of the parent company. Later, an appointment will be arranged so that the particulars can be discussed and all questions answered.

THE ONLY OCCASION OF ITS KIND—A STRICTLY QUALITY-TIRE MERCHANDISING EVENT

TUESDAY
8 A.M.

Our 2nd Annual TRADE-IN SALE

COME
DAY —
IN THE WEEK

A triple-saving combination, in a class by itself in this industry and without parallel in any line of trade.

The extraordinary combination of tire quality at its topmost peak and prices the lowest in fifteen years.

And in addition—our full trade-in allowance on your old tires!

Values Beyond Compare

Including Everything in General's Complete Line

Five different types and styles of Generals to equip your Ford or Chevrolet, and in addition the balloon and regular low-pressure cords in all sizes for all cars, all in our sweeping trade-in for every car owner.

WE PLACED advance orders in November to make sure of ample stocks for this event with tire prices the lowest ever known in fifteen years. NOW is the time to buy your tires, BEFORE THE SPRING RUSH! In passing on the benefits during this Trade-in Sale, our one desire is to create hundreds of new customers and friends for this store.

We have determined to outdo even the remarkable record that was made in 1926 when we introduced our first Trade-in Sale in celebration of General's policy of never tampering with quality.

Today, with General's quality leadership more outstanding than ever before, we want more car owners by the hundreds to realize the greatest tire values of the industry, to get acquainted with the tire that will hold their good-will for life by sheer merit of unmatched mileage and long-run economy—and in addition the extraordinary saving through cashing in the full value of their old tires now during this event with the price of new Generals at its lowest.

Now is the time to equip your car for the year—come early, bring your car—we will make it pay you to start the spring season right by rolling away on Generals.

General's latest achievement in ultra fine tire building. A striking example of the most advanced engineering in the tire industry. The ideal tire equipment for all fine cars, such as Cadillac, Lincoln and Packard. A combination that is in keeping with the highest standards of design and craftsmanship in today's fine cars.

A complete assembly, including the tire, the moulded tube and the rubber flap, in a unit of super-efficient size and quality to replace 33x6.75 tires on 5-inch rims.

Our "proper sizing" takes care of the greatly increased starting power and acceleration in newest model cars of all makes. We can add thousands of miles through our engineering knowledge and special lines and types for replacing your tire equipment. You will profit by trading in for Generals now whether your tires are brand new or just a little bit worn.

Trade in Your Tires Regardless of Make or Condition!

No matter what brand of tires you are now running, or how much or little they have been used, it will pay you to attend this sale and trade them in. Remember, it is the last few thousand miles in your old rubber that cause trouble. Avoid worry and road delays. Don't take chances of spoiling good clothes by out-of-the-way tire changing.

Be prepared to enjoy uninterrupted service on new rubber. Let General's low pressure protect your car investment. Know the true meaning of tire comfort. The gasoline economy alone will pay dividends on your Generals.

Open a Charge Account

If you have an account in the leading stores, we offer you the same convenience, and this applies on tires purchased during the Trade-in Sale. . . . Just tell us to "charge it."

Open Evenings
During This Sale

—better buy Generals NOW than buy and buy

The used tires go on sale as fast as we take them in. A tremendous assortment of bargains to select from.

GOOD-WILL is an asset slow to build, but once settled on the solid foundation of public confidence it becomes an incentive to progress and an obligation too great to ignore.

That is why the original idea on which General was founded has become more and more a conviction.

It is the reason there is no temptation great enough, no exigency sufficient to turn this Company from its course, its steadfast policy of never tampering with quality.

It is the reason that in a brief period of ten years General has gained its outstanding position in car-owner preference and quality leadership in the industry. Today, when car owners have a watchful eye on quality, General stands out among tire values—fortified by a known policy and a record of service that has proved its ultimate economy to millions by giving almost unbelievable mileage.

Says

SHREVEPORT, La., April 5.—The fate of the Chicago White Sox in the American league race will be more or less determined by a pair of toll-worn hands and two barking dogs.

Which is baseball slang for the part that Ray Schalk and Roger Peckinpaugh play in the chances of the White Sox to get somewhere in the pennant race.

Already the tragedy of Johnny Mostil hangs heavy over the Chicago players. The more recent injury to one of Ray Schalk's fingers has tended to increase the gloom. Will Peckinpaugh be next to fall a victim to hard luck?

Probably the two most important positions on a ball club are catcher and shortstop. These are the positions played by Ray Schalk and Roger Peckinpaugh. How many games will they be able to perform during the season? There's the rub as far as the Sox are concerned.

Adds to Efficiency

As he is one of the smartest catchers that ever donned a mask, it means much to the Chicago club to have Schalk in there regularly. It is fairly conservative to say, with him doing the receiving, the club is 15 to 20 per cent more efficient. That's considerable.

Fifteen years of service in the majors, in which he has caught 100 or more games 12 times, has excited his toll, not of Schalk's legs, but his hands. Schalk's hands have suffered more than a score of breaks. Age and injuries have tended to make them a trifle brittle.

When Eddie Collins took charge of the Chicago club in 1925, he stressed to me the importance Schalk's condition would play in the success of the club. The year previous he had been out most of the season with bad hands, catching only 57 games.

Schalk Staged Comeback
Schalk did a remarkable comeback during the first year of Collins' regime as manager, participating in 125 games. He helped make the White Sox a sensation that year, the big surprise of the American league.

How many games can Catcher Ray Schalk work for Manager Ray Collins? It may mean the difference between a most auspicious debut or just an ordinary one as manager. The injury suffered in the spring training game doesn't augur well.

Peckinpaugh's dogs, or to be more polite, feet, have been barking for several years. No doubt bad legs caused Washington to part with him. Peck is going along in great style this spring, seems more spry than usual. He believes the Chicago grounds, noted for being slow because of its peculiar soil formation, will help him.

Many Woes for New Pilot
If the Mostil tragedy, Schalk's brittle hands and Peck's barking dogs are not enough woe for a new manager, just add the passing of Eddie Collins, premier second sacker, to make the picture complete.

I am inclined to think the veteran Aaron Ward, obtained from the Yankees, will satisfactorily fill the gap made by the absence of Collins.

However, it cannot be said that Schalk's debut as a major league leader has been a path of roses. On the contrary, it has been a road filled with obstacles, each one a major handicap, sure to test the mettle of a manager to the limit. Through it all, Ray appears to have retained his optimism.

The Chicago White Sox are a right good ball club, almost sure to get excellent pitching. When Schalk took over the job as pilot it looked as if he was in a pretty soft spot. Things have happened since, if Schalk can survive these early season reverses and keep the morale of the club up to standard, he's a wonder.

BREEDING, SANTA ANA MILE RUNNING ACE, TO FACE FAST
COMPETITION IN BIG MEETS

That Harold Breeding, Santa Ana high school's sensational miler, will have to be at his best to score victories in the Southern California Interscholastic track meet at the Los Angeles Coliseum April 30, and in the California State meet early in May was disclosed during the past week by the remarkable performances that were turned in by other four-lap negotiators in competition.

Earl Callahan, of Manual Arts, and Allen Storm, Hollywood captain, are likely to be Breeding's foremost opponents although the crack Santa Anan also will have to watch such competent runners as Julius Hirschmann, of Jefferson; Martinez, of Chino; Serrano, of Corona; Don Hall, of Long Beach, and Haworth, of Los Angeles.

Breeding already has defeated both Martinez and Serrano but he was "taken" by Hall early in the year, the Long Beach sophomore beating him to the wire by a foot in 4 minutes, 44 seconds. This was the Poly ace's first real race of the year, and he was in no condition to go the route in such time. He will get a chance to even scores with Hall next Saturday in the Coast Preparatory league classic at Glendale.

Storm and Callahan loom as Breeding's most serious rivals. Hall is a capable campaigner, as his consistent efforts this year denote, but wise followers of the cinder-path activity, believe he hasn't the experience or the speed yet to win from the tall Santa Anan when Breeding is in shape, as he is now. Callahan and Storm, however, are birds of other colors. They both are veterans at this running game and they have beaten 4:40 time after time. In the Manual Arts-Hollywood dual meet last Friday, they ran to a tie in 4:35.2. Breeding has bettered this three times. He was clocked in 4:29 in the Southern Counties meet at Huntington Beach, in 4:32 in the dual meet with Alhambra and 4:33 in the dual affair with Glendale.

The Callahan-Storm race was easily the classic of the dual meet between the two city schools. For two laps, Storms plucked along in the lead. Then, knowing that he had to pile a lead to withstand the Foothiller's terrific last minute rush, Callahan swept ahead at the end of the third lap and was loping along eight yards to the good at the start of the "gun lap." Storms steadily ate up the ground along the back stretch, and the two runners entered the home straightaway fighting it out stride for stride. The two youngsters hit the tape a tangle of purple, crimson and white, and the judges called the finish a dead heat.

The Chicago White Sox are a right good ball club, almost sure to get excellent pitching. When Schalk took over the job as pilot it looked as if he was in a pretty soft spot. Things have happened since, if Schalk can survive these early season reverses and keep the morale of the club up to standard, he's a wonder.

Entries
Close Friday

What Santa Ana Country club officials believe will be one of the most interesting tournaments of the year is scheduled for the local links Sunday afternoon when leading men and women players will play in mixed foursomes.

Entries, which close Friday night, should be made at once, Art Rigby, club pro, said. Rigby may be reached by telephone at the club.

FIELDS WINS FROM
MANDELL ON POINTS

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Sammy Mandell's lightweight crown was somewhat dented today, due to the repeated volleys it received last night when Jackie Fields outscored the champion in a 12-round no-decision bout at Wrigley field.

The battle, probably the fastest lightweight encounter seen in a Southern ring since the inception of legalized boxing, kept the crowd of 5000 fans on edge throughout the going.

Fields demonstrated a class that will undoubtedly land him a title go in the near future, and those who saw him in action last night are convinced that he can shed the surplus weight that he carried without imperiling his chances.

Fields won six rounds, Mandell four, with two even.

Rhem Agrees to
St. Louis Terms

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 5.—Flint Rhem, last holdout of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, has agreed to terms and reported to the champions yesterday. President Sam Breadon refused to discuss the salary agreement.

THELMA PATTON AND FOUST TO PLAY AT OJAI

Miss Thelma Patton, of the Santa Ana junior college, one of Santa Ana's leading feminine tennis players, will represent the Santa Ana junior chamber of commerce at the Ojai tournament, beginning April 17. The board of directors of the junior chamber yesterday voted sufficient funds to defray her expenses and entry fee.

Miss Patton will enter the singles competition and pair up with a leading Los Angeles woman player in the doubles. Last year she was successful through four rounds of the tournament and believes that she can go even further this spring.

"I am playing the best tennis of my net career right now," she told officers of the junior chamber of commerce, "and I am determined to put up the hardest sort of battle for the championship at Ojai."

Emil Foust, also of the junior college, will enter the Ojai net conclave. John Cross, captain of the junior chamber of commerce tennis squad, will not be able to enter the competition this year.

Foust and Miss Patton may team in the mixed doubles, if things go well, it was said.

Here are the two greatest "kid" golfing prospects in age—Virginia Van Wie, 17 years old, and Dorothy Page, 18 years old—and the story of their rise and development furnishes every golfer desiring to improve his game plenty table d'hop for thought.

One represents a system of mimicry, parallel to Bobby Jones' imitating stylists, stroke by stroke. The other represents a less imaginative system, contrasted to Bobby Jones—daily technical instruction, a dissecting of every part of the swing.

"Ginny" Van Wie has been going great guns this spring in Florida. She smashed the Ormond Beach course record and then waltzed over to St. Augustine and made Glenna Collett's mark look like something the kitty lugged home.

She shot a brilliant 38-39-77 to top the medal in the east coast championship. Her card at Ormond stands 41-38-79.

Won Tourney at 14.
Bobby Jones was only 14 when he went into his first tournament—and won it. Miss Van Wie was only 14 when she went into her first tournament—and won it. She put up a memorable extra hole battle when she was 16, bowling over Glenna at St. Augustine and starting the feminine golf world. All the Chicago youngsters' skill has been picked up imitating the big shots.

Dorothy Page's development is a contrast to Jones'. This little Madison, Wis., school girl is the women's western golf champion and she is still in her teens.

She acquired her game methodically, strenuously. Lessons each day from Professional Guy Martin built up a sound foundation. She can visualize every part of her technique of each stroke and has a thorough understanding of swing.

This is of greater value than imitative play for the first moments when one slumps and unless a complete understanding is there, it takes luck or a long grind to recover the winning stride.

Many Golfers today play instinctively but lack the technical help to jump into higher classes. Some, again, do not derive full benefit from lessons because they do not practice sufficiently to groove their swings, explains Glenna.

They may understand clearly in their conscious mind what they must do but they fail to practice enough to put their ideas into their swings so soundly that hitting the ball becomes a subconscious action.

CORSAIRS SURE TO FINISH HIGH
IN N. L. CHASE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 5.—Without doubt, the Pittsburgh Pirates were the biggest disappointment in the 1926 season and finished the greatest upset of farm in a year that had many surprises.

Several factors caused the collapse of a club that had won a world's championship and had youth and power behind it.

Injuries no doubt were responsible for the loss of many games, but it really was internal dissension that broke up the club, caused the owners to replace Bill McKeechie as manager by Donie Bush and to release several high class players.

Team Needs Bossing
The team last year had strength to do more than it did and Bush found a club that needed little treatment with the exception of a good bucking up and some strong bossing.

The infield is strong, the outfield is powerful on offense and defense and the batteries, while not the best in the league are first class.

"Pie" Traynor and Glenn Wright are perhaps the best left corner infield combination in the game. Traynor is at the top of his game and he still has youth. Wright is just getting into his prime.

Rhyme, at second base, ought to be better after one year of hard experience, but he may have to hustle to keep Joe Cronin, a youngster, from taking his job. Grantham, at first base, isn't a world beater but he's a hard hitter and a steady, capable fielder.

Youngsters Are Promising
The outfield is graced by two of the best youngsters in the business—"Kiki" Cuyler and Paul Waner, who took Max Carey's place in center field when the veteran captain was relieved. Cuyler didn't live up to his 1925 form last season. Waner is a coming star and gives promise of being one of the greatest of outfielders.

The club has a wide selection of pitchers in Aldridge, Bush, Cveengros, Kremer, Meadows, Yde, Sonner and Morrison.

The club will have to hustle for Bush and there will be no cliques or bench managers such as handicapped McKeechie. It is a good looking club and is certain to be a contender.

U. S. Swim Meet
Begins Tonight

CHICAGO, April 5.—Led by Johnny Weismuller, most brilliant of all short distance swimmers, the Illinois Athletic club today ruled a top-heavy favorite to win the National A. A. U. swimming championships which open tonight in the Chicago A. A. pool.

Weismuller's favorite event, the 100 yard free style swim, is listed among the three events on tonight's program. The others are the low springboard diving and the 300 yard medley relay.

EIGHT SCHOOLS WILL CLASH AT GLENDALE OVAL

Preliminaries in Sprints, Hurdles and 440 Stated For Friday Afternoon

As long as a magician like "Tex" Oliver is around to wave his wand over the Santa Ana high school track squad it isn't going to be the smartest move in the world to condemn his athletes to the dungeon.

Therefore, until the thing is all over, Santa Ana still has a chance to win premier honors in the annual Coast Preparatory league meet which will lure to Glendale Saturday afternoon the cream of all the track men from eight schools—Long Beach, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Santa Ana, Glendale, San Diego and Whittier.

Coach Oliver isn't deluding himself with any airy phantoms and he isn't kidding himself into any rash hopes but he believes the "know-alls" are only fooling themselves when they dope the league meet as a dual affair between Pasadena and Glendale with Santa Ana trailing in fourth place behind Long Beach. He thinks his men at least have a chance.

Preliminaries Friday
Preliminaries will be run off Friday afternoon in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes and the 120 yard high and 220 yard low hurdles, these being necessary because of the large number of entries. There will be no trial heats in the relay and no preliminaries of any kind in the field events.

Santa Ana athletes will indulge in daily practice this week despite the fact that it is spring vacation and most of the student body is dispersing itself on the sands of nearby beaches, cutting weeds around the family homestead or engaging in some such parentally-inclined activity.

Oliver has directed all members of his squad to report at Poly field daily at 2 p. m. Unlike the wise-aces, he figures his little band has an outside chance to take the league championship and he isn't going to let a thing like non-condition interfere with his opportunity.

Man Must Come Through
Furthermore of Santa Ana's ambitions depend entirely on whether its men come through to the very best of their ability, such as they did both in the Southern Counties meet at Huntington Beach and the big Invitational at Chaffey, meets in which Poly scored impressive victories.

If Bob Jacques and Johnny Moffatt can come through with leaps of 5 feet, 10 inches in the high jump, like they did at Alhambra last week, they should tie for first place whereas the smart guys haven't conceded the locals more than a third place in the bar-sealing department.

Manley Moffatt also is capable of a good performance in the event and if he can tag along with a 5:8. Poly would scare the daylight out of Glendale and Pasadena.

Something About Vaulters
Considerable weight also rests on the respective shoulders of Manley Moffatt and Roger Hearn in the pole vault and Smile Velarde in the broad jump. Malby, Long Beach, is a topheavy favorite to win the hammer throw. But Oliver hopes that either Moffatt or Hearn can climb high enough to grab "second money," and if Velarde can repeat the hop of 21 feet, 8 inches that he got off at Chaffey, Oliver's cut will be filled to overflowing because it will mean five points in an event in which other schools aren't even giving Santa Ana a tumble.

Santa Ana, of course, figures Harold Freedling to win the mile and Captain Harvey Bear to win the 220 and get no worse than third in the century to Slocum and Wyckoff, the remarkable 100-yard dash duo from Glendale.

Alonzo Triumphs
Over Bill Tilden

WASHINGTON, April 5.—When Manuel Alonzo, former Davis cup player, recently predicted that "Big Bill" Tilden would again reign supreme on the American tennis courts this year, the Spaniard apparently failed to take himself into consideration.

Alonzo last night defeated Tilden in a slap-bang five set indoor match attended by ambassadors. The scores were 4-6, 6-4, 7-9, 6-0 and 6-3.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST Jesus Draws Near to Jerusalem

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY
DR. WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
SKETCHES BY KROESEN

In Jerusalem, Jesus again cleanses the temple, overthrowing the tables of the money-changers and driving out those who bought and sold, saying, "My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves." (Matthew XXI: 12-13)

The chief priests and elders assailed Jesus as he taught in the temple, asking, "By what authority doest thou these things?" (Matthew XXI: 23-27)

To these hypocritical professors of religion Jesus said, "Verily, I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the Kingdom of God before you." (Matthew XXI: 31)

Likening the kingdom of heaven unto a marriage feast, Jesus compared those who failed to accept its privileges to the man discomfited and cast out because he had not on a wedding garment. (Matthew XXII: 2-14)

Relieves Piercing Pains of Neuritis

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to C. S. Kelley or some other good druggist and get a bottle of Allen's Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, those persistent, nerve aching pains that have caused you many sleepless nights.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in most forms of Neuritis and Sciatic Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshifts and at best can bring only partial relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allen's Special Formula No. 2—C. S. Kelley can supply you.—Adv.

Now, Margery Daw was very kind. The Tinkles knew she didn't mind if they rode on her see-saw board, and had a lot of fun. Said she, "I'll let the end drop and then you little Tinkles hop right on, and then I'll pull you up." No sooner said than done.

The whole bunch clamored on one end. Said Scouty, "Oh, the board will bend," as Margery also climbed aboard, and started swinging, too. "Well, maybe so," we Margery cried, "but we won't know until it's tried. However, I don't think that it will really break in two."

They found that Scouty was all wrong. The see-saw board was very strong, and though it bent a little bit, it didn't break in half. They'd bob right up, and quickly bound whenever the board would hit the ground. It really was a circus and they all began to laugh.

Just then they heard a distant bell, and Margery jumped and shouted, "Well, I'll have to run on homeward now. They're calling me to lunch. Just use my board, but don't get rough." Then Clowny said, "We've had enough." So off they traveled down the road, a very happy bunch.

Not far away they saw a lad, and Copy said, "My, he looks sad. Let's ask him what's the matter. Maybe we can help him out." They rushed right up and joined the boy. He seemed to greet them all with joy, and shortly he was telling them what his trouble was about. "Someone has thrown a cat I had down in this well. That's why I'm sad. I still can hear a meowing. Oh my, I wish I knew, if pussy still is safe and sound." Said Scouty, "Well, we'll look around, and you just stop your fussing. There is something we can do."

ANSWERED LETTERS

L. R. M.—Try the sulphur tonic to rid you of pimples and blackheads, since they come from the heavy diet of the winter months. Take four of sulphur and mix it with molasses to form a paste (no proportions are needed) and take a teaspoonful of this three times a day. Take for three days and then omit for three days, reversing this is a very old fashioned remedy and will usually clear the skin if the trouble is not of a serious nature.

Polly—An astringent made from white of egg would be too severe to use often than once a week, and it would not be necessary either. To make this astringent, take a small quantity of white of an egg—the amount that usually adheres to the shell after dropping out the egg, will be enough for once. Add six times as much water as egg, mix, and cover the face and throat with this, applying with small paint brush or finger tips. Relax, and leave the astringent on about 20 minutes to draw up the skin, before removing it with warm water. Follow this up with a massage of any nourishing cream or a fine vegetable oil. Close pores again with very cold water or an ice rub. This treatment corresponds to the professional ones and will improve any skin that is loose and sagged. On all other days, cold water or ice after cleansing the skin will be all that is necessary for keeping the skin taut.

Any oil on the lashes or brows will make them appear darker. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the hair tonic formula.

Blonde—Apparently you are too stout all over. At 18 years of age with height of five feet, two inches you should weigh about 110 pounds. Eat a little less of all the fattening foods, especially sweets and starches, and you will get rid of the ten pounds that are spoiling your appearance.

M. M. C.—Consult the doctor about your condition, as there is need of some kind of treatment, or you would not have a rash break out on your skin when you get overheated or excited. No doubt the rash is keeping you from being ill, so you should not object to that part of the discomfort. With an improvement of your health your skin will not be as dry as it is now; meantime, massage it every day with a good cream.

A. T.—The advice today to "Polish" will answer your inquiry about the egg astringent. When your lines under your eyes, the puffiness comes from poor functioning of some organ of elimination. Better consult the doctor if this continues. Be sure that you drink enough water every day, never less than six glasses over the 24 hours.

Tomorrow—Chest Development

FACING LIFE

Face the day and all it brings
Knowing that its tasks must end,
Waste no time in murmuring,
Brave what'er the gods may send.

Whether skies be blue or gray,
Whether fortune smile or frown,
Bear your burdens best you may,
Till the time to put them down.

Look at life with open eyes
Whether praise or blame is won
With the morning man must rise
Still to tasks which must be done.

Be not dazzled or deceived,
Long the way to reach the Goal,
What was yesterday achieved
Will be lost if now you fail.

Greater will your courage gleam
If from failures of the past
To the goal of which you dream
You shall force your way at last.

Steadfastly from day to day
Cling to what you know is best,
With a brave heart walk the way
Standing up to every test.

HAIR "SCULPTOR" HERE TO GLORIFY THE YANKEE BOB

Antoine at his "sculpture"

BY NINON
For NEA Service

"A different mode of hairdressing for every hour of the day." "Every bob suited to its wearer." These seem to be the main slogans of Monsieur Antoine, Paris sculptor—artist—barber, who has come to America to glorify, "refine and educate" the American bob.

"Would any woman of taste wear her tennis costume to the opera?" Antoine asked me rhetorically. "Of course not. And yet thousands of women wear their hair the same way for every hour of the day. They could easily change it."

"The hair is worn smoothly for the street, let us say. When Madame comes in she could fluff it up, put a curl here where there was none before, part it differently. So little trouble and such a difference! For evening a bandeau, or perhaps a tiara for formal wear. Or an elaborate head-dress that would lend beauty and dignity."

The costume and the occasion determine the type of head-dress, Antoine explained. And, of course, the type of individual whose hair is under advisement. For upon this point Antoine is insistent. The American bob should have a greater variety. Standardization may be all right for business, he said, but bobs! Ah! Nowhere on earth is individuality more needed. About seven years ago Antoine contrived the shingle bob, which eliminates the ugly, harsh back line and enhances the beauty of many a woman. He also has ideas about feminine beauty in general. He has evolved certain rules for make-up which he believes will bring dazzling beauty to women who follow them. Some of them he confided to me.

"Shade the eyes from above, darken them from below. Point the eyebrows. Rouge the cheeks only, carefully graduating the tint towards the ears. Choose your powder to match your natural tint. Dark powders give a sophisticated expression and emphasize the eyes."

In rouging the lips, exaggerate the more perfect one, diminish the other. Wear much make-up for evening! Next to none for sports. Outdoors, hardly touch the lips but brush the eyebrows well."

But of course hair is his specialty. He sees women as so many pieces of architecture and says harmony of the bob with the face, the character and build of its wearer is imperative.

"The very idea of the same cut for everyone is preposterous," he exclaimed. "How could old, young, slender, stout, all have the same bob suit them? Hair must be molded to the head. I do not cut or dress hair, I sculpture it. Only by suiting the style of dress to the occasion and the type of cut to the wearer can real beauty be attained."

Perils of Childhood

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

THE WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

"Effie wore cheap finery because the girls she knew did. Her clothing was tight. She had not the faintest idea that she and thousands of others were wearing revelatory garments and extravagant rouge as an obscure but profound reaction to war. It was the female's instinctive attempt to meet excessive competition in a world suddenly decimated of males. Effie did not know that every great war had been followed by an epidemic of cosmetics—that after the Thirty Years' War the women of Europe had gone mad for rouge."

Effie is heroine in a book called "Speak to the Earth," by Sarah Comstock. It's a rarely good book, too. It's a poignant story of human suffering. But it's a suffering from too stark, too bare, too lonely living, in refreshing contrast to the so-many books that tell of human suffering because of too—complex, too—littered, too-crowded living.

THE FLAPPER DID IT!

Continuing the same line of thought quoted above regarding Effie's clothing, dry goods merchants of America say that the flapper has completely revolutionized their business. They lament that they no longer sell corsets, petticoats, hairpins, cotton stockings, hair nets, brassieres, and wash cloths. But it's a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. For the drug stores and toilet counters in department stores report a quadruple business within 10 years. I believe there's something in that Effie quote.

GIRLS ARE DYING

Being on the subject of girls, a welfare worker says that because girls fail to become adjusted to their changed economic status, they are dying off like flies. The frail girl who could survive when she just lived on at home, helping with the housework until she was married, can not survive in the business world. Until there are more jobs for fathers, and until such jobs pay a little more, a girl who tried staying at home, would find herself starving to death in short order. Most girls work from necessity, not choice.

CO-EDS MEND SOCKS

Here's one to chew on for the person who opines that college "won't teach a girl anything she needs to know." Miss Marian Myers, the 20-year-old co-ed who robbed a bank, is doing the prison mending. If she had not gone to college she might be scrubbing the prison floors. Now, please, don't spoil my train of thought by wondering if college taught her to rob banks, too. I'm sure they're not including bank-robbing in even the best college curricula!

VI AND I

We seem to be on the girl subject today. Continuing it—I lunched with Violet Fleming, the actress, this noon and Vi (I don't call her that to her face) told me how she sassed a press agent who wanted her to fry an egg so he could take her picture for the papers. "Now I can fry an egg very well," said lovely Vi. "But I resented the implication that the world insisted I fry eggs before it would like me. Why couldn't I have a picture taken of me at my dressing table or learning a new role or something that had to do with my job?"

And we both grew quite philosophical together as we discussed this funny world that makes a woman do two jobs or just one job, as long as the one job is kitchen work, but simply will not permit her to do the one job of anything outside the kitchen. Miss Fleming decided that women themselves keep up this role because they are all unconsciously, or subconsciously, selling themselves as "good wives" to some real or imagined man. Guess she's right!

Certain Alpine roses have been discovered to be responsible for poisoning honey in Asia Minor and parts of the Balkans. The honey does not kill, but will render a person unconscious.

Queer Quirks of NATURE

A PLAIN DIRT FARMER

By ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n.

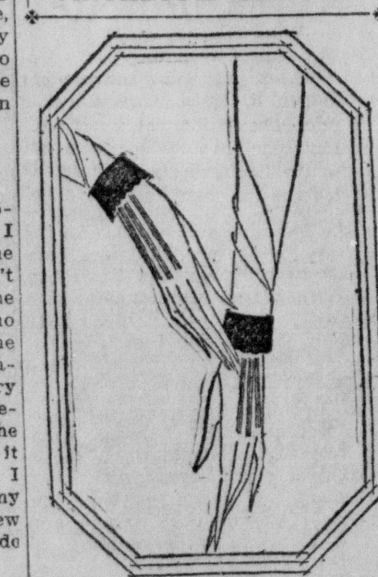

No thoughts of relief measures in the way of legislation trouble the head of this little farmer, who is not a "drum bunny" as he looks.

He just goes quietly about his business and does his haying in season, although where he farms it is not so easy a matter to lay in supplies to last all through the long, hard winter, for he lives way up above the timber line on the high mountains of the west.

So near the color of the rocks among which he dwells is he, that only sharp eyes detect this pretty little animal. The rock slides are his home, and in a country where snow covers his home for many months he must gather a harvest and insure a food supply, for he does not sleep the long winter days away.

In August he gets busy—it is haying time in Conyland. Out in the grassy meadows he may be seen at work, just a little rabbit-like creature about the size of a guinea pig. He nips off the grass and other herbage and bundles it up and carries it back to the rocks.

VATERLAND SAILS ON

NEW YORK, April 5.—The schooner "Vaterland," sailing around the world to exhibit German industrial products and develop commercial good will, has sailed from New York after returning an American flag captured during the war. Count Felix von Luckner, commander of the schooner, was captain of the raider "Sea Eagle," an American vessel that was seized by the Germans.

Brooder coal at Newcom's.

Here he spreads it out on the rocks to cure.

When he decides that the hay is ready to store away he stacks it up in regular little haystacks in the shelter of the rocks. If some accident happens and his hay becomes dampened, he spreads it out again and dries it. Stacks of hay as large as a bushel basket have been found that these industrious little farmers have stacked away.

In this hay thirty different varieties of flowers and grasses were counted. Perhaps Cony's taste is for a dried daisy blossom dessert one day, and a red clover blossom the next.

GIRLS LEAGUE HAS 'HI-JINKS' AT TUSTIN H. S.

By LOUISE PROCTOR
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—The juniors and seniors in the garbs of doctors, lawyers, farmers, collegians, little boys and big boys were seen escorting their respective dates, sophomores and freshmen of all sizes and shapes, to the first Girl's League hi-jinks held this year, Friday evening, March 25.

A grand march was staged in which all couples took part. The blushing maiden was seen prancing by the side of a very collegiately dressed gentleman or an old woman was seen dragging a rather hen-pecked looking individual at her side.

As one of the features of the evening, the crowd was divided into seven groups. Each group was to represent something. There was anything from a Ford to a mock wedding. After that exciting diversion everyone was in need of a little refreshment; so a punch bowl was provided.

What might be called a variety program was the main feature of the evening. A pantomime called "The Municipal Davenport" was acted out by Marion Marsh, as the boy, and Demaris Sears as the girl. Ruth Tantlinger offered a selection from the famous "nize baby" stories. Rachel Hawkins entertained with a few jazz selections on her ukulele. A group of chorus girls consisting of Mary Jean Silver, Charlotte Browne, Barbara Isch, Julie Bingham and Marion Marsh did the Charleston and the Black Bottom. Charlotte Browne and Barbara Isch as the collegians sang many popular hits. Virginia Viau gave the progress of jazz, beginning with "The Sheik of Araby" and ending with "The Doll Dance."

HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER

Time has seen the overthrow of a great many established principles, customs, and morals, but through all the revolution of ideas, moral codes, etc., there has always been one law, whether written or otherwise, that is universally obeyed: "Honor thy father and mother." Nations have made laws enforcing paternal and maternal reverence. People look up to the institution as an inviolable law, it has grown out of our natural love for our parents and its accompanying respect.

Being conscious of our debt to our parents makes it seem a privilege to abide by that law of which I have spoken. Perhaps, if some of us thought of all the favors our fathers and mothers have lavished upon us instead of the small inconveniences we are frequently put to, we would begin to realize more fully the gratitude we owe them.

Mother's day and Father's day are witnesses to the fact that America has stood by the principle that God set forth in the fifth commandment. Let us never find ourselves in such a position as to say that the principle of reverence for one's parents has died out in our country or is even on the wane. We are the ones to keep alive that spirit. Let us do it.

ANSWER TO CRIME QUESTION

I believe that it is possible for the United States government, through the voters, to correct the conditions responsible for crime. There are three classifications of criminals: the defective, or "born" criminal, and the single offender. The defective or "born" criminal, is one whose tendency to crime is a hereditary defect. Northern Italy, about a century ago, had a problem much worse than ours. Fully 60 per cent of the population were criminals. A law was passed and enforced segregating the irresponsible cases, and prohibiting the marriage of criminals with sane persons. Now the condition has almost passed, and those who are criminals are nearly all old. It is a very necessary thing for the United States to do something of this kind, as there are 200,000 feeble-minded persons in the United States, nine-tenths of whom are at large, free to reproduce their kind (and very prone to interbreed because feeble-minded are seldom sought as legitimate mates by persons of normal mentality).

The number of feeble-minded is apparently increasing much more rapidly than the general population. From these feeble-minded come some 40 per cent of our female vagrants, and one-fourth of our criminals. In ancient Athens, the feeble-minded were killed by the state as a serious menace. Some of the states of the United States have laws regarding the freedom of these people, but it is far from being nation-wide. Morons can never be trained to exercise judgment in critical situations but they can be taught routine work. They usually enjoy it if they are not

Vocations Are Study Topic Of Grove Seniors

By BESSIE GARDNER

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—Vocations are now being studied by members of the economics class at Garden Grove. The students in this class are all seniors, and as they graduate this year, each one of them is looking into the future and trying to decide what he wishes to do as his life work. The students have been working for several months on this subject, working out outlines that would fit any vocation, considering personal fitness, future possibilities of the work, compensation and other detailed parts.

After these had all been properly discussed, each student applied them to himself and tried to choose a vocation, in some field for which he was suited. A wide range of occupations have been covered, the following being some of the chosen vocations: four, kindergarten teaching; two, the study of electricity; three, stenography; two, beauty culture; two, interior decorating.

The following selections have been made by one student: Art teaching, Chiropractic, machinist, horticulture, story and poetry writing, general arts, farming, banking, home economics, radio engineer, private secretary, ministry, circus growing, costume designing, pharmacy, school teaching and advertising.

Each student is working up a talk on his chosen vocation and approximately four or five talks will be given each Friday at the All-American club meeting, which is composed of economics students.

Eight talks have already been given and were enjoyed a great deal by the members of the class.

worked too hard and are well treated. I believe that all feeble-minded should be kept in state asylums, and taught routine work if possible.

The habitual criminal is a normal person who has acquired the tendency to crime through environment. He is many times above the average in intellect and deliberation chooses crime as a career. He is the most dangerous of all criminals, and uses the defective criminal as a "cat's paw." To reduce the number of this type of criminal, the general family life must be bettered, which is not easy for the government to better, rather it is up to the individual. The government can, however, make divorce easier for people without children and harder for people with children. This would make a great difference in the number of criminals. In the year 1909, from the children in the 34 state reform schools, 29.6 per cent came from families in which there had been divorce or desertion; 33 per cent in which either father or mother were dead, and 38 per cent (including a few cases which overlapped the first two classes) came from homes demoralized by drink, vice or crime. In only a negligible per cent of the cases did these reform children have a normal family life. Family life to the adult criminal appears often to be a preventive to crime, as 65.6 per cent of all criminals in prisons are unmarried.

The single offender is a normal person who commits a single crime through some sudden stress or temptation, but who lives thereafter a law-abiding life. He should be dealt with leniently, and given a chance to follow his occupation in prison if possible.

The three different types of criminals need different corrective and preventive measures.

GROVE STUDENTS BUY MANY BOOKS

By GRACE JILES

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—One hundred and fifty annual tickets were sold, as the result of a most successful annual day. The owners of these tickets will receive their "Argonauts" on May 20.

Special art work will help to make this issue the best annual ever published at Garden Grove. The plates are being prepared under the direction of Miss Hoffman.

Students doing special work are Lucille Shackelford, Dorelda Kenworthy, Mildred Dunlap.

Mable Jones, a senior, will contribute a whole section, which is to be a surprise. Those interested in the annual are wondering and trying to guess what it will be.

Clarice Campbell, Mr. Doig's secretary, and popular senior, is writing the entire Argonaut from the material collected by other staff members.

Attractive stiff covers will feature the Argonaut this year. In previous issues the covers have not been durable. This change in cover is one of the reasons why the annuals will be $2 each instead of the usual $1.50. Annuals will be sold at the P. T. A. play on the night of May 20.

'Neophytes' Are Initiated Into G. G. Music Club

By SAM SASAHARA

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—Four persons were initiated at the Music club banquet held in the high school library last Wednesday night.

Before the banquet began, the initiates were requested by Elmer Ward, the initiating chairman, to take seats in the middle of the tables. During the banquet, they were ordered to perform for the old members.

A duet by Clarence Hapes and Overville King, accompanied by Agnita Wheeler at the piano, was the opening feature on the program. After this, talks were given by the neophytes on "Why Join the Music Club?" The talks caused much laughter and enjoyment. "The Prisoners Song" was then sung by Overville King, with Agnita Wheeler at the piano.

When the new members were served, all the old members gathered around to watch them eat. The new members were mystified because they suspected that there was some joke about the food. A knife was the only piece of silver with which they were allowed to eat.

Overville King, trying to taste water with his knife, suddenly dashed to the window, for some quinine had been added to his glass of water. Later the old members gathered around the piano and sang several songs so that the new members may have a chance to eat in peace.

Agnita Wheeler, one of the new members, read a take off on Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

At 8 o'clock, Elmer Ward requested all the girls to wash the dishes, while the boys straightened up the library. Eleanor Shell and Miss Abbey were the only members of cooking squad.

Following persons were initiated: Overville King, Bill Hewitt, Clarence Hapes and Agnita Wheeler. The Initiating Committee included Elmer Ward, chairman; Eleanor Shell, Rosemary Thomason and Elizabeth Lehnhardt.

By VIRGINIA VIAU

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—The portrayals of characters were declared by many to be the deciding factors in favor of those who won prizes in the sixth annual rube day held Friday, April 1. All four of the visiting parents and the faculty members as to the prize winning costumes, were made almost wholly because of the action of the "rubes."

Ada Teter, dressed in rompers, and bearing the title of "Eagle-brand Baby," won first prize, because, many say, her actions so suited the costume.

Margot Sangster carried off second prize laurels, being dressed as a minister. Among those deeds carried out by the "Reverend" Sangster were the learning of the Charleston and the "executing" of a mock wedding.

John Newman received the most votes for the boys, being dressed in the garb of a charming young miss. Visible evidence of "her" charm was shown when she was united in marriage to Thomas Smith, by "Reverend" Sangster.

Elmer Whisler, in the costume of a modest, elderly woman, received the second highest number of votes for the boys' contest.

Some of the other characters represented, aside from the usual type of rube, were, a skeleton, by Robert Danskin; a boy labeled "Destination Weepah," by Evelyn Rogers; a negro boy by James Parks; a Topsy, by Louise Griset; a Spanish belle, Elizabeth Roehms; a Dutch Cleanser, Marguerite Simmons; and an Arctic trapper, by Lowell Hamilton.

Two bus loads of grammar school students, and approximately 50 parents and friends were visitors on this occasion.

FULLERTON UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—Members of the second year French class have been very busy of late translating the speech delivered by Aristide Bland, premier of France, before the League of Nations when Germany was officially recognized as a member. The best of the translations will be sent to Washington to compete for the $100 cash prize.

Yvonne Irwin was elected president of the Fullerton high school Girl Reserves at the annual election of officers in which about 300 co-eds took part. Other officers were elected as follows: Cornelia Randall, vice president; Doris Redfern, secretary; Jean McCluskey, treasurer. Miss Nancy Elder, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., in Santa Ana, made a short talk on the duties of Girl Reserves. The next meeting will be held the first Tuesday after vacation.

A girls' orchestra has been formed at Fullerton high school and played for the first time Friday at the meeting of the Girls' League. The following are members of the orchestra: Harriet Freeman, Mabel Moll, Lois McMahan, Lenore Pierotti, Katherine Darr, Pearl Weber, Alda Day, Dorothy Montgomery, Edith Siebe, Helen Enos, Eleanor Cooper, Marceline Arroues and Ruth Montgomery.

Geoffrey Morgan will lecture at the assembly period April 7, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The Tri-Y will meet this evening at the home of Ruth Badgley.

The last edition of the Pleiades, the school weekly, was very much April foolish, so much so that some of the items were printed upside down.

'GYM' TEACHER MAKES TALK AT GROVE SCHOOL

By ELIZABETH LEHNHARDT

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—"Corrective Physical Education" was the topic of a talk given by Glen Lewis, head of the Fullerton physical education department.

He emphasized the fact that physical education is changing more rapidly than any other form of education. The reason for the change is the newness of the subject. In the time of the early Greeks they had athletics and games but had no interest in corrective gymnastics.

The need for individual remedial work is coming to the front. Large numbers of the school children of America today are subnormal in some respect. Very few people in the world are really absolutely normal.

Statistics show that a large percentage have irregularities of the feet. Eighty-four per cent of the men in the world were flat footed. These defects were overlooked in the examinations of the soldiers but were afterwards brought to light. In the University of Illinois, 50 per cent of the freshmen who entered the school in one year had foot troubles. Statistics show that 75 per cent of the youth of America has foot troubles.

In Harvard the freshmen of 1919 were examined and 84 per cent of them received poor or very poor in posture. Research work in 1924 showed that for 27 years the University of Michigan had 80 per cent of its students recorded as having poor or very poor posture.

Quoting Stafford, of the University of Illinois, Lewis stated that 17,000,000 of the people of America today have postural defects and 75 per cent of the population of the world profit by care. Mr. Lewis said the purpose of the necessity of individual physical work. Mr. Lewis showed some moving pictures of poor posture and bad feet, with exercise by which flat feet, bow legs and other troubles may be cured. Two students from Fullerton high demonstrated corrective exercises for postural defects.

ARGONAUT ARTISTS WIN TRACK BATTLE

By ART LEWIS

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—Winning eight firsts out of 29 events, the Argonaut track team won a dual meet with Downey last Tuesday, at Downey, scoring 53 1-2 points, while Downey union high grabbed 54 1-2 points. This is the second dual meet Garden Grove has won this year.

Ohmar Williams won the 440 dash and the 220 dash by a small margin, scoring high point man of the meet, while Brooks Stroud came in a close second, winning the high hurdles and second in the pole vault.

Marvin Dozier took the 880 run and Joe Ashworth hit the track for four laps with success. Marvin Ryan came from way behind and won the 100-yard dash, while three other boys tied for second, about two inches behind him.

Albert Messerall threw the shot for five points, helping out the Grove score. The track was in bad shape and poor records were made by both teams.

Anaheim High Harmony Class Organizes Club

By NELLIE SACKETT

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—The members of the harmony class at the Anaheim union high school have conceived the idea of forming a music appreciation club, or, as it has been named, the Harmonian club.

All students who have had harmony and received recommended grades are eligible for membership. As this is the latest club at the local high school, it has but 12 members. The club members are hoping that its purpose will be carried out in the following years, since only a few more meetings can be called before the close of school.

An election of officers was held at the first meeting. The following are those elected: president, Katherine Wilcox; vice president, Vincent Huard; secretary, Carrie Sharp of the music department is the adviser.

At the club constitution states it. The purpose of the organization is to further the appreciation and understanding of good music and to draw together those mutually interested in the art.

In the near future the members with their adviser, expect to attend some of the concerts which are now being given in Los Angeles.

Mother Colony News Notes

BY NELLIE SACKETT

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—The last edition of the Anoranco was a parents' edition. In this number notes were made of subjects in which the parents should be most interested. Copies were mailed to the parents of all students in the school.

A new teacher has been added to take the place of the domestic science teacher, who has been ill for some time. Mrs. Merriam Hill, a graduate of the University of California, at Los Angeles, has lately been chosen to fill this position.

The students and faculty were entertained last Monday and Tuesday in a pay assembly by the movie "The Pony Express." Part of the movie was shown Monday and it was finished Tuesday. The students enjoyed it very much.

These students who have written essays on the Constitution have been chosen to compete in a local contest. The contest was held third period Thursday. The judges were Mr. Claves, Mrs. Owens and Mr. Rinehart. The essay which took first place was entitled "The Living Constitution," by Arthur Groos, a junior at our high school. We wish Arthur great success in all the other contests. Others who took part in the try-outs were Cuba Carter, John Riner, George Shizekawa, Robert Jensen and Dorothy Harmon.

The members of the Girls Athletic association met in the gymnasium yesterday to discuss plans for the initiation of new members after the Easter vacation. There are 12 new members who are anxious to become active participants in the association. Those attending plan to play games and have refreshments served after the ceremony.

The senior girls who played on the hockey team this year are to be honored by a banquet next Monday. They won the championship in the interclass games. At the first game, it was decided that the losing team should treat the winning team with a banquet.

TUSTIN STUDENTS FACE BOOK REPORTS

By LOUISE PROCTOR

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—As compared with February, when the typewriting students were unable to win any awards, March yielded a "winning crop," for 12 awards were made.

They are as follows: Certificates (25 and 30 words per minute) Hazel Lee—30 words a minute; Julie Bingham—23 words a minute; Doris Messenger—43 words a minute; Thomas Crawford—46 words a minute; Marjorie Watkins—40 words a minute; Bertha Williams—40 words a minute; Kenneth Curt—44 words a minute; Cordelia Cole—55 words a minute; Doris Messenger—48 words a minute; Thomas Crawford—46 words a minute.

Silver Medal (50 words a minute); Frances Parks—51 words a minute; Cordelia Cole—55 words a minute.

Tustin Principal To Attend Meet

By LOUISE GRISET

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—"There will be both inspirational and technical speakers from all over the country," said Mr. Means, principal of Tustin high school, in speaking of the annual convention of California high and junior high school principals, which is to be held in Sacramento from April 11 to 15 this year.

Approximately 600 principals attend the convention each year. There will be several night sessions and one afternoon spent in sightseeing.

"Usually there are many representatives from various companies and people who try to sell all kinds of ideas to the principals," declared Mr. Means.

TUSTIN STUDENTS ARE FAST ON KEYS

By ROBERT DANSKIN

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—That the English teachers are uniting to make the already dreaded book reports more difficult seems to be the opinion of all freshmen, junior and senior English students. Miss Macomber is the only teacher who is still comparatively merciful.

Miss Held, in her freshman and senior classes, is having the students write the book report in class without the book, notes or anything. Only the ones who handed their reports in before the method was changed will be exempt, and these are few.

Miss McClurkin is having her English class read a book of essays, and then write an essay about the topics in the book. The requirements for the report are, however, similar to those of an essay, and she expects most reports to be in the form of essays.

Next quarter Miss Macomber is planning to have printed blanks to fill out.

MERIT SYSTEM EXPLAINED BY ANAHEIM GIRL

By LEONE NELSON

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 5.—Most high schools have adopted the "merit system." Each student begins every quarter with 100 merits. When an average of 95 or more merits is kept, it entitles the student to be graduated with the special mention of "Worthy Citizenship."

Any student having an average merit record of 90 or better for all semesters shall receive an additional quarter credit in citizenship. If a student keeps his merit record above 90 for a semester, the number of points above 90 may be added to any previous record. An additional ten merits may be attained by a perfect attendance record for a semester. A record of 50 or more merits entitles the student to college recommendation; it is necessary to keep a record of 30 or better each semester of the senior year. If a student's merit record falls below 70 during a semester, he shall be suspended and may not be reinstated unless so requested by his parents.

The highest number of demerits are given for stealing and smoking. From one to 25 demerits may be issued for other offenses. A few of the offenses are listed: tardiness, unexcused absence, cutting gym, assembly, study hall, section or classes, late library books, leaving school without permit, forgery, cheating, boisterous conduct, profane language, defacing school property.

It is not difficult to keep a fairly perfect merit record, if the student habitually demeans himself in an orderly manner.

Sophomore Girls Trim Pea Greens

By RUTH ANDRES

GARDEN GROVE, April 5.—Defeating the freshmen by a 28 to 9 score last Tuesday, the sophomore girls clinched the indoor interclass title. Captain Merle Smith and Audrey Teale starred for the sophomores by making four runs apiece. Those starting for the freshmen were Odessa Maxon and Ethel Rice.

Last Wednesday the senior girls forfeited a game to the sophomore girls. The junior-senior game was postponed on account of rain.

Freshmen—Thelma Whitsett, Gladys Darch, Estella Crowe, Odessa Maxson, Ethel Rice, Reba Feemster, Gladys Maxson, Orstell Long and Marie Marsh.

Sophomores—Ruth Ryan, Audra Le Flore, Marjorie Gedney, Audrey Teale, Betty Newson, Evelyn Parks, Merle Smith and Grace Lea.

Banish Gray Hair Forever

By Amazing New Photographic Process
Hair Specialist Discovers New, Quick, Safe Method to Restore Beauty and Color to Gray Hair

The original beauty and color of dull, faded, gray hair can now be developed to enhance your allure and fascination just as the hidden beauty in the lights, shadows and color tones of a photograph are developed to make it an art masterpiece.

Perfected by Eminent Hair Specialist

A new scientific process perfected by Prof. John H. Austin, over 40 years a hair and scalp specialist, makes this possible. It is a modern scientific advance over the crude chemical dyes and henna mixture used by the ancient Greeks to color their hair.

This remarkable discovery, Co-Lo Hair Restorer, is a clean, dainty colorless, odorless, harmless liquid, which is pleasing and simple to apply and may be conveniently used in the privacy of your own home.

Imparts Lustrous Color and New Beauty to Hair

Co-Lo is a natural beautifier for the hair, restoring the wonderful luster and full rich color in harmony with Nature. It banishes forever the sign of age and leaves no tell-tale trace. Co-Lo restores color to gray hair evenly, quickly, perfectly. It develops again the original shade, whether black, brown, blond or auburn.

Thousands Now Use It

Thousands of women who have used other preparations now use Co-Lo and tell their friends about this wonderful discovery. You, too, will be delighted with results. You will marvel at the gleam of color, life and luster which Co-Lo will impart to your hair. And you will see how securely Co-Lo protects the beauty of youth against the tell-tale signs of time.

Prof. John H. Austin, nationally-known hair and scalp specialist, who has devoted over 40 years to active practice and research.

For Every Natural Shade of Hair

Co-Lo can be had for every natural shade of hair. Each bottle carries the signature of Prof. John H. Austin, hair and scalp specialist, which assures you of perfect results. Any druggist will supply you. A6 for black and all dark shades of brown; A7 for jet black hair only; A8 for all medium brown shades; A9 for all light brown, drab and Auburn shades.

10 Co-Lo Secrets

1. Co-Lo is the formula of a nationally known hair specialist.
2. It is a clear liquid; dainty and easy to apply.
3. It acts quickly and safely.
4. Does not contain lead or sulphur.
5. It has no sediment.
6. Will not wash or rub off.
7. Will not injure hair or scalp.
8. Cannot be detected like ordinary hair tints and dyes.
9. Will not cause hair to split or break off.
10. Co-Lo can be had for every natural shade of hair.

Jack laughed. "I didn't suppose you'd want me, even as a substitute, after the way you ordered me off the field a while ago," he replied. "It was what you did that day that made me come to you now," confessed Winthrop. So Jack consented and began to practice with the Rocklake players. Like a waiting vulture, Snucks Cowl watched the polo players day after day from behind a distant building.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY

IMPROVEMENT OF CORONA DEL MAR PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Steps to improve Corona Del Mar were taken last night by city trustees. The improvements will include the planting of ornamental trees, construction of sidewalks and curbs along the coast boulevard and the installation of an ornamental street lighting system along the coast highway.

City Engineer Paul Kressly was authorized by the city trustees to employ a landscape architect to prepare plans and estimates regarding the planting of ornamental trees and shrubs in Corona Del Mar. It is proposed to pay for the improvements by forming an assessment district.

A petition was presented to the city trustees signed by Corona Del Mar residents asking that sidewalks and curbs and an ornamental street lighting system be placed along the coast highway through Corona Del Mar. The petition was referred to the committee of the whole for recommendation.

Citizens of the Corona Del Mar district also asked city trustees to erect electric illuminated signs along the coast highway informing the public of the identity of the district.

VOLUNTEER FIRE FORCE PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—A volunteer fire department is to be organized at a special meeting of interested persons at the fire hall in Balboa tonight, it was announced today by Frank Crocker, fire chief.

The new American La France pumper, recently purchased by the city, is being broken in and conditioned by C. F. Dickey, assistant chief and engine man.

It is expected that at least 12 volunteer firemen will appear at tonight's meeting. Regular meetings will be held in the future for practice and it is Crocker's intention to build up one of the best volunteer departments in Southern California.

Arrangements are being made to place the small engine owned by the city on Balboa island to protect island property and homes in Corona Del Mar. It is expected that one of the volunteer men will be appointed to care for the Balboa island station.

Plans are being made by city trustees for the construction of a new fire hall at Balboa, it is reported.

Brea Woman Is Awarded Pension After Long Wait

BREA, April 5.—Mrs. M. A. Broderick, mother of Miss Mable McGee, well known real estate and insurance agent of this city, and a widow of a civil war veteran, has just been notified from Washington, D. C., of the fact that she is to receive at last the pension for which she has been striving for years to obtain. First payments, according to the word received, will begin in July with a possibility of back payments being made.

While a resident of Kansas, Mrs. Broderick tried on many occasions to gain her widow's pension but each time failed. Upon taking the matter up with California representatives in congress, she at last gained her point.

150 Present At Church Social

WESTMINSTER, April 5.—The social given Friday night in the Church hall by the Presbyterian church proved to be a most enjoyable affair. More than 150 persons were present. Mrs. L. E. Barry, Mrs. Howard Melvin, Mrs. O. J. Day, Mrs. Ruth Penhall and Mrs. J. L. Edward were among those who worked for the evening's entertainment.

The program began with a grand march, in which all of the men had to choose a new partner, but not for life, and with the ice thus broken, there was not a dull moment to record.

The program was as follows: George H. Clough, piano solo; Virginia Anderson, vocal solos; W. W. Knighten, vocal solos; Mrs. Mae Hensley, violin solo; Mrs. D. D. Campbell, vocal solos. Accompanists were George Clough, Mrs. Marie Hare and Mrs. H. B. Anderson. There were several groups of story tellers, I. W. Bould, Mrs. Floyd Morris, Dr. Richard Foster, Mrs. T. E. Turpin, W. B. McCoy, O. J. Day, Mrs. Foster, Fred C. Basse, Mrs. I. W. Bould, the Rev. R. A. Weld and Mrs. Ralph Baxter. A prize was awarded Dr. Foster for the best story by the judges, who were J. L. Edward, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, R. E. Larter and Charles Parr.

Prizes were awarded the 26 winners by judges, who were the Rev. R. A. Weld, Mrs. Fred Basse, Mrs. J. Peterson and A. B. Crane. A. G. Snow won a prize on a paper race for the men.

Big License Jump Asked At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—A request that the license fee for laundries operating in this city be raised from $15 per year to $30 per month, was submitted to city trustees last night by the Service Laundry, of this city.

The request was deemed an unusual one by the city trustees, who referred the matter to a special committee with instructions to investigate license conditions on other industries.

It was intimated that a raise might be ordered in all city license fees. Recently grocerymen asked for a higher license, but they did not specify such a drastic change.

Representatives of the Service Laundry declared that they wished the license raised as a protective measure to home industry. Trustees Fred Young, H. H. Williamson and City Clerk Alfred Smith were appointed to investigate the license matter. A report is to be made on the license matter before May 15.

NEW ATWOOD WELLS PLACED ON PRODUCTION

ATWOOD, April 5.—The California Petroleum corporation has brought in Yarnell No. 22 at 800 barrels of 22 degree gravity oil. This well is in the heart of the Richmond field and just west of the company's offices.

The next best well is the Union's Thompson and Goodwin No. 8, which came in Saturday at 426 barrels of clear 25 degree gravity oil. The well has dropped down a little at present, making 350 barrels a day. It is located on the east side of Van Buren street, not far from the new wells on the flats.

Drilling was started on two wells last week, the Associated wells in the Bayha No. 5 and the General Petroleum starting on Millen 2-A. This is one of the old Richmond-United wells, and as the casing proved to be in good condition, a new derrick was built over the old one, and the well will be drilled to the deep sand.

One old well, Mullen No. 1, is being pumped from the top sand, and two new wells are being drilled, Mullen No. 3 being down to 3300 feet and Mullen No. 4 down to 1635 feet.

The General Petroleum's two new Hugo wells are nearing completion, No. 6 being down to 4153 feet, and No. 1 down to 3556 feet. Considerable activity is centered at the foot of the lake, the Standard Oil company having derricks up for the Anaheim Union Water No. 2, and Vejar No. 1, while the California Petroleum has spudded in on its Richmond-Consolidated No. 14.

The Continental's Pyne No. 4 has not come in yet, but the tubing is being run in at present.

H. B. Julian Well Flows 800 Barrels

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 5.—The Julian Petroleum corporation's Treat No. 2 well, located on Sixteenth and Olive streets, Huntington Beach, went on production yesterday flowing at the rate of 800 barrels a day. The pressure built up to more than 400 pounds on the casing, and from all indications the well should increase to 1000 barrels a day or better.

Entertainment To Be Given In Brea

BREA, April 5.—Thursday evening is the date set for the appearance of the Brea Musical entertainment in the Brea grammar school auditorium, under the auspices of the Brea Woman's club. The program which they are to present will consist entirely of classical numbers and readings, according to members of the Woman's club, who are planning details for the evening. Funds realized from the entertainment will be placed in the building fund of the club.

TALBERT

TALBERT, April 5.—Activities connected with the congregation of the Methodist church, South, of Talbert, for the week, included a party given on Friday evening at the league room of the church. Thirty-three young people were present, the majority of the members being from Greenville.

Communion services were held at Sunday evening services at the Talbert church and on Monday, the pastor, the Rev. J. J. Woodson, left for San Bernardino to attend district conference of the Los Angeles district. While attending conference the Rev. Mr. Woodson is the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Galloway, of Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormack motored to Los Angeles Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hygger entertained at dinner Sunday, Mrs. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Giesler and her two brothers, Antonio and Ernest Giesler, of Santa Ana.

CONDITIONS IN CHINA TOLD AT KIWANIS MEET

FULLERTON, April 5.—Roscoe Goodcell, of Los Angeles, brother of Rex B. Goodcell, candidate for governor at the election last fall, spoke on the China situation at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club, yesterday noon at McFarland's cafe. Goodcell spent several years in China as an educator and official, and has impressed the group with his talk on the conditions as they are in that country at the present time.

Goodcell pictured China as an immense nation throwing off the shackles of despotism and struggling against foreign oppression. A new era of upward growth is being started, and a great national spirit is being awakened, he said. In striving for independence against foreign influence China is looking to the United States for aid, according to the speaker.

"I confidently believe that we shall see out of this great struggle a United States of Asia such as we attained through our fight for independence and after we had thrown off the foreign yoke," Goodcell said.

The United States is the only country which is unstained by iniquities and oppressions which other countries have forced on China, Goodcell said.

The Kiwanis program was under the auspices of the La Habra Kiwanis. There were 30 members from La Habra present, including the president, Rolfe Koonz. In behalf of La Habra, Henri Clayton expressed appreciation of being invited to take charge of the program yesterday. He also spoke about the fight which is being waged in that town for direct telephone connection with Fullerton and other parts of the county.

The Rev. Graham C. Hunter, gave a short talk in which he welcomed the La Habra delegation to the meeting.

Fishing Contest At Beach Expected To Draw Anglers

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Anglers from all parts of Southern California are expected to be attracted to this city next Sunday, when the biggest fishing contest ever attempted here is scheduled to take place. A cash prize of $15, donated by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, is offered by the Balboa Angling club for the largest edible fish caught in the bay, the surf or from either pier.

A contest held here Sunday resulted in a number of large halibut and bass being landed. A. E. Show, of Los Angeles, and Sam Craig, of Ontario, were awarded prizes at the Newport Beach pier, while N. R. Botherau and Narcisse Botherau, of Los Angeles, won prizes at the Balboa pier.

The contest next Sunday will start at sunrise and will close at 4 p. m. Fish must be registered at the Balboa tackle store or at the Hugh McMillan store in Newport Beach. A second prize of $5 will be awarded to the person catching the second largest fish. The Balboa Angling club will be in charge of the contest.

Brea Lions Hear Fullerton Pastor

BREA, April 5.—Speaking on the subject of "Modern Business" the Rev. H. B. Moore, pastor of the Episcopal church, Fullerton, addressed the local Lions at their regular weekly luncheon here Friday. Other enjoyable features of the program were the violin selections given by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Peterson and their three talented daughters, the Misses May, Ella and Lily Peterson. Riverside Lions present at the luncheon were Ray Schults, Carl Hathaway, Scotty Combs and Mr. R. Schacker. The latter being scheduled to appear on the program for the fourth district convention of Lions clubs when it convenes in Riverside on May 26.

Car Stolen In Balboa Is Found

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Police yesterday recovered a light roadster, stolen Sunday in Balboa. The car was discovered on a road skirting the edge of the bay in Corona Del Mar. Several accessories had been stripped from the machine. It is believed that the thieves were frightened away from the machine while in the act of stripping it. The machine was returned to the owner, G. Greer, of Los Angeles, today.

RETURN FROM TRIP

ANAHEIM, April 5.—Visiting nearly every section of unusual scenic and historical interest, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Breen, 330 South Ohio street, has just returned from an eight weeks' motor trip into the Utah Valley country. They were accompanied on the jaunt, which took them through 1000 miles of intensely interesting country, by a friend, G. E. Howe, of Los Angeles. Stopping only at night at convenient hotels, the party traveled almost continuously during the trip.

NEWPORT BEACH TRUSTEES AUTHORIZE NEW FIRE HALL; OUSTED OFFICER REINSTATED

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Plans for a new fire hall for Newport Beach were approved by city trustees last night. The structure is to be erected on the site of the present hall at Balboa. Plans for the building were prepared by Eugene Fenlon, city building inspector.

Several sets of plans have been considered by the city trustees during the past few weeks. The new fire hall will be an attractive building but will be constructed cheaply, the cost being approximately $2500, it is reported. Tenants plan to build a permanent building in a couple of years. The present building is not large enough to accommodate the new fire engine. Bids will be advertised for the fire hall at once.

Gets Job Back Virgil Schwartz, patrolman, who recently was dismissed from the local police force, was reinstated at a hearing before the board of trustees last night. Nearly 300 citizens crowded the city hall building and overflowed onto the sidewalks, attracted by reports of "fireworks" at the meeting.

Schwartz was dismissed following the receipt of an unsigned letter, and following his refusal to resign. He asked for a hearing before the trustees and with witnesses to substantiate the charges against him. After hearing the case the police commission reinstated the officer. The hearing was conducted at an executive session by the trustees.

Personnel Unchanged No change was made in the personnel of the fire department last night. A petition was presented asking trustees to reconsider the appointment of Frank W. Crocker and appoint Paul Clair fire chief. Clair was a member of the former volunteer fire department which functioned under the leadership of A. W. Jackson, ousted fire chief. Members of the old volunteer department were given a hearing before the trustees.

A special meeting between city trustees, volunteer firemen and members of the board of fire underwriters will be held some time this week in an effort to iron out the difficulty. It was intimated last night that the city trustees had acted on the recommendation of the board of fire underwriters in selecting new fire officials. Mayor Conrad Richter declared that the trustees would not reconsider their appointments without the sanction of the fire underwriters.

Spend $1812.50 on Ads City trustees here determined to spend $1812.50 on advertising during the next three months, following a communication from S. A. Meyer, chairman of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, advertising committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, is offered by the Balboa Angling club for the largest edible fish caught in the bay, the surf or from either pier.

Harbor asked the trustees to appropriate $1500 for advertising in Los Angeles and other outside newspapers. A total of $312.50 was appropriated for prizes for various features to be staged by the chamber of commerce during the next few months. Bills presented to the city trustees by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce were referred back to the organization. Original bills were not attached and trustees decided that they must have the original documents before they could expend the money.

Clyde Bishop, city attorney, reported on the legislative matters regarding tidelands in Newport Beach. Two of the bills are now before Governor Young, according to Bishop.

Seek Street Light Data City Clerk Alfred Smith was instructed to secure information on street lights for Central avenue. A number of new street lights are needed for the street, it is said. A resolution approving the improvement on Central avenue and confirming the assessments for the work was passed by the trustees.

A communication was read by trustees from the Newport Bay Dredging company. The dredging company offered the city 10 feet of land along a strip known as the Hudson. Trustees filed the letter and authorized the city clerk to notify the company that the property already belongs to the city.

An ordinance providing that fishermen use only two poles while fishing from the local piers was ordered drawn by city trustees. The ordinance was introduced by the Balboa Angling club. Requests from several fishermen to operate live bait boats from the municipal pier were referred to the committee of the whole. The committee of the whole also was placed in charge of a petition asking that the pier landing be made a municipal landing and thrown open to all boats.

An inventory of fire equipment on hand was submitted by Fire Chief Frank W. Crocker along with a request for new equipment. A request for a permit to operate a cafe and cabaret was referred to Chief of Police David L. Adams for recommendation. H. H. Nichols submitted the proposition to the trustees. He plans to open a cafe at 301 Palm avenue, Balboa.

A communication was read to the trustees reporting that maps of the proposed jetty work are on file in his office and that protests on the work will be heard.

New Patrolman Named at Beach

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

OLIVE HEIGHTS CITRUS PLANT IS ENLARGED

OLIVE, April 5.—Efficiency in the packing of Valencia oranges without the sacrifice of careful handling was the object behind the installation of several new machines and the enlargement of the plant of the Olive Heights Citrus association, according to Ben Cole, manager.

Among the new machines added is an automatic counter for each size of fruit. Fifty-five of the counters have been installed. Each is said to eliminate the necessity for a tally man. As the fruit drops through the sizers the machine causes a number to register in the bookkeepers office by means of electrical connections.

The accurate counting of each size in each grower's lot and the elimination of estimates regarding the remaining portions in bins, recommends the machine to the use of packers, according to Cole.

Alterations to permit greater ease in the handling of fruit have been made. In line with the policy of other houses affiliated with the Orange County Fruit exchange, the Olive Heights plant will stamp all fruit coming within the required specifications with the Sun-kist brand. The stamper has been installed for use the first time this year.

A 30-foot addition has been made on the north side of the plant, giving a great deal more floor space both in the basement and on the main floor for the handling of fruit. An arrangement whereby the newly picked fruit can be received directly into the basement on warm days, is expected to prevent shrinkage caused by the hot dry air in the main room of most plants on hot days.

With the addition of the 30 feet, the machinery in the house has been shifted 15 feet toward the north wall, thus allowing 15 feet more space on the south side of the house.

Cole states that the season for the local plant will probably open on April 25. A bumper crop is expected for 1927, according to Cole.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, April 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the local P. T. A. will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. Mrs. Sumner, chairman of Americanization work, will present and speak before the women of the need of the Mexican people here. Mrs. Floyd Morris urged that as many as possible be present.

On Wednesday morning at the school assembly hour, 10 o'clock, parents are urged to come and hear the report on the essays turned in by the children for the W. C. T. U. on alcohol and tobacco. Prizes will be awarded at that time for this school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baxter, together with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr, of Smeitar, enjoyed a two days' trip to the desert, staying all night at Lancaster.

Bon Page and Elmer Baker enjoyed the fishing at Newport on Sunday. They caught a fine string of fish.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Crawford, Ralph Ernest, has been ill, and had to have both of his ears lanced Saturday in Santa Ana.

George C. Abbott, Phil Treney, J. B. Nankervis, John Beavers, D. W. C. Dimock, R. T. Arrett, L. P. Loftis and Thomas Treney were at the Laurel encampment of the I. O. O. F. in Santa Ana Saturday night, when the three last named men, members of the local I. O. O. F., joined the encampment. They were given the initiatory degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sigler were in Los Angeles Friday. Sidewalks are going in today in the Wishart tract from Locust street to the end of the tract on this side next to the boulevard.

Miss Juanita Montgomery, Mrs. Hazel Hurd and John and Ira Ham, of Huntington Beach, spent Sunday at Orange County park.

George C. Abbott enjoyed the park Sunday in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr and family, of Smeitar.

The teachers and officers of the Presbyterian Sunday school will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock when matters pertaining to the new departments will be discussed. The Sunday school record attendance jumped to 160 Sunday, after remaining at 144 for many months.

Mr. Arthur Emery, of Alhambra, is ill in the Cavanah home here. Herman Anderson, of Woodlake, visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson here Thursday night.

Mrs. Bessie Conn, of Pasadena, visited with her parents here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hays were guests at dinner Sunday in Long Beach of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hays.

Examination of Pre-School Tots Begins April 11

ORANGE, April 5.—Examination of children who next September will enter kindergarten or the first grade in Orange public schools will be held in the Orange city hall April 11, 12, 14 and 15, officials in charge announced today.

These pre-school examinations will be conducted under the direction of the state bureau of child hygiene, co-operating with the Orange county health department and parent-teacher associations. They will be held in virtually every community in the county.

Officials called attention to the fact that there would be no examinations on April 12, as was previously announced.

ORANGE BOARD IS URGED TO BUILD SCHOOL

ORANGE, April 5.—Authorization was given the school board of the Orange grammar school district, to proceed with the purchase of a site on which to erect a new school building to replace the obsolete Lemon street building, at a public meeting in the intermediate school auditorium last night.

The motion, put by the Rev. M. L. Pearson and seconded by J. P. Boring, was carried without a dissenting vote following a period of discussion which resulted in the building disclosed and the need for a new structure as proposed being realized by the taxpayers.

Upon questioning, George Sherwood, superintendent of schools, stated that the building, built 40 years ago, would need to be re-roofed, replastered, repainted inside and out, and equipped with additional plumbing and heating apparatus, before it could be restored to a period of usefulness. Sherwood also revealed that the new site would be necessary for a new building because the land now occupied is under lease for 99 years and about half of the lease has expired.

The school board has not as yet considered any possible site, Sherwood stated, but a plot not less than two and a half acres in extent, but preferably three acres, would be necessary. No thought has been given to the problem of the Mexican classes which are being cared for under the present arrangements, according to Sherwood.

Sherwood stated that at present there are only two vacant rooms in the entire school system. Two years ago, when the schools were occupied to capacity, every room was filled. Each room, according to Sherwood, will care for approximately 40 students.

Sherwood advocated a 10-room structure for the new building. The old building has only eight rooms, but the Mexican annex has two rooms, thus making a total of 10 rooms. The approximate cost of land or building was not given.

Earl Campbell presided over the meeting.

Orange Oil Firm Gets Texas Gasser

ORANGE, April 5.—Natural gas totaling $4,000,000 is pouring forth from the well drilled by the Orange oil company at Brownwood, Tex., in which several local men are interested, it was learned today by Ray Wallace, one of the interested parties.

With the arrival of the gas, at 875 feet, the drillers announced that the sand was getting softer, indicating that oil possibilities were good.

Should the oil well fail to produce oil, the gas will yield considerable revenue, according to Wallace.

World drive, Sunday, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lablanc, of Hynes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowe entertained Mrs. F. B. Bushnell, of Long Beach, over Saturday night and Sunday in their home.

J. A. McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cozad, of Hemet, and Dave Cozad, of Los Angeles, were over the week-end guests in the W. J. Cozad home here. Mrs. Cora Mae Bennett and Mr. Wetsel, of Long Beach, were guests on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough enjoyed a picnic in Brookside park, Los Angeles, Sunday, with a friend of many years, Miss Mattie Anderson, of Long Beach.

Miss May Wheeler appeared at the school here Monday morning to take charge of the third and fourth grade children, in the room used by Mrs. Thomason, who went downstairs with the second grade.

Mr. and Mrs. George Whitcomb had open house during the week-end, when many guests found a royal welcome in that home, friends of the family when they lived in Holly, Colo. Visiting the Whitcombs were Earl Hughes, first aid man in the U. S. navy; Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and baby, of San Pedro; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Huse and two babies, of Newport, and William Waldo, of Los Angeles. Earl Hughes stayed over the week-end, the others were guests on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A son was born Saturday night in the Baker maternity home here to Mr. and Mrs. Will Nankervis.

RIVERSIDE MAN IS SPEAKER AT CLUB SESSION

ORANGE, April 5.—Prof. Edmund E. Jaeger, of the Riverside junior college, addressed the local Woman's club yesterday afternoon on the topic of "Flora of the Desert." For 15 years Prof. Jaeger has made a study of the desert growth, going by burro into remote parts of the Mojave and Imperial deserts. He gave the names of many wild flowers which were on exhibit, and answered questions asked by members of the club. He exhibited a mascale stick, an implement said to have been used by primitive Colorado Indians.

In the business meeting preceding the lecture period, three new members were accepted into the club. The new members are Mrs. W. F. Crist, Mrs. Adela T. Gardner and Mrs. Anna M. Peterson.

Several announcements of important events were made by various committee chairmen and by officers of the club.

Upon the announcement of the county federation convention in the White Temple Methodist church, Anaheim, April 22, the club elected its governing board to be delegates and granted the members of the club the power to choose alternates.

The state convention, to be held in Sacramento from May 3 to May 7, was announced. The president, Mrs. A. H. Halleck, and three others, to be chosen, will attend as representatives of the club.

Mrs. Jack Clayton announced that the next meeting, a reciprocity tea on April 13, would have as its guest of honor Miss Isabelle Boen Lynch, concert soprano, who was a guest at the last meeting in the spring of 1926.

Reference was made to the board of a request from Miss Mary Hawkins, chairman of the tree and shrub committee, that a committee be appointed to judge a poster contest that funds be appropriated to plant two trees on school grounds.

The third economics section presented the club with two trees, purchased from the proceeds of a recent card party.

The endowment fund chairman of the county federation, Mrs. Lewis, briefly outlined the purposes and importance of the fund to the club and urged the local members to consider it seriously with a view to early action.

Preparation of the Woman's chorus for the competitive performance in the adult chorus section of the Orange County Eldested in the Fullerton high school on April 7 at 7:30 p. m., was demonstrated by the local group in the musical program of the afternoon.

Transportation for all members who desire to attend the contest is being provided by those in the club who have cars, according to Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, who is attempting to arrange the transportation problem.

ORANGE

ORANGE, April 5.—A building permit has been granted the Orana Produce company to the extent of $600 for the erection of a fruit stand at 173 South Main street.

William C. Schoenfeldt, father of A. J. Schoenfeldt, of 803 North Cambridge street, who has been visiting in Orange and neighboring Southern California cities for the past three months, returned to his home in North Tonawanda, N. Y., Sunday evening.

The following friends were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dugan of North Glendale street: Mr. and Mrs. I. Bean and family, of Bellflower; Mrs. J. Owen, Mrs. N. Krotz, Miss Irene Krotz, Harry Gills, of Huntington Park; Harvey Stockfish, of Hollywood, and Will Carns, of Alhambra.

Dr. E. D. Pratt and son, Blake, motored to Los Angeles Sunday for Mrs. Pratt, who has been spending several days in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chapman, of Orange, and Mrs. Carl Nelson, of Orange, and Mrs. K. Rogers, of Santa Ana, spent Sunday in San Diego.

J. Donald MacDonald, advertising manager of the Huntington Beach News was a business visitor in Orange yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gile and family, of San Bernardino, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams, of South Clark street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stutz, of Escondido, were guests Sunday at the C. H. Adams home.

E. W. Bolinger was in Los Angeles yesterday on business for the First National bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ensign, Mrs. Carrie Curry, Mrs. Simons of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Laura Dean, of Redlands spent Sunday in Long Beach.

Mrs. Cal Lester underwent a major operation Saturday at the Anaheim Sanitarium. Mrs. Lester is getting along nicely but no visitors will be admitted for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith, of North Center street, entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. A. H. Smith's birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Weaver were guests. The group spent the evening at the F. E. Smith home on North Grand street.

EVENING SALUTATION

Angel of Patience! Sent to calm
Our feverish brow with cooling balm,
To lay the storms of hate and fear,
And reconcile life's smile and tear;
And throbs of wounded pride to still,
And make our own our Father's will.

IN THE PATH OF DUTY

Not since war claimed the lives of heroes has there been an occasion in Orange county in which the passing of a young man brought such genuine widespread public regret as did the death of Lauren E. Hurd.

Just as the soldier gives his life to his country, just so was the life of Lauren Hurd given.

His life was taken as another sacrifice to duty. It seems that the continuation of our freedom, the enjoyment of comfort and peace and the pursuit of happiness cannot be had without sacrifices. There must be hazards and pain and anxiety. Once in awhile the thread of life is snapped that the public may be safe from the depredations of lawless and thoughtless persons.

As a peace officer, "Pat" Hurd was a good officer, conscientious, reliable, extremely gentlemanly, always fair, always honest. Beyond that he was gifted with personality. He had the unconscious art of making friends. Pity it is, indeed, that such as he must die.

POMONA NEWSPAPER MERGER

The merger of the two Pomona newspapers (The Bulletin, morning, and The Progress, evening) is of more than ordinary interest, significance and importance. Because, contrary to the general rule in towns of 100,000 or less population, having more than one paper, both the Pomona papers were profitable. At least to the publishers. But that they were not profitable to the advertisers is the inevitable conclusion.

In announcing the consideration, the Bulletin says: Both newspapers could have gone on in their respective fields and have performed an important part in the growth of this city and valley. But the publishers recognized that the force that has thrust forward the march of newspaper consolidation throughout the United States is the same that a decade before wrought havoc with the duplication of telephone, power and gas companies. The consolidation of newspapers has been the main thought among publishers and among the representatives of the big advertisers for some time. Publishers have been frankly told that business can no longer meet the rising costs of publication of too many newspapers.

And two seems to have been too many for Pomona as well as for other towns of that class.

Referring again to the statement that publishers (probably including those of Pomona) "have been frankly told that business can no longer meet the rising costs of the publication of too many newspapers," the Bulletin says:

Recognizing the truth of this argument, and being convinced that the carrying of adequate advertising for their needs in two papers in Pomona by business institutions might soon become prohibitive, The Progress and Bulletin publishers, after a conference, concluded to join hands and combine equipment and facilities in the publication of a greater, larger and more powerful newspaper, which with the combined circulation will cover more than 90 per cent of the homes in the territory. Unquestionably this will be an ideal arrangement, and will prove to be of incalculable benefit from every point of view.

PRICES 100 YEARS AGO

A market report published in 1827, exactly 100 years ago, gives these prices:

Copper, 17 to 21 cents;
Cotton, 8 1/4 to 12 1/2 cents;
Corn, 55 to 64 cents;
Wheat, 95 cents to $1.06;
Butter, 10 to 18 cents;
Tea, 26 cents to $1.25.

A business reviewer observes: "Making allowance for the decreased purchasing power of money, these quotations are not so very far away from those current today, and they may furnish food for thought for those who are now predicting a general decline in all commodities."

Evidently you can't be sure of any great class of commodities, whether agricultural or industrial, going markedly up or down.

The only thing you can count on for certain is that land will keep on going up, because there is only so much of it, and the number of people occupying it and wanting it steadily increases.

ECONOMICAL HAULING

"Build railroads as we may," says Herbert Hoover, "man demands an outlet to the sea by direct ships, and for one big reason—it is cheaper. To carry goods to their destination without two to four times re-handling is the way to the most economical transportation."

"It has been at all times acknowledged that such a shipway as the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project would decrease transportation costs to and from the mid-west to the whole world, including New England. This opening of the Great Lakes-to-the-sea route has become of double importance today because of the severe economic penalties upon the mid-continent by the distortions of the war."

Fortunately at last there is a prospect of practical action on this long-discussed project. It is expected that the necessary preliminaries between the Canadian and United States governments will be started this summer.

LAST WORD IN CENSORSHIP

Italy ought to take the first prize for drastic censorship, if the bill now before the chamber of deputies becomes law. It provides for thoroughgoing censorship, with severe penalties, of theatrical, musical, dancing, pantomime and moving picture productions, as well as of books, newspapers, magazines, pictures, works of art, photographs, phonograph records, and even advertising copy.

Nothing is to be permitted which, in the opinion of the "central pornographic office"—something ought to be done about that ugly name—is offensive to public order, morality or religion, or against the national order and the state, or hurtful to the dignity and prestige of the nation.

It looks as if the officials and committees burdened with this terrific authority would be kept busy, perhaps eventually starving to death from lack of time to eat. Personal correspondence and private conversations seem to have been overlooked in listing the things to be censored, but the omission probably can be corrected.

Green Fields and Heroes

Oakland Tribune

"How passing strange it is that most natives are dull to the legends of their localities!" Thus holds forth John Farrar, editor of the Bookman, in a recent article in which he deplores the wealth of local material passed over and disregarded by our native writers.

He particularly levels his shafts of criticism against California writers who, though prolific with their pens, have failed to make the most of the material at hand. "Behold," says he, "an annual trek to New York of southwestern writers and behold what they have left behind! But California affords a more ignominious example of unseeing dullness. Publishers claim that almost 50 per cent of the manuscripts submitted to them annually hail from that state. It was a Frenchman, however, who captured in 1925 the gaudiest and most alluring figure of California history, General Sutter."

The phrase "more ignominious example of unseeing dullness" is not exactly a flattering one, but if it spur our gifted penmen to delve more industriously into the rich field of California history and legend it will not have been in vain and may readily be forgiven.

Mr. Farrar emphasizes that "we have a past worth looking into."

Mr. Farrar is most assuredly right! Green fields, according to the old saying, are always "far away." Or, which amounts to the same thing, they are thought to be! And it seems to be the same with heroes.

But here in this favored state both abundantly abound—green fields, the symbol of good fortune, and heroes—men of great deeds who have helped transform a wilderness into a land dreamers have always pictured in their dreams.

State's Rainfall Varies

San Francisco Chronicle

A bulletin from the Marin Municipal Water Supply will be a surprise to outsiders who think that the rains in February must have washed the whole state away. Measuring the water in its reservoirs, the water district finds that the rainfall of 1927 has been more than three inches under the figure fixed as normal—37.31 inches against 40.66.

The February rains were unusually heavy—although in many parts of the country they would be considered merely a rather damp spell—but the Government figures show that rain in California is what Mayor Will Rogers of Beverly Hills might call a highly various proposition. It runs by small local areas, and it may well be that while an overdose of rain is falling in one place, just over the hill a little more would be welcome.

Thus San Diego has had about 60 per cent more rainfall this year than the normal, while San Jose is a few decimal points under. Eureka, Red Bluff and San Francisco had about 20 per cent over, while Sacramento, like San Jose, was a trifle under. Santa Rosa had half as much again as the average. Stockton one-sixth more and Fresno about one-fifth more. Coming on the heels of the short rainfall last year, the excess in 1927 comes in handy for depleted water supplies.

The reason that we in California are so much surprised at any variation in weather is that we have so much good weather. We are spoiled for anything else. We expect the weather to follow a regular schedule, and when it deviates we remark it as "unusual" unless it is unusually good, when we take it as a matter of course.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor of Journal of American Medical Association

BODY CAN'T WORK ON SCANT WATER RATION
Besides the water used for the surface of the body, sufficient amounts must be taken to keep the kidneys flushed and to prevent the irritation that results when the excretions are too concentrated.

Authorities differ as to the amount necessary for the body. Sixty-five per cent of the human body is composed of this fluid. The suggestions seem to average a total of six to ten glasses a day, presumably taken at least one glass between each meal, one with each meal, one before going to sleep, and one on getting up in the morning.

Opinions also differ as to whether or not water should be taken at meals. It serves the purpose of diluting the mixture of food in the stomach, making the absorption easier and facilitating the movement of the residue through the intestines. Water should not, however, be used to wash down lumps of unchewed food that they may remain in the mouth while eating.

Ice water is a common American habit, little used in foreign countries. It chills the stomach, but so far as known is not harmful, unless taken in excessive quantities or at times when the person may be overheated.

Spiced water, soda water, ginger ale and similar modifications of ordinary water are pleasant to take if one has a taste for them. They sometimes serve the purpose of adding alkali, which is of benefit in persons who have unusual acidity. Flavored waters are ordinarily harmless if properly prepared and if they do not contain so much sugar that they interfere with the appetite and the digestion.

It should be remembered that tea, coffee, milk and soup are largely water and that most foods contain a considerable amount of fluid as well. In persons with disease conditions that tend to accumulate water in the body, the amount of fluid intake is ordinarily restricted by the physician.

From the hygienic point of view the amount and nature of bacteria contained in the water are not of great importance. Formerly typhoid fever was transmitted primarily by bad water supplies. Nowadays any civilized community controls the bacteria containing water supply by the use of filtration and chlorination.

Among the faddists there are also water fanatics that flood the body with fluids and in their places of employment wear a path from the desk to the drinking fountain. Overconcentration on water is just as bad a habit as overconcentration on anything else.

Men and Management

"Men may be born equal but, in this land of opportunities, it is a man's own fault if he does not rise above the level from which he starts," said Isaiah Hale, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe System, in his address before the Los Angeles City club last week.

Speaking on "The Relation of Management and Men in Industry," Mr. Hale declared that one of the great needs of the world today is for men who will think, and think constructively.

"Following the line of least resistance makes rivers and men crooked," said the speaker. "An upright mental attitude toward one's job is the best asset of an employer or an employee. The best work is done by the man whose conscience will not allow him to do any other kind of work. Service is the price of success. Less and less the world is condoning failure and bowing to the man who bends his energies toward accomplishing worthy purposes."

"A builder of bridges or railroads or houses is worth little to the world unless he also helps to build the character of his employees," continued Mr. Hale. "Managers of men should seek to teach their fellow workers that they have no right to accept real money for counterfeit labor, that two-thirds of promotion consists of motion, that today's job should be a stepping stone to tomorrow's advancement, not a resting place for today; that a small man can make a big job shrink, but that a big man can make a small job gigantic. Not pull, but push; not wishbone, but backbone are needed. It is a man's brand of thinking that makes or mars him. The man who goes to his work like a slave, believing the world is against him may expect to find only what he looks for—and, looking for the worst, the worst is the best he will get. Let him reverse his order of thinking if he would climb from the basement of existence into the living room of life."

Worth While Verse

SOMEHOW GOOD

Oh yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill
To pang of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood;

That nothing walks with aimless feet,
That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete.

Behold, we know not anything;
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last, far off—at last, to all,
And every winter change to spring.

So runs my dream; but what am I?
An infant crying in the night,
An infant crying for the light,
And with no language but a cry!

—Tennyson.

OR A GRAVE

Boring young man (to pretty girl)—You know, I'm funny like that—I always throw myself into any job I undertake. Pretty girl (sweetly)—How splendid! Why don't you dig a well?—Robey's Annual.

CHILDISH CANDOR

Marjorie—Uncle, who was Circe?
Uncle—Oh, a lady who turned men into pigs.
Marjorie—Did you know her, Uncle?—Passing Show, London.

HOW SILLY

Husband—You accuse me of reckless extravagance. When did I ever make a useless purchase?
Wife—How about that fire extinguisher you bought a year ago. We haven't used it once.—Popular Science.

Last night after supper the telephone rang and I answered it and it was some man wanting to talk to pop, and I started to call him and then forgot on account of suddenly finding a peppermint drop that I thawt was lost forever, and about 20 minnits later I went downstairs and pop was in the front hall wawking up and down smoking and thinking with his hands in back of him, me thinking, G, gosh, holey smokes.

And I thawt, Maybe he saw the receiver off of the hook and answered it enyways.

And I sed, Have you bin up in the living room lately, pop?

No, but I expect to go up eny day now, why, is there anything new up there? pop sed, and I sed, No sir, nothing iactly new, but theres something a little different.

Well, variety is the spice of life, something different all a time thats my motto and always has bin, and that's why Im the well rounded man I am today, pop sed.

And he kept on wawking up and down the hall thinking, and I sed, Are you expecting eny telephone messidges, pop?

By jove that reminds me, Hartly sed he would call me up for sure at 8 sharp and Hartlys middle name is punkuality, pop sed. And he looked at his watch, saying, Thats funny, its 20 after 8 now.

Well then that must of bin him all rite, I sed.

Wat? Wat must? pop sed, and I sed, Thats wats different up in the living room. The receiver is off the hook, because somebody called up and asked for you and then something happened, maybe he's still waiting, I sed.

Wich pop ran up 3 steps at a time to see, only he wasent. Making it all the sadder for me.

John Howard Payne

The present week marks the 75th anniversary of the death of John Howard Payne, who wrote the immortal song "Home, Sweet Home," which was sung in public for the first time a little more than a century ago as a part of the opera "Clari, or the Maid of Milan," produced at Covent Garden Theatre in London.

Payne was an American, born in this city in 1791. His life was one of disappointment and misfortune. As a boy he was madly keen on the stage, and at the age of 12 received his first chance to take up theatrical work, but his father, horrified at the mere idea of his son becoming an actor, had him apprenticed to a merchant.

During the dreary existence that followed the boy found relief in publishing, unaided, a small theatrical weekly paper which drew a certain amount of attention. For two years he attended Union college at Schenectady, where he displayed his talents in editing and publishing a college paper.

After his mother's death in 1807, he gained the consent of his father, who had lost all his property, to his appearance upon the stage. He made his debut as Young Novval at the Park theatre in this city, February 24, 1809, and subsequently appeared in Boston, Baltimore and several other cities. In 1812 he played Hamlet to Mrs. Duff's Ophelia.

At the age of 20 he went to London. At Drury Lane theatre he gained fair success as an actor and playwright, but with nothing outstanding until 1823, when he produced "Clari."

On reviewing it he felt the second act could be improved, and forthwith wrote the words of "Home, Sweet Home." The music for the song he got adapted by Sir Henry Rowland Bishop from an air he once heard sung by a Sicilian peasant girl. And thus the song nearly whole world knows came into being.

Payne was present to hear the tremendous success the song achieved at Covent Garden, but the restless spirit of the wanderer was in him, and for 12 long years he made Europe his aimless pathway. Although royalties from "Home, Sweet Home" brought him in $10,000, the money soon slipped through his hands, and he had to go on writing for his livelihood.

After his wanderings abroad he returned to America, only to find all his friends were scattered. In his loneliness he gladly accepted the position of United States consul at Tunis. He sailed almost immediately for his new home on the Mediterranean coast.

After his appointment he only visited his native land once more, and died in his loneliness at Tunis, April 9, 1852. He was buried in the garden of the American consulate under the drooping boughs of a pepper tree. For thirty years his bones lay in that one spot of American soil in Africa, until at last they were brought to America. Before leaving Tunis the coffin lay for a while in the tiny Anglican church, and as it was borne away to the ship for the last voyage the organ played the beautiful strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

And so at last came to its final resting place all that remained of the man who in life had never found rest. A wanderer himself, he had soothed and touched the heart of the world, brought tears to forgotten memories in the breasts of the hardest-bitten wanderers in all parts of the globe; all in those simple words—"Home, Sweet Home."

Four Billions a Year

Kansas City Star

Frequently it has been reported that the American people, traditionally known as extravagant, began to learn the lesson of thrift in the World war period. Wide investment in government bonds, together with various types of economy enforced or voluntarily practiced, in this period revealed to millions of persons both the varied means of saving and the benefits of that procedure. Yet there have continued complaints of unwise expenditure generally in this country. These have been directed at the rapid growth of installment buying and the extensive purchasing of things which only a few years ago either were unknown or were regarded as luxuries.

But, it seems, the American people have money enough to save as well as spend. How extensive certain types have become is indicative in a survey made by the National Industrial Conference Board. This study reveals that money savings per capita have increased 390 per cent since 1914. The gain is not explained by a raise of wages simply. For it was found that the average wage increase, when figured in its due relation to increased living costs, had amounted to only 29 per cent in the 12 years from 1914 to 1926.

Nor are the total annual money savings, which last year amounted to $392 million dollars, accounted for by a growth of population, since the latter was only a little more than 20 per cent. The savings total in 1914 was approximately $56 million dollars, the increase here being nearly 600 per cent. The per capita increase was from $6.71 in 1914 to $33 last year. Growth of average income, as revealed by reports to the federal government, explains no more than does the increase of wages the big expansion in savings.

In the survey of the board account is taken only of deposits in savings banks and in building and loan associations and of payments made for life insurance. Consideration legitimately could be given also to other investments, such as those represented in the purchase of sound securities, of homes and other property of similar character. No doubt the combined total of savings would be impressive and would represent no inconsiderable part of the national income of 90 billion dollars. Yet it hardly could be said that the American people have developed fully or to the greatest possible extent the wholesome habit of thrift.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT indifference toward the home city should die.

THAT it should never be resurrected.

THAT there is no reason why it should be.

THAT citizens should never tolerate the idea of indifference.

THAT people who are indifferent to the home city are not needed there.

THAT indifferent people bar progress.

THAT they are non-progressive.

THAT they hold back prosperity.

THAT it is a crying shame to have many of that class in a city.

THAT it takes a sudden shock to awake an indifferent person.

THAT often they can be made live ones.

THAT often it is done by selling the home city to them, making them realize what a wonderful city they live in.

THAT this knowledge often makes them a live, living, active part of the home city.

NO CITIZEN WHO IS WELL SOLD ON THE HOME CITY CAN BE INDIFFERENT TO ITS NEEDS AND AMBITIONS.

Trust

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

IF a child is mischievous or naughty, if he has been disobedient or untrustworthy, the surest way to discourage him is to harp upon the subject of how bad he is. Too many children hear a parent say, "Dick is so disobedient lately and I can't do a thing with him!" What is the effect upon him? Well, it would be only human to glory in the fact he had a grown-up non-plussed and set out to continue his activity. If he is told the harm in deceit, or disobedience, or meanness, or thoughtlessness, and then assured that he can be trusted he has a standard to live up to. He may slip a little, but the knowledge that he is breaking a trust will bother him, whereas he would otherwise glory in his crime which simply tormented a grown-up.

IT'S hard for me to disobey,
For evenings, on the road to Nod,
My mother holds me close to her
And whispers soft this prayer,
"Oh God,

I'm glad you let Ann live with me
Because she is so dear and fair,
Because she's truthful, brave and kind
And I can trust her anywhere.

Send dreams of light, and restful sleep
And help me make her strong and grow,
To do but things both wise and just Because, dear God, I love her so!"
